

WITH THE TAR HEELS IN SERVICE

15TH AAF IN ITALY—Second Lieutenant John H. Chavis, 23, 324 S. Tarboro St., Raleigh, N. C., has been assigned to the P-51 Mustang Fighter Group, commanded by Col. B. O. Davis, Jr. The Negro Group is actively engaged in long range escort for 15th Air Force heavy bombers and also participates on strafing missions against enemy ground targets.

Lt. Chavis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chavis who reside at 324 S. Tarboro St., Raleigh, N. C., and is married to Mrs. Cochevye B. Chavis with whom he resided at Tarboro Street, Raleigh, N. C. Lt. Chavis is a graduate of Shaw University where he received his BS degree. He was actively engaged in athletics.

WITH THE ARMY AIR FORCE ENGINEER COMMAND IN ITALY—Curley B. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Howell, recently met his cousin, Corporal J. Howell, also of Princeton, North Carolina. Neither had seen the other for approximately two years and a half, and after the encounter had quite a long chat over old times, home, etc.

Howell is an alumnus of Bunn High School, Fremont, North Carolina, from which he graduated with honors. He works for E. C. O'Brien Tobacco Co. and is store room foreman. Drafted in July 1942 he received his basic training at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, and after completion of his training was assigned to his present organization at McDill Field, Florida. Shipped overseas he has been with his veteran Engineer Aviation Battalion in North Africa and Italian Theater.

Corporal J. C. Howell is a graduate of the same school. He was drafted in November 1942 and has finished his training at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. This soldier is a newcomer to European soil.

Sgt. Howell is a squad leader in his unit, which builds and maintains airfields in Italy. Having been assigned to his outfit in 1942 he is now a veteran of over 18 months in the service. One of those months having been spent overseas. He wears a European-African-Middle East Campaign Ribbon and has also been awarded the Good Conduct Medal.

A vigorous period of recruit training has begun for eight North Carolina Negro Bluejackets with their recent arrival at the U. S. Naval Training Center in Ill.

The recruit training period includes fundamentals of Naval procedure, military drill, seamanship and the physical hardening program. The final phase of the recruit training includes a series of aptitude tests which determine whether they will be retained for the final phase of their recruit training includes a series of aptitude tests which determine whether they will be retained for advanced training in one of the Army Service Schools or will be sent to immediate duty at the depot at a shore station.

and harbors. Pfc. Avery's primary job is machine gunner.

The son of Mrs. Birdie Avery, Plum Tree, North Carolina, Pfc. Avery entered the army in June 1941 and came overseas August 1942. He received training at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Pfc. Avery attended Elk Park Grammar School up and through 1939.

Pfc. Avery has plans to take a course in free hand drawing at the duration. He has served along side Pfc. Eugene Mathes also from Plum Tree, N. C., while Pictured above is Pfc. Joseph L. Scaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Scaver of 86 Lennox Avenue, New York City, who has been recently awarded the Good Conduct Medal by his Commanding Officer, David M. Hall. In presenting the medal to Pfc. Scaver, Captain Hall took into consideration the fact that during the course of a year Pfc. Scaver had not been sick as a result of his own misconduct, never had been the subject of a report by the Military Police and had never been in violation of Company rules or Army Regulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Scaver have two other sons in the service. They are: Pfc. Fred Scaver, stationed in Ia, and Pfc. James Scaver somewhere in Belgium. Pfc. Joseph L. Scaver is also stationed somewhere in Belgium.

He is participating in the unit's sport activities. Prior to induction, he was an interior decorator.

GUADALCANAL—Pvt. Melvin Hosch, Sr., a former employee of the Dover Mills, Shelby, is now on duty here with a unit of the Army Service Forces.

His organization furnishes details to units engaged in the maintenance of construction and supply materials, vital in the South Pacific.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leucious Hosch, and ex-husband of Mrs. Nina Cole Hosch of 410 Crawford St., Shelby.

Pvt. Hosch entered the service in Dec. 1943. He received his training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., and in July 1944 came overseas with his outfit.

He has a brother in the service, Cpl. Willie Hosch, who is somewhere in France.

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC—Pfc. Herbert Avery is now on duty with an Antiaircraft Battery. His organization has participated in the defense of some of the most vital objectives in the South Pacific, including air strips and harbors. Pfc. Avery's primary job is machine gunner.

The son of Mrs. Birdie Avery, Plum Tree, North Carolina, Pfc. Avery entered the army in June

New Construction in Pacific

Build by natives from native materials are the commanding officer's residence (top photo) and the new mess hall (below) at the U. S. Marine station in the Marshall Islands. Timber is taken from scrub trees; roofs and walls are thatched in the true native style. The building projects provide a livelihood for the impoverished native population, whose fishing boats and equipment were destroyed during the American assault to capture the Marshalls.

SERVING WITH THE U. S. ARMY, SOMEWHERE IN THE HEBRIDES—North Carolina is well represented in a Quartermaster Truck Company, making an excellent record in the performance of their duties; hauling supplies at a New Hebrides

Their schedule of operation requires them to work long hours; sometimes hauling in severe weather and over difficult terrain. Despite these obstacles to smooth performance, they have made prompt deliveries with accuracy.

Most of them were assigned to this unit at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, during the period from August 1942, until May 1943, when they embarked for South Pacific duty. A few others have joined at this base.

Some of the "Tar Heels," in this unit who have not become enamored with the South Pacific climate, and are hankering to be back in the States that will assist their return to their native state are: Corporal David K. Peoples, 209 Home Street, Rocky Mount; Technicians Fifth Grade, Julian Jones, 208 Camden, Raleigh; Alexander Daniels, Route 1, Lincoln; Calvin J. Dupree, Route 1, Raeford; Edward N. Gay, Route 3, Lenoir; Waddell H. H. E. D. 2, Four Oaks; Geo. C. Williams, Box 173, Roanoke
