

TSU TIGERS PREP FOR SAM HOUSTON

Texas State's fifteen days of preparation is "beating the gun" in preparation for the October 22 game with Sam Houston College. The teams will meet at San Antonio's Alamo Stadium.

The Tiger squad under the tutelage of Alex "Dobbs" Dudley, practices daily from three to darkness. After showers and a hearty meal, the gridsters have series of chalk talks and movies. Thus, the grid does its leaving no stone unturned, as far as its training is concerned.

Line Coach Stewart Adams is shaping a stronger and more formidable forward wall. Coaches Durley Evans and Hebert are moulding a new faster and more deceptive block. In fact, Dudley's passing and breakaway runs are being stressed.

Cigarette output this year probably will be near 35 billion, eight billion above the record set in 1949. Consumption in 1950 is expected to continue near current levels although retail prices in many states will be higher because of new or increased taxes.

a close relative of the legendary
"Atlas" the way he "beats" these Dodgers around with his incomparable "knives-the-plat" playing

"Satisfied" Rizzuto opened with

by bashing a sharp shot thru a hole in the outfield, the Yanks had Yogi hit a grass cutter to Mizrahi
who literally surrounded the ball
and then flipped it to Campocello.
As thousands looked on in abated wonderment, Rizzuto was caught in a rundown between third and the plate. Stocky "Campy" chased the Yank shortstop back towards third but missed the tag. Turning to a "high-brown" spectator, we said, "Rizzuto stepped across the

of course, as simple as a that,
with lightning thinking and en-

Dodger backstop tried to Jackie play to be sure, but mighty smart thinking on the part of baseball's best catcher bar none in the blue

the next day during the Yankees' practice session. Tommy Henrich topped a weak dribbler down the third base line during and before practice, and Lou Newcombe, leaping madly, ground out the first base and called "Mr. Reliability." "That's the way you should have hit against me yesterday, in the World Series opener," Rizzuto said. "But me, I'm better. Better yet so right."

In the second quarter Leland Harris, rong defensive tackle for Lincoln, knocked Perkins kick and picked up the ball on the 25 yard line.

The third quarter, the Union, closing attack began to function. In two completions totaling 35 yards, the Panthers moved from the 14 yard line to the Lincoln 28. The play, perhaps the oddest of the night, was a 25 yard pass from Eddie Johnson to Eddie Johnson, who completed it on the 42 yard line.

knocked the ball out of Eddie Johnson's hands.

Lincoln recovered the ball on the 42 yard line.

Lincoln showed much offensive power in the first and second quarters but bogged down in the third and fourth quarters. Leland Harris, Ben Eulenburg and Donald Myers were stellar performers for Lincoln.

Union Bows To Lincoln 18-0

NEWARK, N. J.—The Lincoln Bats, whose passing almost equal University Lions, returning to the scene of a problem in the Lincoln column after last week's 18-0 victory, were decisively whipped the Vicksburg Panthers Saturday afternoon at Belmont Stadium by a CIAA encounter.

DOROTHY DONEGAN . . . PIANO MAGIC

NEW YORK—Why doesn't someone have a "Piano Poll" and award a Nobel prize to the finest and most delicate manipulator of the 36 keys? Years ago

Dorothy Donegan would sit, strumming up and there would be no need for a piano lesson. She's tops in manipulating a piano, and the music "interpretation" gives her the highest conception. I have heard all the so-called master and mistress domination of the keyboard, but have seen them come and go from the bottom to the top but that Dorothy Donegan single "moves" me from doubt and speculation.

The unassuming little girl, sitting at the piano, with the seemingly natural, flowing motion of her fingers has long impressed me by her modest personality. She knows she is a field of warfare in the art of music and seldom indulges her sentimentalities.

The piano, perhaps the oddest of musical instruments, is a means of personal expression. The piano, like the violin, has a secret to her expression of the strings and flats in the notes. However, when she starts playing, she seems to be in control of the instrument, and she can make it do what she wants.

One thing that helps a person to be a very potent factor in their expression of music is marriage. I learned this through which the Panthers' an-cessor Lincoln, picking up some 200 yards, mostly on completions, was easily beaten.
