

NEWS FLASH:

NEGRO SEAMAN WINS SUIT AGAINST BARBER

NEW YORK—A Brooklyn barber has learned that race discrimination is costly, especially when practiced against a Negro member of the National Maritime Union. The seaman, Linwood Carrington, of 33-6 Hancock Street, Brooklyn, this week collected $110 from the owner of a Noystrand Avenue barber shop, who refused to give him a fifty-cent shave last month.

Carrington, who had sailed American merchant ships into dangerous war zones throughout the war, visited his neighborhood barber shop on April 16th for a shave. When the barber refused to accommodate him, Carrington called

(Continued on the back page)

Interracial Diner Planned for D.C.

WASHINGTON (ANP)—The establishment of a midtown restaurant that would cater to all people is the objective of a group recently organized in upper Washington. This question of having Negroes in public eating places has reached the point where it is openly discussed over the radio and bitterly denounced by outstanding whites.

At the same time, a radio speech by Rep. Rowan Sunday night praised the government cafeteria, the supreme court cafeteria and the Union Station for their attitude in this tough matter. It had been reported that one restaurant on Pennsylvania

(Continued on back page)

THE CAROLINIAN

VOLUME XXVI, NO. 19

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, MAY 18, 1946

PRICE 5¢

White Students Clamor For Negro Professors

College Soon To Have Negro On Its Faculty

HAVERFORD, Pa. (ANP)—How young America is moving forward on some fronts is shown by an editorial in the Haverford College News, after the students had heard an address by Dr. Ida DeA. Reid, Atlanta University sociologist, and some of them had faced by him in a social yelous.

The editorial comes by Reid and suggests to the well known college that it employ Dr. Reid to fill a coming vacancy in the sociology department. Dr. Reid is the kind of man we want on our faculty," the editorial closed. There is only one Negro student at Haverford.

Dr. Reid appeared at Haverford under a visiting lectureship sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee (race relations section). This lectureship makes available to so-called white col-

WAR HERO FACES JIM CROW BATTLE

MONTGOMERY (ANP)—An invitation was extended to Mr. and Mrs. S. W. White of this city recently, requesting them to attend the Civilian Club sponsored World War II memorial to Montgomery's war dead. Members, apparently hadn't reckoned that a hero's parents might be colored. Reserved seats, held for invited families of soldiers who had died to maintain the four freedoms, were not available for Negroes.

Mr. White, who was selected to attend the memorial because his son had paid the supreme sacrifice as a member of the 88th Central Postal Directory, was refused a seat upon presentation of his invitation. A letter in the Montgomery Advertiser last week, Mr. White wrote:

"I was surprised to know that the invitation did not include families of Negro citizens who had lost sons in the war and was much depressed to meet such unusual and unnecessary discrimination in a great democracy as the United States claims to be."

Medics, Dentists To Meet Here

RALEIGH—The Old North State Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Society and the Ladies Auxiliary will be the guest of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Society of Raleigh and its Ladies Auxiliary when it meets in a three-day session here June 4-6. Dr. V. A. Coleman of Salisbury, president of the State Society, announced this week. The scientific sessions on Wednesday and Thursday—a symposium on Tuberculosis and Public Health, with demonstrations and a tour of the various laboratories here—and all of the business sessions will be held at State University. A Public Health meeting will

Ga. Youth Shot By Irate Officer

Locust Grove, Ga. (ANP)—Because an officer didn't like the grin on his face, Kirby Sims was shot last Sunday night, according to reports.

The youth, his brother, John, and an aunt were at a local railroad station waiting for the train to Atlanta when the shooting took place. It was reported that several colored people were at the station and were talking when the officers arrived and in a very rude manner told them to get to the back and clear the piers where they were standing. Without comment, the people were said to have started toward the back.

Sims, described as a highly jovial youngster, readily moved, but a white youth was kind enough to the officer, Harold Craig, resented and yelled, "What are you grinning for, Nigger?" Sims could answer, the officer is reported to have kicked him twice in the stomach. A scuffle followed and the victim was shot in the stomach. The older brother, seeing Kirby shot and lying across the railroad track, started to pick him up, but the other officer, Fred G. Grover, Patrick, put a gun on him and told him not to move. Later this officer permitted John Sims to get to the back of the car, but just about when he was ready to rush him to McDonough, changed his mind and order him out of the car and placed him under arrest. A white youth was kind enough to

(Continued on back page)

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

New Industry Created By Colored Citizens

FAYETTEVILLE—A new movement in the pooling of human relations and good will is being enthusiastically realized as the Great Southern Co-operative, a new industry built for the people by the people, launches its membership campaign.

Organized after careful planning, the new co-operative seeks to provide new and badly needed job opportunities and to enable its members to purchase necessities of life at greatly reduced prices. Because of the large number of persons who have already indicated their desires to become members of the Co-operative, officials are urging all applicants to become members as soon as possible.

Under direction of J. L. Brewster, E. A. Armstrong and W. S. Maize, the enterprise has already been launched. Members of the central committee are Misses Landona

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

Street Car Slayer Freed By Grand Jury

ATLANTA (ANP)—Efforts to secure indictments against T. H. Paul, street car motorman, and Arthur Friedberg, railway mail clerk both white, in connection with the slaying of Madison Harris and Phinzie Summerous, Negro youths failed last week when the Fulton County Grand Jury returned "no bills" favoring the accused.

Summerous was killed last fall as he was leaving the Pine Forest bus. Friedberg was released on copy and later bound over to the January-February grand jury which failed to indict on the murder charge. The white man claimed the Negro cursed at him and shot him as he was leaving the bus.

Harris, veteran of World War II, was slain April 10 on Mitchell Street, his motorman-slayer being released on copy and freed by Recorder's court hearing when Judge A. W. Callaway ruled it a case of "justifiable homicide."

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

Naomi Harrison who is on the road to becoming a minister at the age of three. Born Oct. 3, 1944, to the Revs. Lorenze and Nettie Harrison, she is the granddaughter of Bishop M. L. McLeod, Jr., of the Church of the Living God, Cleveland. The boy evangelist has led congregational songs and helped minister to her parents' congregations. (ANP Photo)

N. Y. Official Removed For Klan Action

ALBANY, N. Y. (ANP)—Horace A. Demarest, deputy state motor vehicle commissioner and a Republican leader in the borough of Queens, was dismissed from his state job last week after an investigation by Atty. Gen. Goldstein revealed that he had been connected with the Ku Klux Klan.

Atty. Gen. Goldstein described Demarest as "unfit to hold public office," and said he refused to cooperate with legal authorities investigating his Klan activities when he failed to give complete answers to questions concerning this alleged former interest.

Demarest, who moved to Queens from Manhattan in 1928, has been active in Republican politics for 18 years. He was appointed to his state position in 1943 after Gov. Dewey took office. Atty. Gen. Goldstein declares he was one of the incorporators of Alpha Pi Sigma fraternity found to have been Klan sponsored. It was formed after the corporate existence of the Knights and Women of the Ku Klux Klan, Inc., was nullified in 1923, Goldstein said.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

War Mothers Close Meet Here

RALEIGH—The United War Mothers of the state met here the 3rd and 4th of May, celebrating their first anniversary as charter chapters, with Mrs. Lillian Logan, president. The Friday night's session was held in the Mary Taylor home, an informal reception. Delegates from Fayetteville, Hamlet, Pamlico, Fuquay Springs, Garner, Smithfield, Mebane, Greensboro and Raleigh and Winston-Salem, represented the ten charter chapters. The United War Mothers recently received their state charter. Officers from the Greensboro and Winston-Salem chapters were installed. During the evening refreshments were served; a short program was rendered by the War Mothers of Raleigh chapter, with Mr. Louis Haywood and Veteran Clarence Lightner helping with solos.

Some of the delegates and visitors at the Eastern Regional Conference of Delta Sigma Theta.

Sorority are shown above. More than one hundred sorors were present representing seven states.

and the District of Columbia. The Conference was held in Leonard Building on the campus of Shaw University.

FEPC $80,000 IN DEBT TO EMPLOYEES

WASHINGTON (ANP)—With less than 90 days remaining to wind up the affairs of the FEPC, the committee finds itself in a middle over inability to pay its employees $80,000 due them through accumulated back pay.

Loss and loss is heard of the FEPC these days as congressmen are apparently doing their utmost to lose their chances of returning to their beloved congress seats. What is going to happen is unknown to any one—but the time is drawing nearer and nearer for the liquidation and complete dissolution of the FEPC.

Wilmington Daily Flays Work of Ku Klux Klan

WILMINGTON—The Wilmington Morning Star, oldest daily in North Carolina, in an editorial appearing in its issue of Saturday, May 11, condemns the revival of the Ku Klux Klan. The complete editorial follows:

Some twenty-odd years ago a racket spread like wildfire, particularly in the South, which masqueraded behind the title and under the sheets of the Ku Klux Klan. It practiced torture after dark and under masks.

Thousands of misguided men of prominence, including Bibb Graves, later twice governor of Alabama, and the present Associate Justice Hugo Black of the U. S. Supreme Court, were numbered among its members. Its code was a deep secret, its campaigns were principally against Jews and Negroes, not because they were law offenders, but because they were Jews and Negroes, and dared to hold up their heads and engage in business in the community.

GETS SELECTIVE SERVICE MEDAL

NEW YORK—Among 28 members of inactive Selective Service Appeal Boards who received medals May 3rd for their work was Roy Wilkins, NAACP assistant secretary. The awards were made by Chandler Cobb, New York City director. Mr. Wilkins was a member of Appeal Board No. five, which handled appeals from 20 local boards in eastern Manhattan, from 11th Street to 9th Street, and from Fifth Avenue to the East River.