REPORTS BY THE TEACHERS.

The orphans are divided into Four Graded Forms, each in charge of a teacher, whose report is printed every fourth week. The highest number is 10; the lowest is 1. When the average is below 5, the orphan is liable to be discharged as not "promising," and therefore excluded by the regulations. This paper contains the report made by the teacher of the —A gentleman was recently asked to contribute a little to a charitable cause. "No sir, I give nothing to any such concern?" But he thinks nothing of giving a quarter, any day, to support the bar-room.

And that reminds us of a church member in a 'far distant city' who could not give fifty cents to help buy a new set of lamps for the church, because at the last ball, he had had to pay the fiddler 'all by himself.' On inquiry it turned out that the fiddler got a quarter.—Our Monthly.

SELF-MADE MEN.

Columbus was a weaver, Franklin was a journeyman printer, Massillon, as well as Fletcher, arose amidst the humblest vocations. Niebuhr was a peasant. Sixtus V. was employed in keeping swine. Rollin was the son of a cutler. Ferguson and Burns, Scottish poets, were shepherds. Esop was a slave. Homer was a beggar. Daniel Defoe was apprenticed to a hosier. Demosthenes was the son of a cutler. Hogarth an engraver of pewter pots. Virgil was the son of a baker. Gay was an apprentice to a silk mercer. Ben Johnson was a bricklayer. Porson was the son of a parish clerk. Prideaux was employed to sweep Exeter College. Akenside was the son of a butcher. Pope was the son of a merchant. Cervantes was a common soldier. Gifford and Bloomfield were shoemakers. Howard was apprenticed to a grocer. Halley was the son of a soapboiler. Richard Arkwright was a barber for a number of years.

—A school mistress in a suburban town who has long been annoyed by the perversities of a male pupil of nineteen, on one of the closing days of last term kept him in and undertook to whip him. He, however, disarmed her, and returned several kisses for each blow. The school mistress, unable to forgive this breach of discipline, looked him sternly in the face, shaking her forefinger at him in a menacing manner, said solemnly: "William, I will give you precisely fifteen minutes to stop hugging me, and if you disobey me I shall punish you severely."

ARITHMETICAL QUESTIONS.—Perhaps it may add to the interest of the following question to state that it is several centuries old:

"The Three Graces, bearing each the same number of apples, met the Nine Muses. Each one of the Graces gave to each Muse an equal number; when they all, Graces and Muses, had each the same number of apples. How many did each of the Graces have at first, and how many did each one give away?"

An inquisitive young man, who went into the business of interviewing some years before it became a recognized institution of society, once tried his power upon the elder Damas. "Do I understand that your father was a mulatto?" asked the interviewer. "Yes." "Then your grandfather was a negro." "Yes." "And your great-grandfather?" "My great-grandfather," replied the novelist, "was an ape, sir. My lineage commences where yours end."—That closed the interview.

"CHARLEY, what is it that makes you so sweet?" said a loving mother one day to her little boy, as she pressed him to her bosom.

"I dess when God made me out of dust, he put a little thugar in," said Charley.

God has put a little sugar in the disposition of all children. Some keep it there, and they are always sweet, and we can not help loving them. Some lose the sugar that God gave them, and then they become sour and disagreeable.—Young Pilgrim.

A NEW AND IMPROVED EDITION

—OF—

MRS. ELLIOTT'S HOUSEWIFE.

BY
MRS. SARAH A. ELLIOTT,
OXFORD, N. C.

12mo., cloth. Price $1.50.

Sent postpaid to any address on receipt of the price.

This book has become popular, both in America and Europe, for its many excellences. Among the many notices filed of its worth, is a letter of thanks received by the authoress from Her Majesty, Victoria, Queen of England.

It has been thoroughly tested by experienced housekeepers, and pronounced a household necessity. It is minute in its directions, and abounds in choice receipts suited to the wants of those in moderate circumstances, or of the millionaire. The preparations for nutritious diet for the sick, with the advice given for young housekeepers, are more than worth the price of the book.
