NAACP WANTS ACTION ON FLA. VIOLENCE

NEW YORK — A second request that members of the mob terrorizing the Groveland, Florida, area be arrested and prosecuted was made by Madison S. Jones, Jr., administrative assistant of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Previously the NAACP was assured by Frank Wright, assistant to Governor Fuller Warren, that National Guard personnel were assigned to patrol the Groveland area.

Earlier in the week, press accounts of continued violence against Negroes prompted the NAACP to wire Governor Warren urging that the Guardsmen, who reportedly had been dismissed from the area, be returned to duty "to protect lives and property of Negroes of that community." At the same time Mr. Jones dispatched a message to Attorney General Tom Clark, requesting an investigation of the riots "to ascertain whether federal violations have occurred."

Further pressure for action was made by the NAACP in telegrams to Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R. I.), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee subcommittee on civil rights and Representative Emanuel Celler (D-N. Y.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. The wire to Congressman Celler noted "the interest of the committee in the matter of mob activities in the State of Alabama" and urged the committee to investigate the Groveland situation. Both committees were also urged to report favorably on and press for adoption of pending civil rights legislation.

Assistant Special Counsel Franklin H. Williams of the NAACP learned in a telephone conversation with Mr. Maceo W. Hubbard of the Department of Justice, that the Department is awaiting a report from the Federal Bureau of Investigation which is already on the scene. In the meantime the NAACP is conducting an independent investigation of the current Florida reign of terror.

Nigerian Admires British Journalists

LONDON — Nigerian newspaperman George M. Olu Coker praised British journalists for their efficiency and for their courtesy towards him, last week, in a report on his work with British newspapers.

Coker was one of three African newsmen who spent a year in England on a British Council scholarship for the purpose of studying journalism and working in newspapers. A native of Lagos, Nigeria, he worked for three newspapers in England. In his home town he is assistant editor of the Nigerian Daily Times.

British newsmen were not prejudiced, Coker, declared. He wrote: "In these days when much is being written and said about racial discrimination, I am happy to say that British journalists have no place for discrimination. I have not suffered from any form of racial discrimination. We have worked together as colleagues, and I have been very happy."

Describing the overall efficiency of British journalism compared to his native African variety, the scholarship winner said: "Newspapermen in Britain work under much more ideal conditions than journalists in West Africa. Nobel prize winner, Dr. John R. Mott, searches the globe to enumerate the countries represented by contributors to the first international issue of The Upper Room, the world's most widely used devotional guide.

Honorary president of the World Council of Churches, this famed Christian layman was chosen to be the only American among the 60 overseas contributors to the September-October number. Two million copies are being printed, including editions in Portuguese, Spanish, Chinese, Armenian and Braille.

Dr. Mott is familiar with every land where Christianity is preached, having made 110 Atlantic and 18 Pacific crossings.

He holds that Christianity will never be fully understood until believers of all races and cultures have made their contribution to its interpretation.

take a few minutes to be performed in Britain.

"What a contrast! In these days when there is a shortage of materials, I begin to wonder when it will be possible for us to bask in our glorious sunshine in Africa with at least some of the up-to-date printing machines..."

He stated he thought the low standard of journalism in West Africa, is due to the absence of schemes for the training of colonial journalists, adding:

"I do believe, however, that if facilities for training are extended to them, it will not only raise the standard of journalism in my country, but it will also help to dispel muddled thinking—a thing which, unfortunately, is now doing great harm."

In conclusion Coker recommended that more Council scholarships be established and better training facilities be set up in Nigeria to improve native journalism.
