

SENIORS ELECT SUPERLATIVES

182 New Girls At Queens

With six weeks of school passed, Queens is already choosing her new leaders from among the transfers and freshmen. These "babies of Queens" range from the petite to the lanky, and have begun to offer new talent to our campus.

Besides the 153 freshmen, there are 29 students who have transferred from other schools, several of whom are from Charlotte. The day student transfers are Arnette Avery and Ruth Kinney, from Flora Macdonald; Frances Katherine Covington, Jean Langford, Helen Woodside, and Kathryn Cobb from W.C.U.N.C.; Rose Marie Hurt and Bobby Buckley from Stratford College; Roma Marie Harrison from Mary Washington; Marion McLaughlin and Peggy Morrison from Brevard; Mary Sue Norris from Greensboro College and Barbara Ann Siegle from Furman University.

There are two boarders who transferred from Stratford College. They are Barbara Fowlkes from South Hill, Va., and Judy Wright from Ruffin, N. C.; Rebecca Ann Edwards of Marshville, N. C., transferred from Wingate Jr. College. From Mars Hill, Elizabeth Gappert of Charlotte and Mary Virginia Dotson. Ann Leila Jackson of Anderson, S. C., transferred from Anderson College. Two girls came to Queens from Peace. They are Dickie Ennis of Waxhaw and Marjorie Riggs of Elizabeth, N. D., Virginia Osment from Durham went to Wake Forest last year. Virginia Lee Rhodes of China Grove, N. C., transferred to Queens from Edgewood Park. Another girl who attended Flora Macdonald is Mary Ellen Burnett from York, S. C. Two new girls at Queens from Mt. Holly are Laura Stroupe who transferred from Meredith, and Delores Williams who was at Winthrop last year. Jean Anderson, who is new this year also, is a transfer from Brenau. Two other new girls are Macy Blanton from Spindale, N. C., who attended Gardner Webb and Marjorie Trimble from Moultrie, Ga., who attended Mercer University.

Queens is certainly glad to welcome all the transfers as well as so many freshmen.

IRC Invites New Members

All students who are interested in world affairs are invited to become members of the International Relations Club. The purpose of I. R. C. is to acquaint the students with problems and conditions existing in our present-day world.

It is especially important that at this time college students familiarize themselves with conditions in order that they may be able to decide intelligently the issues that will soon confront them.

During the year there will be speakers present who will direct the thoughts of the group and set before it the various problems.

On Wednesday, October 24, at 3:30, Mrs. Robinson spoke to the Club on "Overseas America."

The following girls have been elected as this year's Senior Superlatives, reading from left to right: Carolyn Hobson, Kitty Crane, Ann McGirt, Becky Nickles, Virginia Jackson, June Holder, Mary Katherine McArthur, Libby Andrews, Estelle Darrow, and Elsie Blackburn.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS CREATE COSMOPOLITAN GROUP

Glancing toward the faculty section during most any chapel session this year, we will find it full and overflowing with new members. These new holders of almost every possible kind of degree have come to us from many states, even more colleges and universities, and have entered into many of our educational departments to offer their services toward developing a better Queens. Students, together with the other faculty members, join together in extending to them our welcome with the hope that they will find their stay among us a pleasant one.

Mr. J. A. Holiday, Associate Professor of Music, A.B., M.A., from the High Schools in Bemidji, Minn.

Miss Elizabeth Hawley, Associate Director of Athletics, B. S., who is a graduate of W.C.U.N.C.

Miss Jane E. Harrison, Instructor in Secretarial Administration, A.B., from S. C. where she has taught in the high schools.

Mr. Philip J. Green, Professor of History, A.B., M.A., Ph.D., from the University of North Dakota

Miss Sarah Dunlap, Instructor of Home Economics, A.B., from Memmenger High School, Charleston, S. C.

Miss Emma Neal Black, Instructor of Children's Music, B.S. from the Charlotte Elementary Schools where she was supervisor of music.

Mr. A. V. Goldiere, Visiting Professor of Spanish, A.B., M.A., Ph.D. from Davidson College.

Mr. Gordon Sweet (after three years in the Army) is back as Director of Music, A.B., B. Mus.

Miss Helen Strickland, Associate Professor of Spoken English from Bessie Tift College in Forsythe, Ga.

Mrs. Pitman Sutton, Secretary for Dr. Blakeley, from Charlotte. Dr. F. Lorene Shisler, Associate Professor of Classical Language and Literature, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., who received her education at Baldwin-Wallace, Western Reserve, and the U. of Michigan.

Mrs. Dana F. Robinson, Associate Professor of Social Sciences, A.B., M.A., Ph.D., who for the past year has been director of social service for the church federation of Dayton and Montgomery County, Ohio.

Mr. Hughes B. Hoyle, Associate Professor of Mathematics and Physics, A.B., M.A., from Limestone College.

Miss Maribelle Hines, Assistant Professor of Secretarial Administration, B.S., M. A.

Miss Mary Burke, Instructor of Children's Music, M. A.

Later we hope to let you in on some inside stuff concerning these distinguished members in our midst. Some of them have even written books; one is an expert at the organ, we hear; you would be surprised at the number of them that claim flower gardening as their hobby; and, Girls, one is a professional counselor on marriage and courtship! Let's get to know these new teachers better and let them feel that they are really a part of Queens College.

Organizations Tap Ten Girls

There have already been three tappings by honorary organizations at Queens this Fall, with ten girls being tapped.

The new members of Alpha Kappa Gamma, which is a national honorary fraternity for women, are Mary McGill, Elsie Blackburn, Tonnie Ferguson, Virginia Jackson, Mary Katherine McArthur, Doris Skirrow and Shirley Warner. The new members were initiated Tuesday, October 23.

Sigma Mu, the national honorary organization that recognizes the high scholastic attainment of Juniors and Seniors also tapped new members. The two recognized were Shirley Warner and Mary Lee Todd.

The third tapping this year was by Alpha Iota, the international honorary business sorority. Those elected were Sara Lee Cochrane and Martha Scarborough. To welcome its new members Alpha Iota had a banquet at Thacker's Thursday night, October 18.

"Angry looks can do no good, And blows are dealt in blindness; Words are better understood If spoken but in kindness."

Calendar of Events

Nov. 8—Molloy, the author, presented by the Queens' Concert Lecture Series.

Nov. 5-10—Little Theater presents "Rebecca."

Nov. 16—Founder's Day.

Nov. 12—End of first quarter.

To Have Special Section In Annual

Last week the class of '46 chose the ten outstanding girls who are the most representative as superlatives in the Senior class. The girls elected are as follows:

Most Likely to Succeed — Estelle Darrow.

Most Popular—Becky Nickles

Most Versatile—Carolyn Hobson

Most Scholarly—June Holder

Most Original—Kitty Crane

Most Athletic—Ann McGirt

Best Dressed—Elsie Blackburn

Most Attractive — Mary Kathryn McArthur

Most Sincere—Virginia Jackson

Most Efficient—Libby Andrews

When the "Coronet", Queens' annual, comes out a special section will be devoted to these girls, featuring the phase in which they have been selected as superlatives.

Noted Critic To Lecture Here

Robert Molloy, well known author and critic, will be at Queens on November 8. He is the second noted person to appear under the auspices of the Concert and Lecture Series.

Mr. Molloy is a native Charles-tonian, and it is only natural that the action of his first book, "Pride's Way", should take place in this historic and quaint town. Though this is his first publication in the world of fiction, he has spent most of his time as a book reviewer and free-lance manuscript reader for several publishing houses. His present and best known occupation is as Book Review Editor of the New York Sun.

Members of the literary publications at Queens are making tentative plans for a tea to be held in Mr. Molloy's honor on the afternoon before his lecture.

Students who are planning to attend this lecture should get their chapel seat numbers now to avoid any confusion before the lecture.

A Few Words About Sororities

Tonight about 75 girls will hand in their preference to one of our five national sororities. After five days of parties and difficult "silence," the rushees are required to make up their minds.

Many of these girls have already decided which sorority they will pledge, while others will find that even after the impressive effects of today's "big day," they are no more certain of the sorority they want to join than they were at the beginning of school.

Each girl has the right to make her own choice, regardless of sorority or individual pressure. The only rules a girl must observe are those written in the Pan-Hellenic constitution, and these alone must be followed to the letter.

The rushees should remember that the choice they make tonight should be definite, for being a "sister" to a group of girls means intimate contacts during their four years at Queens, and eventually, their friends and associates who they will want to "rub noses with" when they are no longer college girls.

A sorority is a minor part of the student's college life. But, one wisely chosen will give immense satisfaction, and wholesome contacts that cannot be gained in any other way.