Dr. Mann Warns U. S.

NEW YORK (C) — 70 year old Thomas Mann, author and Nobel Prize winner, celebrated his birthday by warning the U. S. not to let its military might lead it to imperialistic aggressions. Said Dr. Mann: "America stands at the crossroads. Therefore let us not evade this fact: our present military and national policy involves a great danger and a great temptation. It can be used in the old, selfish spirit of imperialism, or it can be conceived as a mandate to leadership and to the service of the common cause of mankind."

Mrs. Roosevelt To Be Member NAACP Board

New York — Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt, long a champion of minority rights, has accepted membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. In making this announcement, NAACP secretary Walter White said: "The NAACP is honored to add to its ranks an American of the National Board of Directors. Mrs. Roosevelt has stood by her gun in the face of bitter attack and misrepresentation not only from anti-Negro southerners, but others as well. To have her counsel as a member of the Board will mean a great addition to the effectiveness of the NAACP fight for total equality for the Negro."

MRS. STROUD NAMED TO POST IN YWCA SETUP

RALEIGH — Announcement was made here recently of the appointment of Mrs. Ruby B. Stroud to the position of Branch Executive Director of the Southeastern Branch YWCA. She is the second executive to hold this position, succeeding Mrs. Christine Towler Cook who is accepting another position. Mrs. Stroud's new assignment will have as its purpose the development of a wholesome community relationship with adults and younger people. Special interest will be given young girls in a youth development and guidance program. She will be located in Raleigh where she will go forward with YWCA activities. Her office is located on the second floor of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank Building, 13 E. Hargett Street.

MRS. RUBY B. STROUD

Mrs. Stroud served as Junior Supervisor in the Georgia school system where she built and supervised a constructive program. In 1929 she accepted a position in the Pinckney High School, Carthage, where she served until joining her husband, William "Buddy" Stroud in Raleigh, in 1930. More recently Mrs. Stroud served as chief clerk to the office of the Agricultural Extension Agents in Raleigh where she took great interest in that work.

Mrs. Stroud completed her high school training at the Chatham County Training School, Siler City, and is a college graduate of Paine College, Augusta, Ga. She comes to the YWCA well qualified and recommended for the position by virtue of her training, experience and leadership ability. She is a native of Chatham County, North Carolina.

NEGRO SOLDIER A FAILURE SAYS SEN. EASTERLING

WASHINGTON, D. C. — No Southern colleague of Senator Eastland (D. Miss.) can say in good faith that their fellow Senate member failed to do his part in talking into an early grave the Fair Employment Practice Committee from the floor of that judicial enclosure.

FIRST NEGRO TO HEAD LINCOLN UNIVERSITY

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY, Pa. — At a meeting of the board of trustees last Wednesday in Philadelphia, Dr. Horace Mann Bond, president of Fort Valley State College, Georgia, was chosen unanimously as the new president of Lincoln University. He will succeed Dr. Walter L. Wright.

Southwest senators shot straight from the shoulder when they set out to kill the Fair Employment Practices Committee. A war-born agency set up for the eradication of discrimination by employers because of race or creed. The Gentlemen (with, perhaps invisible quotes about their heads like a bull's eye, and now the FEPC has died. Those of us who still believe in miracles are hoping—just hoping in the face of some pretty discouraging facts—that the dead can be made quick again.

RALEIGH — The Raleigh-Wake County War Loan Drive came to a successful ending Saturday, July 30 and topping all previous drives with $61,703.25 cash value in series E and treasury bonds purchased by Negroes, according to A. J. Turner and J. E. Strickland, General and Associate Chairmen, respectively of the 7th War Loan Drive. Bond buyers were appealed to from the standpoint of an investment they were making with bond maturities returning the full value of money invested, thus making it possible to liquidate indebtedness or make sound investments in the post-war world.

NEW YORK, N. Y. (C) — Harlem — the black metropolis — is very warm about celebrating the victory of Dwight Eisenhower. He took the liberal general to his heart Tuesday on "like" day.

RALEIGH — The Raleigh Branch of the NAACP scored another victory last week, when they collected $582.93 cash settlement for Mrs. Arilla Bass, a Johnston Co. tenant farmer. For nearly two years, the branch has been working on this case under the careful planning of Charles G. Irving, chairman of the Legal Redress Committee. Mr. Irving told the Executive Body at their last meeting that he was going all out to see that Mrs. Bass received justice.

NEW YORK, N. Y. — For the best book combating intolerance in America, a prize of $3,000 is being offered by the Julian Messner, Inc., publishers. It was announced this week. The prize-winning volume may be a novel, a biography, a historical or scientific work, a play, a poem, an essay, or may take any form adaptable to book publication. The award is open to all. It may be written by an established author or by a newcomer, by a civilian or member of the armed forces, by a citizen or non-citizen. It was stated that, while literature and artistic excellence will naturally enter into important consideration of all manuscripts, the chief equality determining selection of the prize winner will be its impact on the reader in the fight against racial or religious intolerance against social or economic discrimination.

TRAGEDY

Oxford — A shotgun, perched invitingly over the door at the home of Willie Moore Speed, Sr. east of Oxford, proved to be too much of a temptation for the man's nine-year-old son, Joseph Ben, who took it from its rack and killed his younger brother, Willie, Jr., six. The shot blew away half of the child's face and head.
