

Two Jailed In Georgia Kidnap-Lynching Of Negro

HILL LYNCHING SUSPECTS DUE TO FACE GRAND JURY

IRWINGTON, Ga. — Two McIntyre, Ga. men were placed under arrest this week on suspicion of murder in the kidnap lynching of 26-year-old Cabell Hill, a Georgia Chuk miner who was abducted from the Wilkinson County Jail last week and slain.

The two men who are under arrest as suspects in the case are Malcolm V. Pierce, 27, and Dennis L. Furrow, 37, who are an electrician and a cafe owner respectively in McIntyre.

The pair were arrested following a Georgia Bureau of Investigation probe of the lynching.

Hill, the father of three children and the sole supporter of a wife, two sisters, mother and crippled father, was taken from the jail early Sunday morning and lynched following his arrest over a disturbance in a Negro residence.

According to Sheriff George Hatcher who made the arrest following the disturbance, the lynching apparently followed rumors that Hill had killed the sheriff.

The rumors, he said, apparently stemmed from a tussle in which a shot was fired while he was placing Hill under arrest.

The evidence against the two men who are held in the lynching will be presented to a special session of the Wilkinson County Grand Jury on June 14.

All parts of the state were present for the two day sessions which were described as the best and most successful in the history of the association.

Following the invocation by the Rev. Kenneth R. Williams, member of the Winston-Salem Board of Aldermen, the delegates were welcomed by Dr. F. L. Atkins, president of the Winston-Salem Teachers College. The response was made by Dr. A. L. Conwell, president of the Twin City Dental Society.

One of the outstanding events of the meeting was the delivery of a paper by Dr. H. D. Daugherty, chief of dental service for the North Carolina Veterans Administration.

In addition to the Men's smoker of the Club Flamingo on Thursday night other social events for the two groups included socials, bridge sessions and slat seeing and garden parties.

DOUBLE ENGAGEMENT — Mr. and Mrs. Otho High of New York City have announced the engagement of their daughters, Clementine Alberta to Douglas George Pugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pugh, and Vivian Alice to Robert Eugene Wallace, son of Mrs. Andromeda Wallace Bryant and the late Mr. William Wallace, II, of N. Y. C.

The young ladies are the granddaughters of the late Samuel Harris of Raleigh, N. C. Both daughters were graduated from Shaw University. Miss Clementine received the degree of Master of Science from the New York School of Social Work, Columbia and Miss Vivian is working toward the same degree. They are now doing social work in the city. A double wedding is planned for August.

CHIPPEY — students and was very friendly with citizens of Raleigh as well as throughout the state.

Many people were asking one question, "Why was Chippey fired?" None could understand why specific charges had not been made against him. Wherever the event was discussed there was a feeling that the dismissal was not justified because no reason was given for it. Many even thought that he should have had the chance to resign.

There was also widespread rumor that at least three other members of the faculty had been dismissed along with Prof. Chippey. These rumors were not confirmed.

Prof. Chippey is attending the graduation of his son, Louis, from Lincoln University in Lincoln, Pa.

Dr. Harold L. Trigg, president of the college, had no comment.

Dr. M. L. Watts, local dentist stated that it is a very low blow. Why Mr. Chippey has contributed more to South Carolina's College and to the local community during the past 21 years than any other person at either of the local colleges.

"He has served as president of the colored division of the Community Chest and in many other capacities since being here. I do not think that it was fair to release him in such a manner."

Most citizens were reluctant to be questioned on their feelings about the dismissal but all agreed that it was an unfortunate thing to happen to a person who had given 21 years' service to the institution. A few people said that it had been in the wind for some time but that Chippey didn't expect such immediate action.

DENTISTS ELECT — chairman of the same time as the meeting of the Dental Society was that of the Women's Auxiliary to the Old North State Dental Society which conducted its sessions in the First Auditorium and the music room.

Officers of the women's group include: Mrs. John Dewey Hawkins, Henderson, president; Mrs. Addie Balfour, Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. C. O. Lee, Winston-Salem, recording secretary; Mrs. J. D. Martin, Charlotte, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. P. Norris, Durham, treasurer; Mrs. W. C. Stroney, Winston-Salem, historian; Mrs. Ester Barnes, Greensboro, cardmaster; and Mrs. A. D. Hunter, Durham, chairman.

Approximately 60 dentists from presentations will be made on Friday, June 17, in the afternoon. The work of public investigations will be limited to delegates registered for the annual meeting and a selected list of state and officials and other public figures.

In announcing the program for Mr. Young said that Christian Workers' general manager of the News-Observer Publishing Association, would address the Friday morning session of the convention. He will tell the group how the ANPA goes about its job of serving 782 member publishers of daily newspapers over the country.

Mr. Young with Douglas H. Davis, vice president of ANPA, was a guest of the ANPA when the latter organization held its third annual meeting in New York in April. A precedent was set when Mr. Young was invited to address the convention.

B. M. McKelvey, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and editor of the Washington Star will share the honor program with Dr. Binche. Mr. McKelvey appeared on a network program with Mr. Young during "Negro Newspaper Week" last February.

don herold says: Uncle Sam!

The government at Washington has encouraged everybody in recent years to run crying to it with every little trouble.

They have come awfully close to turning us into a whole nation of mamma-babies, sissies and softies.

This country was built by men with guts enough to strike out on their own. Men who didn't ask Uncle Sam to protect them from every bruise and bump.

Today it seems as if nobody wants to work or fight or live or breathe without a "guarantee" and a feather cushion from Uncle Sam.

If we don't watch out, the politicians will get us right where they want us — dependent on the a for everything in life, God forbid!

GRADUATION EXERCISES

About 240 degrees were awarded at North Carolina college's annual commencement exercises.

Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, told the graduates that North Carolina offers a great, creative job in human relationships for well-trained young men and women. The editor declared that the state is a symbol for many in the quest for freedom in the world and he deplored the efforts of people in other sections to make this area a symbol of intolerance.

"Adventure for freedom," he told the graduates, "remains in North Carolina."

"Our concern for the optimum growth of all individuals, therefore, is equal. Thus on one hand, we should exert every possible effort to arrange facilities and services favorable to the growth of the individual. On the other hand, we utilize all the intelligence and good will at our disposal to encourage society to provide all the means that are necessary for the fullest possible realization of its ideal for the individual.

"Our college in one sense should become a laboratory in which experiments are provided which enable the individual to grow in his knowledge and appreciation of his personal success and happiness as identified with the well-being of the group with which he is associated, and in his disposition and ability to be guided in what he does by the probable effects of his actions upon the good fortune of others."

Dr. Edgar W. Knight of Chapel Hill, distinguished educator, presented the new president with the symbols of his office — the key, hammer and the seal.
