GI'S LIFE TERM IS REDUCED TO TWENTY YEARS

NEW YORK — The legal department of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announced this week that it had been successful in its appeal for reduction of the life sentence imposed by a court martial upon former Private Ozie F. Brown. The sentence was reduced to twenty years.

In a petition for clemency submitted to the Secretary of the Army by Assistant Special Counsel Franklin H. Williams, the N. A. A. C. P. referred to Brown's consistently excellent character rating. The Association asserted that Brown's conviction for murder was "unlawful and unjustified" in view of the fact that the alleged murder occurred immediately after he was assaulted by a white soldier because of his race, to a dance hall. "The prevention of being unexpectedly struck by a strange man," the NAACP petition stated, "unintentionally aroused Brown's temper to such a heat that at the time he fired the fatal shot, he did not have any control of his reason."

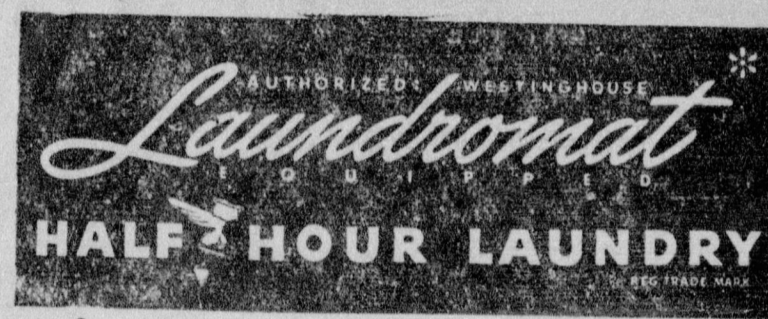

In another action this week Mr. Williams petitioned the Department of the Army to reverse the findings of a court-martial board which sentenced former Pfc. Dorcia C. Abston to death for the alleged murder of a white woman in Germany. In the Abston case, the NAACP charged, "even a cursory examination of the court-martial record" indicates that the conviction "was without justification in law or in fact."

awakened when two unidentified white men entered the house, took the keys and went upstairs to Hill's room.

According to Tom Caswell, another Negro prisoner who was in the jail at the time, the two abductors entered the jail unlocked the cell and told Hill to come with them. Caswell said that the men were following to him, and that he would not know them if he saw them again because the cell was lighted only by matches.

Sheriff Hatcher said that he searched from the roadhouse, where it had taken him about two hours to find his gun which had been thrown into the woods nearby; he did not look in on Hill or the other prisoner, but had come straight to bed.

As a result, he claimed, he did not know about Hill's absence until the next morning when he was called to identify a body which had been found beside a highway about three miles from the jail.

The body, badly beaten and with two bullet wounds in the head and one in the shoulder, turned out to be that of Hill.

A coroner's inquest into the death revealed a variety of details of the murder, including that Hill was shot through the head by James unknown.

Governor Talmadge stated that ballistics tests would be made of the bullets recovered from the body and that every Georgia law enforcement agency is assisting in the hunt for the killers.

Sheriff Hatcher blamed the slaying upon a rumor that Hill had been killed by Hill.

SESSION URGED

The directors of the Philadelphia platform and the premises of Mr. Truman himself.

No one expected support for the Truman program from the Dixie states. The coalition between Republicans and Democrats was certainly not unexpected. But the faint possibility of outright defection of some liberal Democrats was not anticipated.

The war in Korea, with the South not only refusing to repudiate the Red Army, but also repudiating all filibusters, but granting a vote which abandons the government and establishes government by filibuster.

Unwilling or unable to inaugurate measures which make a federal bill, civil rights program practically impossible, at least in the present administration, the leaders failed to support any serious legislative proposals to finance and education bills.

Now comes open abandonment of the whole program for this session. Mr. Truman still insists as of May 25 that he is for the civil rights proposals and will continue to press for them. The Republicans, who share the blame for the failure in this session, insist that the new filibuster can be passed under it and have challenged the Democrats to bring up such legislation for a test.

We therefore call upon the Truman administration to call a special session of Congress this summer for the purpose of acting upon civil rights legislation.

recovery. The rejection rate of North Carolina as a whole was 57 per cent, whereas among districts who had grown up in North Carolina, orphanages and who had not too expensive hospital and medical care plus sound business experience, the rejection rate had been only three per cent.

"Since the South's health problem is mainly an economic problem, a problem of the individual's inability to purchase power for medical care," it said, "the solution is to put purchases of power for medical care into their hands. Such a solution is offered in national health insurance — a national solution which would particularly benefit low income areas in the nation."
