

AIR FORCE SQUADRON MAPS HUGE AREA OF ARCTIC WASTES

The formidable peaks of Mt. McKinley and adjacent wild terrain in Alaska mountain ranges which for years have defied exploration fall easy prey to the probing cameras of the U. S. Air Force 72nd Photo Reconnaissance Squadron. Mt. McKinley, highest mountain on the North American continent, as it soars to 20,300 feet, is a familiar sight to the crews of the B-29's of the Squadron that travel back and forth over such areas to make overlapping photographs for much needed charts.

More than 260,000 square miles of Alaskan terrain has been photographed by the Squadron since its arrival in Alaska in 1948.

Here S/Sgt. R. H. McLeod, Seattle, Washington, passes E-17 camera to T/Sgt. Lewis White, Salado, Texas. Magazines on cart (right) are fixed into position atop cameras after they are mounted. Each carries a 200-foot roll of film and rolls are easily changed in flight. As many as 30 loaded magazines are used on one mission. (U. S. Air Force Photo.)

LIBERIA OBSERVES 103rd INDEPENDENCE

MONROVIA, Liberia (AP) — Liberia celebrated its 103rd Independence day, July 26, with the unveiling of the bust of Abraham Lincoln and the unveiling of a mural and plaque on Liberia presented by the state of Illinois.

These special ceremonies were held at Continental pavilion on Government square in Monrovia. President William V. S. Tubman, of Liberia gave the principal speech before a large audience viewing the ceremonies.

Edward R. Dudley, American ambassador to Liberia, unveiled the Lincoln bust, the mural, and the plaque. Bishop Bravid Harris gave the prayer, and Bishop Willis King pronounced benediction. Music on the program, "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "The Star Spangled Banner," was provided by the L. F. F. band. The program was closed with the Liberian National anthem.

Other activities of Liberia's "July 4th" were held throughout the day. The day opened with the firing of a gun display of the national flag from all public buildings and private residences.

Later followed a military inspection of the Liberian armed forces at Barclay Training center by President Tubman and the armed forces commander, Charles Dunbar Sherman delivered a short talk at these exercises.

This was followed by the unveling ceremonies. At noon a national salute was fired from Fort Ward, turnip and other greens were served.

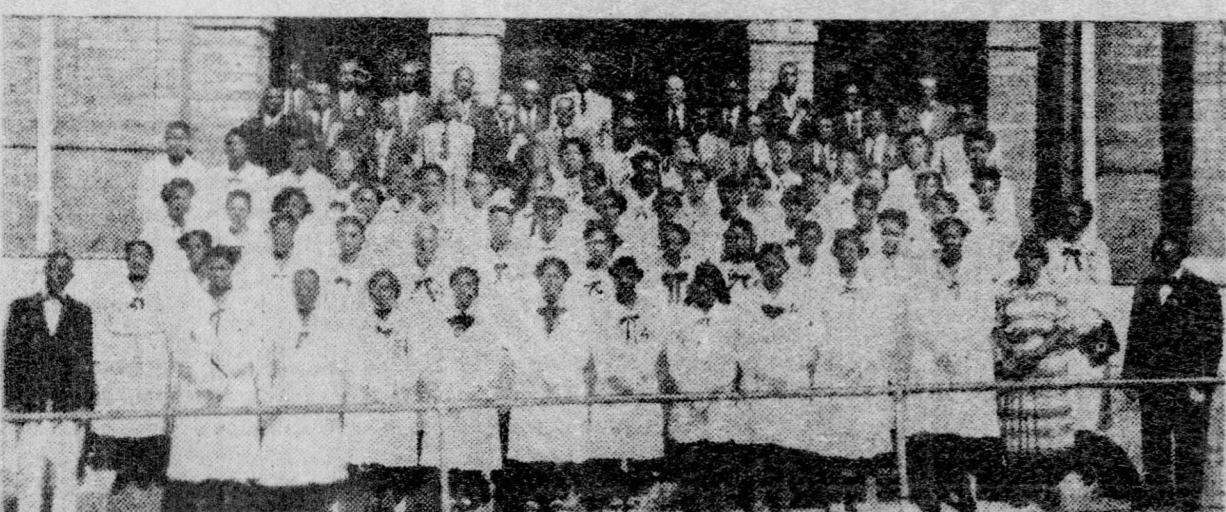

GREENS MAKING GOOD CASH CROP

NEW YORK — Two old-time Southern meal favorites — turnip and mustard greens — are winning popularity as a year-round table delicacy and are becoming an increasingly important crop for growers and packers of greens.

Tender young leaves of the mustard and turnip plants, cooked in water with salt pork and pepper pods, have long been traditional Southern favorites but have not been widely known in other sections of the country.

However, crop and canning figures now show that these greens are becoming increasingly available in all seasons and nutrition experts of American Can Company point out that the products offer an interesting taste variant and provide much the same healthful benefits as other leafy vegetables.

Can industry figures show that more than 1,500,000 cases of mustard, turnip and other greens were packed up in 1948.

CITIZENSHIP MEDAL MAY GO TO ROBINSON

Jackie Robinson has been recommended for the gold medal of good citizenship to be awarded by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The recommendation was made by Rep. Bernard W. Kearney (R., N.Y.) last Tuesday.

The congressman said his recommendation was based upon Robinson's testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities last Monday.

That testimony, said Kearney, demonstrated that Robinson "is a real American citizen."

He emphasized that fact that Robinson gave a "lie to the statement allegedly made by Paul Robeson that Negroes of this country would not fight Russia in case of a war."

FIRE BURNS YOUNG BOY

An 11-year-old youngster found out that playing with fire burns one. His playing with fire amounted to two attempts last week toward getting the North Little Rock fire department to answer false alarms.

The youth called to report a fire, but firemen were suspicious. One held him in conversation while another traced the call to the boy's home. Police arrested him and turned the lad over to juvenile court authorities.

The search for young men who can do the job keeps the old men awake all night long.
