

Well, hey ya'll! Whatcha doin'? Never mind, I'll answer that question. That's right -- I'm IMA SNOOP. Because even Ima cannot be everywhere all the time, I have a helper this year. Her name is Irma Snoop. You'd better not do anything you wouldn't want everybody to know about, cause Ima and Irma together see all, hear all, and most important, tell all!

It's been said that freshmen are "green", but I don't think this batch is so "green". What do you think about that, Robert Jones? How about you, Carlton Overby? Do you boys think Fran Hill and Jane Austin Cunningham are "Green"? Bradley Carroll has been a good target, too. Now Bradley, did you think you could avoid me? Seems he's quite popular with the girls. I hear he's with a different one everytime he's seen. Is that right, Bette Barnes? Maybe Page Perkinson or Kathy Reese will know! By the way, did you ever collect your raincheck from Margy, Bradley?

Better watch out! Many of the sophomores have their driver's license. Beth Wells is one to watch out for. Then, of course, there are the careful ones, like Charles Avera, who signals after turning every corner!

So Candy Baker reigns as our Homecoming Queen. We're all proud of you Candy -- aren't we, Hunter?

There have been a few hayrides this year in our town. Have you ever heard of a hayride in a car without any hay? Julia Gilbert, Bobby Benson, and Chip Barnes think it's loads of fun!

Eddie Sutton, do you really start fights with Margy Hinnant just so you can make up with her! Really, Eddie! She is a cute girl, but do you think that's necessary?

Is it true that our basketball team is working out ball plays just for the Garner game? I heard that Joe Lansinger has worked out for a certain Garner cheerleader!

You know, we should pay attention in every class (especially algebra) and not be writing notes. They sometimes get intercepted by the wrong people, don't they, Janet and Hope?

Is Jane Kate Brown playing baseball? We keep hearing "three strikes", and you're out" from her. One of Jane Kate's friends, June Smith, has been acting "Young" lately, too -- or so I hear.

The American history teacher in room 23 has been seen with a black eye. He says his brother did it while demonstrating judo. Likely story for a bachelor! I wouldn't want to mention any names, but his friends call him Caesar, don't they, Mr. Floyd?

I hear we had a decorating committee assigned to Selma High School for Homecoming. They were even nice enough to do a new paint job for our neighbors. These boys are quite modest, though, and would rather not be given credit for the job. Now don't you worry Jim, or you either, Ragsdales -- I won't tell a soul!

Until next time, remember, I'll be watching you!

Faithfully,
Irma and Ima Snoop
