MR. AND MRS. SMITH HONORED AT SOCIAL IN ELIZABETHTOWN

ELIZABETHTOWN, Oct. 10.—A brilliant reception was given Wednesday evening at Hotel Francis when Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Hermon P. Green and Miss Louise Young entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leon D. Smith, a bride and groom of October 3.

The rooms where the guests were entertained were tastefully decorated with a profusion of mixed fall flowers, southern smilax and burning tapers. The dining table was covered with a handsome lace cloth and centered with a lovely wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. White tapers in silver candelabra burned at each end. A color note of green and white was attractively observed in all the party appointments and in the black cream and cake that was served during the evening.

Guests were greeted at the front door by Dr. and Mrs. Channing Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Fisher presented them to the receiving line which was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Green, Miss Louise Young, and the Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Canady.

Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Barbee directed the guests into the dining room where Misses Sue Fisher, Kitty Lou Williamson, Nancy McCulloch, Dorothy Williamson, Francis Young and Sylvia Courson and Mrs. W. G. Gilchrist served. Mrs. W. B. Kay directed the guests to the register. Mrs. Sallie Cain presided over the bride's book. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson directed the guests to a beautifully appointed table where Mrs. W. F. Williamson assisted by Mrs. Norman McCulloch, Mrs. C. B. Smith and Miss Margaret Smith in serving punch. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Blair. During the evening several vocal selections were rendered by Miss Bonnie Mae Hall. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. T. Lee. Three hundred guests were invited.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, before checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. How does a married woman traveling alone, sign a hotel register?
2. Should an unmarried woman sign a hotel register, "Dorothy Dane"?
3. What is wrong with a man who is traveling with his family signing a hotel register in this manner: "John Henry Smith, and family"?
4. When a man traveling alone signs a hotel register, does he write "Mr." before his name?
5. When a man is walking down the street with two women does he walk between them?

What would you do if—
You are a man and friends drop by your house—
(a) Offer your hand to both the men and women?
(b) Shake hands with only the men?

Answers

1. Mrs. John Robert Smith.
2. No, "Miss Dorothy Dane," though in a letter a woman never writes Miss before her name, unless she puts it in parentheses.
3. He should sign it "Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Smith" and add the name of the children.
4. No.
5. No. He walks next to the curb. Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(a). Although a man ordinarily waits for a woman to offer her hand, a host always shakes hands with all his guests.

"HOWARDS OF VIRGINIA" FEATURED AT CAROLINA
The man who made "Cavalcade," that epic of Empire, and "Mutiny on the Bounty," that epic story of men against the sea, recently turned his moving cameras to a monumental event in the history of the world—the American Revolution. "The Howards of Virginia," which opened yesterday at the Carolina theatre, is the splendid result, a picture which is not only a page torn out of history, but a stirring, dramatic answer to the problems confronting America today.

Frank Lloyd's "The Howards of Virginia" stars Cary Grant and Martha Scott in a romance literally carved out of the rugged background of this mighty nation, in a blood-tinting drama of the fight for freedom and for democracy, the fight which is still going on. Sr. Cedric Hardwicke, Alan Marshal and Richard Carlson are others in the cast of this fascinatingly real cinematic achievement, adapted to the screen by Sidney Buchman from Elizabeth Page's Literary Guild best-seller, "The Tree of Liberty."

Cary Grant is seen as Matt Howard, buckskin-clad frontiersman who believes in freedom and democracy, and is prepared to sacrifice both his home and his happiness in order to fight for them. Miss Scott is splendidly cast as his wife, a gracious, beautiful Virginia belle willing enough to fight the wilderness at the side of her husband, unwilling to fight both her family and her heritage because her husband believes that the majority must and shall rule.

"WAGONS TRAIN" MARKS BIJOU THEATRE BILL

Departing from the time-worn western plots, "Wagon Train" rolls across a panorama of high adventure, the menace of Indian ambush and the fascination of trail-blazing romance. Depicting the dangerous trek of the huge covered wagon freighters across the western plains and deserts, laden with food and provisions for isolated outposts of early western civilization, "Wagon Train," opening today at the Bijou theatre, stars Tim Holt, a young man of the stirrups, who literally leaps into the stirrups of his father, Jack Holt, astride his wonder horse Duke. He brings the dynamic energy and vitality of stalwart, handsome youth to western heroics supported by Ray Whitley and his Musical Buckaroos, Emmett Lynn and Martha O'Driscoll.

Chapter 10 of "Winners of the West," and a Buster Keaton comedy are also in this program.

"HELL'S ANGELS" MARKS ROYAL THEATRE BILL

"Hell's Angels" that gigantic air epic which was produced a few years after the World war, opening at the Royal theatre today, is undeniably the most authentic and realistic air spectacle ever presented on the screen. Major C. C. Moseley, formerly of the First Pursuit Group, A. E. F., and now vice president of the Curtis Flying Service, is one of the many ex-war aces who has viewed the re-made saga of the air and gone on record in high praise of the authenticity of the film.

"Hell's Angels" like many of the earlier World war films has been modernized and brought up-to-date giving the film more pace and much of it has been made in color. The picture was the only one until "Gone with the Wind" that played simultaneous road show engagements on Broadway. It opened there at the Criterion and Central theatres on its world premiere. In bringing the picture up-to-date whatever cutting was done was of little consequence, and entered mainly around a few scenes in which Miss Harlow appeared but much which made the film a real air battle sequences such as the meeting of welfare officers held in Raleigh Wednesday.—W. Norman Cowan, of New York city, is spending a few days here visiting his mother, Mrs. W. D. Cowan, who has been ill for the past few days.—Mrs. C. A. Jones, of Hillsboro, spent the day here last Friday visiting friends.—W. W. Pearsall, of Rocky Point, was a business visitor in Burgaw Tuesday morning.—O. F. Sidbury, of Vista, attended to business matters in Burgaw Tuesday.—R. M. Moore, of Watha, was a business visitor Tuesday, as was also L. C. Jones, of Willard.—O. W. Wooten and, O. D. Burton, of Maple Hill, were in Burgaw Tuesday attending to matters of business.

Plans Drafted For Civic Clubs' Meet On Oct. 16

William B. Campbell Will Be Principal Speaker At Defense Projects Session

Plans have been completed for a joint meeting of all civic clubs in the city at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, October 16, at the Cape Fear hotel to discuss the furtherance of national defense projects being sought locally.

William B. Campbell, city attorney, will be the speaker of the evening, and Ben F. Sutherland will be master of ceremonies.

Purpose of the meeting is to bring together members of the various civic service organizations in the community in promotion of a closer spirit of fellowship and cooperation.

Discussion topics will include the possibilities of growth and expansion of the City of Wilmington and its trade area in Southeastern North Carolina.

Those attending the joint session are also expected to consider a proposal for the formation of an industrial committee selected from the various civic groups with the view of working for a Greater Wilmington.

The following organizations have voted to dispense with their regular meetings and attend the joint session in a body: Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Civitans, Exchange, the Wilmington Better Business club, the chamber of commerce, and the Wilmington Junior chamber of commerce.

Special committees from the various clubs are working out arrangements to have large delegations attend the session. Club secretaries occurring over London now, have been eliminated, on the other hand these scenes have been built up to meet the terrific realism of air fighting today.

The Royal Varieties have the current chapter of "Red Ryder" and the News Reel, together with "Young America Files."
