COMPLETED CHURCH

Continued from page eight. Several firms, both white and colored, made several outfits from Fort Bragg and individuals who have made weekly and monthly contributions over a period of 2 years. The spirit of co-operation has been great.

The result is a brand-new end-block building 30 x 50 feet completed with a exception of ceiling, heating plant and pews, and the church auxiliary is working toward that end now as well as completion of the spire and rooster on top of the tower for which the foundation has been laid.

Very few churches can boast of a membership less than 50 women with a church and parsonage which when completed will have a valuation of around $100,000.
