President Requests New Pool For Washington

WASHINGTON (ANP) — President Truman last week sent a request to congress to appropriate $75,000 for the construction of a swimming pool in northeast Washington, an effort it is believed, to avoid future disturbances between Negroes and whites.

The interior department said that the new pool would be conducted on an interracial basis. The northeast section was chosen because of the increased congestion there.

Washington Group Refused Meeting Place

WASHINGTON (ANP) — The Trinidad Community association was denied use of the Wheatley School, white, for its monthly meeting last week by the Board of Recreation.

The board pointed out to the group that the Hayes Negro school was available to the group. The association, however, said that the Hayes School was not in the groups area and had no auditorium.

Land Grant Heads End 3-Day Parley

WASHINGTON — The Conference of Presidents of Negro Land Grant Colleges closed its three-day annual meeting here Thursday. The group heard leaders in education and in industry, asked for more reserve officer training units, noted the existence of certain "dangers" surrounding the performance of their work, and commended five southern states for admitting Negroes to graduate and professional schools.

ansas for admitting Negroes to the professional and graduate schools of their existing state universities, and hoped that others would follow.

The theme of this 27th annual conference was "Guidance and Occupational Trends," and all sessions were held at the Federal Security Administration building. Dr. Lawrence A. Davis, president of Arkansas State College, Pine Bluffs, was re-elected president of the Conference and President John W. Davis of West Virginia State College was named chairman of the executive committee.

Other officers elected were a vice president, C. V. Truitt, Fort Valley State College, Georgia; secretary, R. B. Atwood, Kentucky State College; and Feltia G. Clark, Southern University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Several resolutions were adopted as proposed by a committee headed by President Sherman D. Scruggs of Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Mo. One of these asked the conference to be "concerned" about the "proper, right and effective functioning" of the various member presidents, and "deplored any pressure" against them, or their faculties which might affect the morale of either or both.

The resolution also the "end of real and psychological dangers which lower drastically the value and quality of the total work of the affiliated colleges.

Another resolution asked for more ROTC units, and called upon the Secretary for Defense, Louis A. Johnson, to enable through directive Negro youths to secure similar training for the Air Force and the Navy. They were clear in not asking for this on a segregated basis however.

The conference, which two years ago opposed regional schools, did commend Delaware, Kentucky, West Virginia, Oklahoma and Ark-

"Floating" Buckle

Newest idea in men's fashions is the Profile Initial belt buckle that seems to float on the belt, and is described as "the greatest buckle idea in 40 years" by Ray Hickok, who introduced it. Men's initial jewelry, Hickok says, is high fashion today, including initial tie-bars, cuff links and even initialed ornaments on suspenders. The idea is based on American and democratic tradition, the urge of the individual to make a name for himself, according to Hickok.
