OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

The New Year

All over America at midnight Wednesday, all sorts of bells ring, in farewell to the past and as a herald of the future.

366 yesterdays come to an end, abruptly old, calendar leaves fluttering into memory. The old year for good or bad, is dead — another year is born.

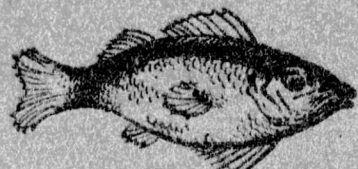

What we do with the new year how we shape it for our families, our communities, our country, depends on our wisdom and our vision.

Black on Mound, Walcott
In Ring, Made History

BY AL MOSES

NEW YORK (AP) — We should never think of sport champions and outstanding athletic performers by some sort of racial tag. Any more than this declining system should be the yardstick in other than the distaff side of our so-called democratic way of life here in free America.

To do so is but to perpetuate the institutions of the nearly defunct and bankrupt "Hate-Monsters" organizations, that are the scourge of this, the brightest of all centuries.

OUR NATIONAL HEROES
In our strong interracial writing, we kept you in close contact these twelve months with tantamount sport-world contenders and titlholders who ranged from Mongolians to Tasmanians; all colors, all the races of mankind as it should be. Mickey Mantle, member of the N. Y. Yankees Baseball Club, was as much a hero to me as was "Bones" Dillard, Olympian hurdling luminary, peerless Joe Black, ancient Leroy (Satch) Paige and Jersey Joe Walcott, fistic's fabulous-fighting-man.

They are what they unquestionably represent: American sport page supermen. I rank them alongside of Cuba and Mexico's pensioned-off Jai Al (Hi Li) Stars: South America's soccer greats; West Indies' cricket aces and Russia's leading gymnasts.

So far as the National League baseball fans are concerned, Morgan college's massive ode Black, crowded off all other nominees for the most exciting performances turned in last year. He was the John Bunyan whom manager Chuck Dressen pinned his pennant hopes upon. Black climbed a faceless, yea glass mountain in justifying Dressen's faith and hopes, and the Dodgers won.

Came the hectic World Series and again Black stood out. He was in a word, magnificent. How those writers in honest assembly failed to award modest Josephus the MVP (Most Valuable Player) plaque along with the "1952 Rookie-of-the-Year" designation, puzzles me somewhat even though I could be wrong.

"WE LOST TONIGHT"
We need to do no researching whatsoever in recalling the brief epistle we dedicated to gracious and motherly Mrs. Arnold Cream (Jersey Joe Walcott's wife), following Rocky Marciano's ascension to the throne once defended so nobly by Joe Louis. Quietly and with hurt dignity she told newspaper writers who swarmed over the deserted lawn of her home: "There are no crowds cheering us here tonight. WE LOST!"

I treasurer it along with the classic Joe Louis uttered, one used by the late Industrialist and Politico Wendell Wilkie viz:—

"We'll Win Because We Are On God's Side."

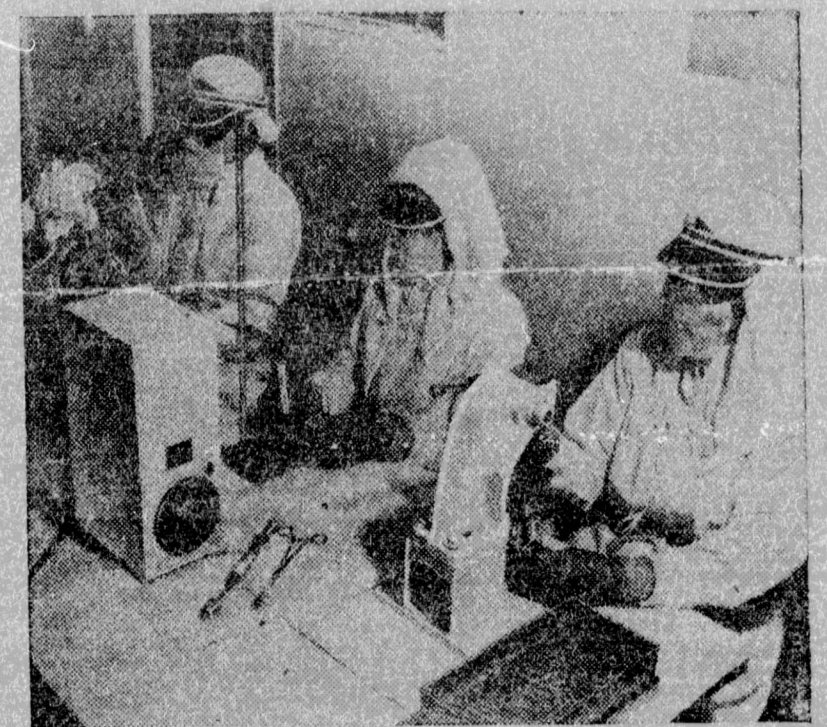

HALL OF FAME MATERIAL
Jackie Robinson, lionhearted ex-collegian who was employed to break down a 70-year-old Negro baseball bar in the majors, won new honors with his radio and TV contracts; a $250,000 West 125th Street store; and his blast against the N. Y. Yankees' studied policy against the hiring of Negro players Roy Campanella's great backstopping. Junior Gilliam's part in the repudiated $500,000 baseball deal (Dodgers-and-Braves) that might have included "Robby" as trading bait!

LIBRARIAN RECEIVES NEW APPOINTMENT — Miss Marjorie Jacobs, librarian of Apex, Junior High School has resigned in order to become the librarian of Alexander Street School of Charlotte, N. C. Miss Jacobs is a graduate of North Carolina College. A going away party was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilson of Apex, in honor of the departing teacher along with a number of dinner parties given by the patrons of the community. Miss Jacobs will begin her new job on January 5. Members of the faculty presented a fountain pen as a gift to Miss Jacobs.

JERSEY JOE WALCOTT'S greatest fight a young, block-busting Marciano, a fight that will live in the annals of boxing. If Walcott is truly 37 years old, then he is a greater fighter than was 45 year old three times world champion Bob Fitzsimmons who at that latter age, went nine rounds with Australia's Bill Lamb before taking off the mittens for good. Pro football was chock full with the feats of great colored players like Emile Tunnell; Olympian O. J. Matson, "Locomotive" Dan Towler, Bone-crushing "Tug" Younger, Brilliant Joe Perry and scores more — Ray Robinson's stupendous fight against Joey Maxim, 175 pound monarch — Archie Moore's long-awaited chance at the 175 pound title.

Here's one step in sterile filling of ampoules of gamma globulin, the blood fraction which March of Dimes-aided scientists found gives a degree of temporary protection against paralytic polio. Approximately 55,000 children took part in the field trials which established GC as the first substance to counteract polio. Workers here wear goggles, hoods and masks to help maintain sterility and for protection against severe "sunburn" from ultra violet light, which floods the room.

Miss Artis, Geo.
Mitchell, Jr. Wed
In Indiana Nov. 27

RALEIGH — Miss Geo. Artis, daughter of Mrs. Geo. Artis of Raleigh, became the bride of George Mitchell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Mitchell, Raleigh and Cincinnati, Nov. 27, in the Saint Augustine's Catholic Church, South Road, First Father Vincent Fillmore officiated.

SATCHEL (Jersey) PAIGE, still running like poet Alfred Lord Tennyson's "Brook" — Miss Fugate, Olympian; Andy Standfield, Olympian; the renaissance of Duke, Mike Easter and brilliant Larry Doby; — Dallas Texas' first year pitcher who won the "Crackers" — his heart, "Fitch" Hoskins, John Davis, still the strongest man alive. Althea Gibson in tennis and hundreds more that we wear about. It is not so much to rehash them all again just for story purposes, rather that — WE SHOULD NOT FORGET THEM.
