

MATRESSES NEED SPECIAL CARE

Mattresses need special care in warm, humid weather to keep them from acquiring odor of mildew, say textile specialists. At least once a week mattresses need airing, and occasionally sunning in bright, dry weather. Brushing tufts and seams prevent dust from collecting at these places.

PLAIN TALK BY DAN GARDNER

Do not forget that "bread and butter" note to your friends thanking them for that dinner invitation.

There is no scientific evidence to back up the superstition that thunder or lightning causes milk or cream to sour.

Mrs. Estelle Massey Riddle

article continues. "Whereas before the war, only four of the hospitals in the city department of health employed Negro nurses, there now all do. The total is over one thousand. While probably increases have not been as great proportionally in other areas, the trend toward greater employment is nationwide."
