NEWS BRIEFS

Two new faces can be seen in our list recently. One of these faces, enlaid with blonde, hazel, light brown hair, belongs to Miss Gwendolyn Kelly, a senior student at Shaw University, who is here to observe the school's home economics under Miss Smith Pope and to do practice teaching. Lighted up with smiles is this other one belonging to Mrs. Frances Hargraves, the new teacher recently added to the staff of the elementary department. Mrs. Hargraves came to relieve the overcrowded condition that existed in fourth and fifth grad-

The two new rooms which have been under construction since last summer will be ready for use. These two rooms, built to supply the serious need of more classroom space, are evoking many questions among the students as to who will occupy them these rooms. From all appearance, the question will soon be answered.

TWO SENIORS WIN HEALTH CONTEST

Margaret Farrington and Riley Barnett, both of the senior class were the winners in the first round of the oratorical contest, promoted by the North Carolina Good Health Association. The prizes of five dollars each were awarded by the local Kiwanis Club.

The subject on which the original orations were to be planned is "North Carolina's Number One Need - Good Health."

The students who participated in the contest are Margaret Farrington, Martha Hargraves, Riley Barnett, and Samuel Boyd.

 marked "General Delivery" and "Special Delivery," these four girls have expressed taste for the beauty. Equally commendable is the quiet way in which they deliver the heavy inflow of mail. This service has required the help of several girls during their vacant periods.

CHRISTMAS

The Christmas days will soon be here. With best of wishes and best of cheer. The things we get will be a joy, Even tho' a little toy.

Christmas Eve, when around the fire
 we sit,
 Thinking of Santa with candles lit,
 Hanging stockings, putting boxes
 under the bed,
 We rush to bed with Santa in our heads.
 Rise up early and sleep no more,
 Jump out of the bed down on the floor
 And think of the things which will be on the tree,
 Before Christmas, now, be as good as can be.
