ZETAS CONDUCT ANNUAL REVUE

The Omicron Zeta Chapter of the Phi Beta Sigma Sorority conducted its third annual Blue and White Revue and Bicycle Contest Friday night at the Crosby-Campbell School.

Musical and dance numbers featuring some of the city's outstanding talent provided an interesting evening's entertainment which climaxed the group's annual drive to raise funds for scholarships and community service.

Among those appearing on the program were Charles Jackson, Lee Wilbert Sanders and George Adams, soloists; Miss Pecola Branch, interpretative dances; and Leon E. Thompson, master of ceremonies.

The prizes were awarded to the winning contestants by Miss Mae E. Ligon.

Officers of Omicron Zeta include: Sorors Evelyn Papa, president; Mary E. Cuthage, vice-president; Maude Evans, secretary; and Addie C. Logan, treasurer.

Shaw undergraduate chapter of Phi Beta Sigma Sorority includes: Sorors Suzie Barnes, Pearl White, Hazel Kelly and Rosa Denton.

Injury-Ridden Saints Ready For St. Paul

The injury-ridden St. Augustine Falcons, given a lift by their victory over Johnson C. Smith by virtue of a two-touchdown fourth quarter rally, are preparing to meet fully for their meeting with St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute of Lawrenceville, Va., in Chavis Park Saturday. The kickoff is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Quentin Yates, who suffered a leg injury in the J. C. Smith game when he was downed after a 20-yard run, setting up the Falcon's second touchdown last Saturday, may not start against St. Paul's on a fullback.
