TO SUE TO ENTER

Filed by Thomas Malone and Thomas Hubbard of Durham, both graduates of UNC.

Both, it was stated, have applied for admission to UNC, Malone to the graduate school and Hubbard to the school of medicine.

University officials at Chapel Hill, however, said that Epstein's application had been received last spring and had been turned down.

Epstein, the school officials said, was turned down because the state maintains a law school for Negroes at UNC in Durham.

NOT ACCREDITED The UNC Law School, however, is not accredited by the American Bar Association.

The school officials said that the school is not accredited by the American Bar Association, with the result that its graduates are ineligible for bar examinations only in North Carolina or those states which maintain reciprocal agreements with North Carolina.

Following applications from several Negro students to enter the graduate schools at UNC more than a year ago the executive committee of the UNC Board of Trustees issued a statement in which they declared that the board of trustees was powerless under the law to admit the Negro students.

Bridge Tender David Dickinson, placed the time of the crash at 3:30 p.m., stated that he was watching water traffic which was passing under the bridge at the time.

U. S. Coast Guardsmen and Marines who were called to assist in the salvage operations were successful in raising the car and recovering the bodies of its occupants about three hours later.

CAR RECOVERED A Fort Mason Coast Guard boat located the 1941 Chevrolet coach with grappling hooks and it was raised from the water by Marines from Cherry Point operating a large crane.

The drawbridge is located on U. S. 101 which is an alternate highway between Beaufort and Cherry Point. The investigation of the crash was conducted by Col. V. J. Smith and Patrolmen J. H. Sykes, M. G. Willard and R. H. Brown of the Highway Patrol unit stationed at Beaufort.

In another weekend auto fatality Nelson Diggs, 33, a farmer of the Lilesville Township, died at Anson Sanatorium Monday of injuries received Sunday afternoon when his car overturned on a curve on Highway 85 near Pee Dee.

According to Highway Patrolman R. A. Calloway, the car was traveling too fast to negotiate a curve at the Gum Springs Road intersection. Two other men who were riding with Diggs were not seriously injured.

GETS FOURTH TRIAL

Count which in April, 1948, ordered April 1948 ordered it returned to the lower court for trial.

Tried before Judge R. Hunt Parker and a jury drawn from Warren County in November of 1948, Speller was again sentenced to die in the gas chamber. Another appeal was filed by Taylor and Gates on the grounds that they had been denied opportunity to investigate the Warren County jury.

The case is scheduled to go to trial again Monday at Windsor before Presiding Judge William I. Haisstead of South Mills with a jury which will be drawn either from Martin or Hertford County.

ect was based on no grounds other than those of property value and population density and said that they would not oppose use of the site to provide homes for Negro ownership.

Following this statement, originally made before members of the City Zoning and Planning Commission, Mr. York stated that he would be willing to use the site to erect homes for Negro ownership.

Shortly afterward the Zoning commission recommended that the City Council approve the project which would be known as the Washington Terrace project.

At its last meeting, however, the City Council delayed final action on the project pending the return to the site of Howard Manning, attorney for the five owners.

AT Tuesday night's meeting of members of the city and Zoning view board held at the Bloodworth St. YMCA, the group agreed to send a joint request to the City Council asking that no action be taken on the project until a housing study is made of the possibilities for construction of homes for Negroes on that site and a rental project on a larger tract in the Southwestern part of the city.

Named to the joint committee which will study the two sites and about his hopes and in truth. "On his bed he turned and spoke to me. 'I was born of this love for the State of North Carolina. I was nurtured at her breast, and I pray God that when my last hour shall have come that I may be allowed upon her bosom and rocked to sleep by her tender and embracing arms.'

Listeners to the broadcast also heard a recording of a speech made by Dr. Shepard some time before his death in which he declared: "We cannot degrade any race and expect the best from it. You can not rob a person of his self-respect and expect him to be a good citizen."

GUNMAN DUELS

The battle started when Craig accused Lawrence Mark, 17, who had been hired by him to clean his basement, of stealing one of his guns. When Mark denied it, Craig shot at him and missed, but hit little Drake Adams.

Neighbors notified police as the boy was taken to the County hospital, and Craig ran home. When police knocked on his door Craig invited them with a volley of bullets. The first squad retreated and called for reserves. More and more reserves came but Craig continued to shoot it out with them from the front and rear windows of his home.

Police used tear gas, carbines, shotguns, pistols, and machine guns but Craig continued to shoot wildly from his home. Finally officers decided to set fire to his home and succeeded in routing Craig.

Crowds watching the battle sat on rooftops, stood on the streets, and peered from open windows. Fortunately most of Craig's shots were wild, or more people might have been wounded. Policemen fired more than 1,000 rounds of bullets before finally killing him.

PLAN CONTEST are determined that the Klan must be fought.

The Brunswick branch of the NAACP announced that it is raising funds to replace the windows broken when the homes of two Negro ministers in areas zoned for exclusive residence of whites were dynamited last week.

"The NAACP has a long record of fighting residential segregation," Mr. Marshall said. "We will continue to fight until the right of every citizen to live where he chooses is guaranteed and protected."

NAACP DEMANDS bor Committee on the House FEPC bill, are available for inspection.

"We believe that it would be desirable to have FEPC legislation out of committee and on the calendar of the Senate before the expiration of this session of the 81st Congress," Mr. Wilkins wrote.

"Such action would indicate to large groups in the population who maintain a keen interest in this legislation that the Congress has not decided to abandon all action in this session."

DAUGHTERS OF ISIS

CONVENE IN DETROIT

DETROIT (ANP) — The Daughters of Isis, auxiliary to the Ancient Egyptian Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine of North and South America and its Jurisdictions, Inc., held their 23rd annual convention here August 14-20.

Highlights were an opening public reception and meeting, an address by Miss Louise M. Dargans, and a poignant commencing the founding of the order.

Miss Dargans told the group meeting at the Lucy Thurman Branch YWCA that Negroes must take a more active part in legislation affecting all people, particularly minority groups.

In Washington, D. C., Miss Dargans is the only Negro member of the Congressional Secretaries club and is secretary to Rep. Adam C.

Shown above is the architect's perspective of the new R. B. Danby Hall of expressive arts on which construction will begin August 30, at Jackson College, Jackson, Miss. The structure, which will cost $250,000, represents the largest single investment of the State for the education of Negroes. Although designed as given to Johnson Hall which was completed in 1941, Danby Hall will have a standardized theatrical stage and an auditorium that will seat 1,000. (ANP)

Community Hospital Gets Budget Approval

The request of the Community Hospital Administration for a qualified pathologist was granted by the City Council and the Board of County Commissioners meeting in joint session. The budget approved for the hospital amounted to $387,000. An additional $13,652.12 was allocated to the hospital to cover unanticipated expenses authorized during the 1948-49 fiscal year.

The hospital's Administrator, Frank Adair, stated "The budget approved by the joint governing boards encourages us and will help our efforts to render to this area hospital services in keeping with standards recommended by the American Medical Association. These services yield immediate and positive returns from the labors of our medical and technical staffs in their struggle to prevent the spread of diseases to care for the sick and suffering, and to promote the growth of medical science."

At the meeting of the joint boards the Administrator pointed out to the lawmakers the fact that it is the hospital's policy to keep the city and county governments regularly informed of its activities and of the manner in which both public and private funds received by the hospital are employed.

Other improvements provided by the hospital's 1948-50 budget include an additional instructor and educational supplies for the School of Nursing.

One very significant step forward which will be provided in the new budget will be the enlargement of the hospital's clinics, or Out-Patient Department. This will be of great value in safeguarding the health of persons in the community who can show proof that they are unable to see a private physician. Facilities and personnel will be installed for screening, and there'll be installed a Unit Record System making the Clinic records a part of the regular hospital records. Fees charged for Clinic examinations and treatment will be very small — large enough only to cover in time the major portion of the expense of conducting the Out-Patient Department once it is properly organized.

Following the action of the joint boards, local newspaper and radio commentators were liberal in commending the Board of Trustees for the efficiency of the hospital's management during the fiscal year. At a meeting of employees, Adair took occasion to thank the group for the extraordinary cooperation they are giving. His remarks brought forth from them a pledge to make the coming fiscal year the "finest yet."

4 MILLION TO RUN LIBERIAN MINE

WASHINGTON (ANP) — The Export-Import Bank of Washington has authorized a credit of $4,000,000 to the Liberia Mining Company, Ltd., an organization composed of white Americans organized under the laws of Liberia.

The credit is to be used to assist in financing the development of high grade iron ore deposits at Bond Hill, Liberia, the outcrop of a 45-mile railroad from the port of Monrovia to Bond Hill, and the construction of ore handling and storage facilities at the port.

It is expected that the total capital cost of the project will be in the vicinity of $8,000,000, half of which will be furnished by the bank's loan. Approximately $1,000,000 has been expended to date by the mining company on development work. The loan is contingent upon the carrying out of an agreement between the Liberia Mining company, Ltd. and the Republic Steel company under which the latter will invest $3,000,000 in the mining company and will execute a long term lease purchase agreement for a portion of the annual production.

This program supersedes an arrangement made with the Liberia Company which originally planned to develop the Christie Holdings. Col. Christie, a white engineer, received the concession from the Liberian government several years ago.

The loan from the Bank will be repayable in 20 equal semiannual installments beginning December 31, 1951, with interest at the rate of four and three-fourths percent. The credit will be available to the mining company until June 30, 1951.

Powell, Jr., a member of the D. C. YWCA activities committee, advisor to the D. C. Junior Police and Citizens corps, NAACP, and life member of the National Council of Negro Women.

The tableau for the program was written by Mrs. Margaret Jackson, Marace Court 32, Detroit. It told the story of the Imperial Court from the August day in 1909 when the wives of five nobles at the Shriners convention in Richmond thought of organizing an auxiliary to today when the organization has grown to a total membership of 5,000 in 100 subordinate courts throughout the United States.

Mrs. Laura Williams was the first commandress, and Mr. Lucy M. Yarbrough was the first record-keeper. Six past imperial commandresses were special guests at this pageant. They were Ursula Hines Bets, Lillie E. Powell, Willie J. Britton, Elizabeth Graves, Beulah L. McKay, and Sallie Stockton.

SUNDAY SWIM FATAL TO BOYS

WASHINGTON, N. C. — Two small boys eight and ten years old were drowned Sunday morning when they went swimming in the Pamlico River while their parents were attending church.

The boys, Will Joseph Smith and Robert Senehar, went swimming off of the dock at the Roanoke Lumber Co., according to the story told police by Cornelius Sinclair, Robert's father.

Both boys Cornelius said stripped off their clothing and dived into the water which is 18 feet deep at that point. Neither came to the surface again.

When his two playmates failed to reappear, Cornelius ran for help but divers and persons using grappling hooks were unable to locate either boy until shortly before dark when the body of the Smith boy was recovered a few feet from where he was believed to have dived into the water.

LIBERIA PICKS UN DELEGATES

MONROVIA (ANP) — An eight-member delegation to the UN headed by Charles D. B. King, Liberian ambassador to the United States with Henry F. Cooper, minister to France, assistant was announced last week by the Liberian department of state.

Other members of the delegation to the fourth session of the UN are S. David Coleman, secretary of interior; Henry R. Cooper, senator; and the following representatives: Albert D. Peabody, John G. Kolenky, William N. Waterspoon, and Samuel D. George.

The UN meeting will open at Lake Success, N. Y., September 12. The selection of a new delegation each year is in keeping with President Tubman's policy of having a permanent chairman to the UN but to rotate other members among leading men and women of the nation.

KILLS OWN INFANT; BLAMES PROWLER

CHICAGO (ANP) — A young white mother, Mrs. Dorothy Skeech, 22, last week confessed that she had killed her six-day old baby daughter after first telling police that a "Negro prowler" had stolen her child.

Mrs. Skeech, whose husband, Thomas, 21, is unemployed, said she took her child's life because she did not know how she and her husband would take care of it.

Her first statement claiming that a Negro prowler had stolen the baby could have incited a race riot if she had not told the truth later on. More than 100 persons had gathered in her neighborhood shortly after the news had spread. Negroes have recently begun to move into the Woodlawn community in which she lives.

Chicago's largest newspaper, The Tribune, had headlined the story in large black print and had used a lead saying the baby had been slain by a "Negro prowler." The SunTimes gave the story a good play but did not use the word Negro.

Wilmington Nurse Awarded Fellowship

Frank B. Adair, Administrator of the Mount Sinai Hospital of New York City has granted a fellowship to Nurse Marjorie R. Wheeler of Wilmington, North Carolina. She left on August 1st to spend special observation work in the three Pediatric Pavilions at Mount Sinai, which comprise one of the largest Pediatric teaching units to be found in American hospitals. The fellowship provides for the payment of all expenses plus a small stipend which will be given to the local nurse.

The Administrator stated "This is in keeping with our efforts to constantly improve the nursing service at Community Hospital and in this case particularly, to bring our own Pediatric Division to a point where it will not be necessary to send our senior student nurse away each year for instruction in the care of children."

Mr. Adair, formerly Assistant Executive Director of New York's Strykerham Hospital, commented further that Mrs. Wheeler's appointment is another commendable demonstration that interracial cooperation can and does work in the strategic functions of the modern hospital.
