down flow their tears.
They fill all the lakes, the rivers and seas;
They make green the grasses and drench the trees;
But springtime will come and dry up their tears,
Make faces aglow, and take away their sneers.

How He Loves Her!

By RUBY BOOTH

I have a busy schedule, dear,
With many things to do.
But when I have some time to spare,
I'll always think of you.

them to the group and weighs them weekly to note the change in weight, etc.

The equipment needed for the demonstration is as follows:
cages providing food and water containers; utensils for handling food; containers for food storage; a gram scale for weighing rats; equipment for cleaning cages and dishes; paper towels or newspapers to cover it at night; graph paper for weight charts; tags or cards for cage labels.

The experiment started March 23, 1953 and is to last six weeks.
With the interest that has been shown at the end of six weeks the experiment may be reversed for an additional two weeks.
