

Negro Priests In Procession At Bishop's Consecration

By George F. King

Wilmington, N. C. — Religious in this section of North Carolina was inspiringly highlighted by the consecration of the Reverend Thomas Henry Wright, D. D., Bishop-Elect of the diocese of East Carolina of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Friday morning, October 5, in St. James Church, E. Church, this city. Bishop-elect to the Bishopric at the time he had notably advanced as a priest and religious statesman, his consecration was one of the most colorful and inspiring events in the annals of his denomination in this section of North Carolina.

The Rt. Reverend Henry George Tucker, D. D., S. T. D., LL. D., presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in this country, and the Consecration Bishops, representing a collection of the United States, participated in the rite of the consecration. The present day consecration priests from many states, including the priests in the diocese of East Carolina, the ministers of various communions in Wilmington, attending the consecration and being a part of the colorful and special procession, the vast congregation taking the solemnity of the church and the keen appreciation of the occasion, the event on the part of hundreds of people gathered in a compound of the church and the vicinity of St. James Church, seemed to make every phase of the program one of special significance in the meaning of the "Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man."

Rt. Rev. John L. Jackson, D. D., Bishop of West Texas, acted as consecration preacher. This sermon was a masterly effort and a contribution to wholesome endeavors on the part of his hearers to meet the exigencies of the global conflict. His text was Exodus 18th chapter and 13th verse.

Among the other dignitaries of this service were the Bishops of Consecration, the Rt. Rev. Thomas C. Davis, D. D., recently retiring as bishop of the diocese of East Carolina, and the Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, D. D., Bishop of the diocese of Maryland. Presenters, the Rt. Rev. John L. Jackson, D. D., Bishop of North Carolina, the Rt. Rev. Edwin A. Davis, D. D., Bishop of the diocese of the Epistle, the Rt. Rev. Benjamin Stevens, D. D., Bishop of Louisiana, the Rt. Rev. Oliver James Hart, D. D., Bishop of Pennsylvania, the Rt. Rev. Francis Alexander Jahan, D. D., Bishop of Florida, Chaplain to the President, the Rt. Rev. General Luther D. Miller, Chief of Chaplains, United States Army; Master of Ceremonies, the Rev. Mortimer Glover, Rector St. James Church, Wilmington, N. C.

Livingstone To Construct New Buildings

SALISBURY — Every year a students gather under the maples and oaks of Livingstone College, they find a changing school in physical appearance and curriculum. The College has a motto for progressive construction which has become its characteristic since establishment.

Livingstone College, Salisbury, has operated since 1882 under the sponsorship of the AME Zion Church, "but its operations are entirely non-sectarian." Dr. Joseph Charles Price, one of America's outstanding orators, was its first president.

In 1925 William J. Trent was called from a YMCA secretaryship in Atlanta to be the fourth President of Livingstone College, which graduated him in the class of '98.

Dr. Trent took up his duties with the dreams and aspirations of all great educators. He accepted the challenges of the day and has become a builder of higher education in the Negro race.

The Price Memorial administration and classroom building houses one of the finest and best equipped science laboratories in the South. The venerable grants from the General Education Board add yearly valuable tools to the already $50,000 science department.

Dodge Hall, boys' dormitory, has been completely renovated and refurbished at the cost of $25,000. Ballard Hall, former lecture place, has been converted into a music conservatory, with an expanded curriculum in the department of music and physical education.

The central heating plant keeps the buildings on the campus comfortably warm. Now since some war-time restrictions have been lifted, provision is being made to break the heating system to all the buildings.

The Cuneen Library, at the self-supporting, all Negro operated college, is undergoing an expansion program. The building will be enlarged and made fireproof to house an additional $60,000 volume of books. The purchase of these new books came through a grant from the General Education Board.

Dean Frederick Drew said that the Freshman enrollment reaching the all high mark of 197. The class represents students from all over the U. S. Livingstone has its highest enrollment in history with a student body that totals 362. Among the large group are several World War II veterans that are eager to complete their higher education which was interrupted at the outbreak of the war.

At the 84th formal opening of the college, President Trent announced that the breaking of ground for the new gymnasium would begin in 30 days. Plans for this building prove that it will be one of the best in Negro colleges. The college executive board has its highest enrollment in history with a student body that totals 362. The new teachers' home will be started on this school year.

Shaw School Of Religion Expanded

RALEIGH — The work of Shaw University's School of Religion has been greatly expanded with the current session. Steps taken to strengthen the staff and program of the school were made public recently by President Robert P. Daniel.

The curriculum has been broadened by introduction of work in speech training for ministerial students. The course, taught by Dean William K. Strassner of the School of Religion is taken each semester for the first two years. "It seeks to achieve harmony," Dean Strassner explains, "between the thoughts of the speaker and their expression in word and action."

The study of Hebrew also has been introduced this term and is taught by Rabbi Harold L. Galfman of this city. The language was added at the request of Divinity students who expressed a desire for courses of a scholarly nature. Addition of a course in Greek is being contemplated.

Further expansion of the Divinity school has come in the addition of a department of the Racial Church. Headed by the Rev. Moses Delaney, the department, will seek to train young ministers especially for rural parishes. Its program also will include visitation and work with ministerial groups in the several communities throughout the state. The needs of these communities will be studied and specific help will be given.

Present enrollment in the School of Religion is 54, the largest in several years. A number of the men are engaged in active pastoral work. Parish supervision is being given them. Donal Strassner also receives and fills requests for services of ministers from the department.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (ANP) — The state board of education met here Friday to discuss rendering educational aid to Negro students who seek training not provided by the Jim Crow educational system of Alabama.

Let's tear your electric bill to pieces

GO AHEAD, lady—tear your electric bill apart and see what it's all about.

This little piece lights all your lamps. This one plays your radios. This cools and keeps your food. This washes your clothes. This takes care of the cooking and ironing and cleaning. And so on.

That's a lot of different jobs to be covered by one small bill.

And—hold on! You've paid for more than just electricity. About 25c of every dollar you pay for electric service goes in turn for taxes which benefit your community and help pay for the war.

Taxes UP. . . . General cost of living UP. . . . You'd think the cost of electric service would be up, too. But it isn't. It has even come down a little since the war began. Actually—

The average family gets about twice as much electricity for its money today as it did fifteen years ago!

This welcome fact comes from the careful planning and progressive spirit of America's business-managed, self-supporting electric companies.

Said Wagner: "The attempt to extend race prejudice into the field of art and music is to my mind the most striking demonstration of the utter unworthiness of race prejudice in any form."

Sen. Mead wired: "It is indeed regrettable that such discriminatory action should be taken in the capital city of the nation. I have requested the management of Constitution Hall to reconsider."
