NEW SCHOOL PAPER, VARIETY GOES ON SALE

The first edition of the Variety was run off the press last Friday, November 4. This is JCTS's new school paper.

For many years, such a worthy endeavor has been continuously anticipated, but because of the great responsibility attached to such work, it has not been the easiest thing to do. And now that so much interest has been created by the students, it is the sincere hope of the Principal and his faculty that a paper will become a traditional part of the school program.

Variety is a project of the senior class and the business department. Its staff is comprised of the following persons:

Editor-in-chief, Vera C. Smith; associate editor, Joanne Jenkins; business manager, Vivian White; sports and all around news, Hattie Stevens and Paul Woodard; typists, Geneva Williams and Jonah Smith; mimeographers, Milton Merrill and Jonah Smith; Miss F. Slaughter and Regina Emdin are the advisors.

Among Variety's many interesting features, its editorials "Improve Your Knowledge," "Famous and The Spider's Notes" are classed as its specialties.

It sells for 5 cents and is to be a monthly publication.

KILLS FUGITIVE SOUGHT FOR RAPE

MONTICELLO Ky. (AP) — A two day hunt by a posse of 200 to 250 whites for a Negro accused of the rape of a 12 year old white girl ended Friday night when a white farmer, Bryan Kecton, shot and killed Sam Sloan, 21.

According to the girl she was raped Wednesday by the Sloan boy after he made three companions leave her alone with him after church. Kecton said he shot Sloan when he reached for a revolver.

NATIVE MEAT IS BOUGHT IN AFRICA

CAPE TOWN South Africa (ATLAS) — South African housewives are now buying legs of Kudu,eland steaks or impala chops, since there is a shortage of beef. Butchers are turning to the country's native antelope herds for meat, and the steaks are fine and delicious in taste.

CAREER FOR FATHER APPROVES

"I have completed 3 years of college work but for financial reasons did not return last fall. My father is to join the women's division of the army. Mother approves this plan. June 29, 1923.

CAN'T DECIDE BETWEEN OKLAHOMA AND TENNESSEE LOVERS

"I am unhappy and can't seem to decide between two suitors. I want to know if I should continue on here in Oklahoma City with this man or go back to Philadelphia with the friend I left there?" May 31, 1925.

Ans: You haven't met your ideal as yet and you're marking time, more or less, to continue to hold on to these two fellows. You're looking for a husband and neither of these gentlemen, friends are likely prospects for matrimony. Use a little more strategy in handling your boy friends — you are inclined to give out with everything and get nothing in return.

LET REPAIR RUN DOWN

"My home is in need of some repairs and although I have money in the bank I hesitate to take it out for any purpose. Should I go ahead with these repairs now or continue to put it off?" Sept. 3, 1891.

Ans: This work can be done immediately and you can arrange an FHA loan and pay for the repairs in monthly installments. Your credit rating is good and you are employed — you won't have any difficulty getting a loan. The longer

STUDENT HUSBAND YEARS FOR WIFE COMPANIONSHIP

"My husband is speeding. How can I get him to stop? We haven't had a fight since he started to speed on the road. Feb. 18, 1926.

CHILDREN TEASE AUNT CONTINUOUSLY — WHAT TO DO?

"I hardly know whether I should write my case or not. My niece and her five children are living with me. I love her and the kids too and would like to have them stay on but I can't at my wife's end. The two oldest kids are 10 and 12. They laugh at me all of the time. Every thing I say, they poke fun at it. They aren't mean but I am getting it on my nerves. Should I ask them to move?" March 11, 1834.

Ans: These kids don't mean any harm but they have found out that they can tease you and they will continue to do it as long as you make it obvious that it is amusing. Laugh with them when they start mocking you — take it as a big joke and it won't be but a few days until they stop, if altogether, provided you don't discuss it. Like them occasionally with a few cents for candy and the price of a show. Their attitudes will change and you will be happier over the situation.

WOMEN RAP GEORGIA STATE PRISON SYSTEM

By RAY LAWRENCE

ATLANTA (ATLAS) — Although the prison system of the state of Georgia is supposed to have been revamped and cleaned up, it still has its abuses, and is perhaps just as vicious as shacks and shackles as it ever was, according to the State League of Women Voters.

"Georgia has done many things in recent years to correct the more glaring evils of her prison system" said the Women's League. "But the very fact that housing is better, that certain glaring abuses have been lessened, make it possible for us to see more clearly other abuses that were less obvious but perhaps just as vicious as shacks and shackles."

The legislature was praised for eliminating chains, stripes and corporal punishment, and for putting prisons under a constitutional board, but the League noted that the bill provided no funds for carrying out a number of rehabilitation moves. It urged its members to work for legislation which would improve further the system of punishment and rehabilitation. Especially was it specific in urging the endorsement of laws which would create a statewide probation system, provide a statewide system of juvenile courts and extend the merit system of all prison employees.

The Women Voters noted that a slight improvement was credited to inspections of county camps by the Department of Corrections but much more could be done to improve them. "So long as the camps are operated by the county commissioners with the sole purpose of making money for the county by the use of prison labor, only the minimum is spent for the operation of the camps, and absolutely no thought is given to the rehabilitation of the prisoners," said the league.

COURT URGED TO REVIEW JIM CROW HOUSING PROJECT

Washington (ATLAS) — A petition was filed with the U. S. Supreme Court last week, urging review of a N. Y. State Court of Appeals decision last July, upholding the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's racial discrimination policy in its New York City Suburban Town Housing project. The petition was filed by the American Jewish Congress, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the American Civil Liberties Union in behalf of three Negro war veterans who had applied for apartments in the project.

The petition requests intervention to prevent an attempt "to corrupt a legislative device for sound community planning into an instrument for enforcing racial segregation." The New York court in a 4-3 decision, held that the state Redevelopment Companies Law, under which the project was built, did not

IN BRIEF ANNA PRIDGEN

During the time we have spent in school we have been working very hard. With the cooperation and assistance of Miss G. Robertson, our advisor, we have covered various types of things. We are glad to have with the 7th Grade again, Doretha Bryant who has traveled from a distant which could not be spent several days in the hospital. We are glad to see the money funds which have been raised again in school.

SAUL RICHARDSON The student body has a grand new idea for this year. We are glad to see so many smiling faces in school.

We have more teachers and more books than last year. We wish to give our special thanks to Mr. W. H. Brown, the principal for his hearty interest in all we do and with a few more teachers.

NAME NAACP FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 — Mrs. L. B. POET'S CORNER Thoughts of Autumn

EDWARD FREEMAN

Autumn is a picturesque time of the year. With its golden colored leaves. They stimulate a thought of beauty and cheer. As they flutter in the evening breeze.

The nights are cool with a bright full moon. Hanging in a cloudless sky. And beneath that moon, young lovers spoon. While mother sings baby a lullaby.

The sun rises early the next morn'g. Causing a yellow crimson sky. The little children prepare for school. And daddy waves good-bye.

Then comes noon day, the sky's azure blue. And the sun is shining bright. But in the evening once again. We no longer see her gleaming light.

All these things remind me of autumn. That glorious time of the year. When the leaves and the trees and the evening breeze. Bring back its beauty and cheer.
