

Girls' Council Meets

The girls' council met for the first time this year October 21. The following officers were elected:

President, Carolyn Brewer; Vice President, Roberta Morrow; Secretary, Jean Wright; Treasurer, Alicia Jones.

Mrs. Fulford, one of the faculty advisers, advised the girls to discuss any personal problems with her, Mrs. Hicks, or Mrs. Barnes at any time.

The point of keeping the school clean was stressed and also the girls were advised to watch their conduct at all times and to walk swiftly and quietly on the hall.

Mrs. Fulford reminded the girls of their dress and especially that it was poor taste to wear long dangling earrings with bobby socks.

Watch Your Manners

People are judged and want to be judged when at their best. There is no better way to judge one than by his manners. We here at Lincoln High School have fallen down on our manners.

In our school, wherever there is a gathering of students, there are always impolite ones in it. Those few "bad" ones bring down the morale of the entire group. Most of the disturbance is caused by laughing and talking. You would not want to be judged by this.

Let us improve our manners and show a degree of intelligence and culture expected of high school students.

About the Othellians

The Othello Club started the school year 1953 with plans for a very busy year. It began by sponsoring a float in the homecoming parade that was said to be very beautiful. The theme, "All the World's a Stage," was taken from a Shakespearean play. The stage, portrayed on a large truck, was decorated in maroon and white, the club colors. Seated here and there on the stage were five attractive girls in colorful evening gowns.

Another plan of the Othello Club is that of presenting a three-act play in February. Also they will present a one-act play at the annual festival held in Greensboro in March.

Deaf and Blind School Program

The Ways and Means Committee of Lincoln High School presented a group of students from the State School for the Blind and Deaf, Raleigh, N. C., in a musical program on Thursday night, November 12, at the Northside School.

The Blind and Deaf School chorus rendered several semi-classical numbers; the Boys quintet presented a group of spirituals; and the Rhythm Kids played several popular selections.

Proceeds from this program were for the Lincoln Bus Drive.
