FORMER ROCKY MOUNT PASTOR DIES IN VIRGINIA

ROCKY MOUNT—Word was received here of the death of the Reverend Felix Fustus Bryan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here for about seven years, and the family made many friends during that time.

SERVED HERE SEVEN YEARS

The Reverend Mr. Bryan was pastor of the Mt. Pleasant Presbyterian Church here for about seven years, and the family made many friends during that time.

JOHNSON, SPEAKER

In compliance with a long-standing agreement between two sister churches—the Rev. J. P. Johnson, of Salisbury, and the deceased Johnson—was scheduled to preach the funeral. It was agreed that the survivor should preach the other's funeral, according to Mrs. Johnson's wish.

Among the ministers taking part in the local memorial tributes were Revs. W. C. Anderson, C. B. Densbury, W. H. McNamee, A. Henderson, C. H. Thomas and P. C. Shirley. Caraway Synod secretary. Besides the widow, five children survive. They are: Felicia Osaka Bryan, Euranis R. Orr Bryan, Addie Celestine Bryan, Sara Olivia Bryan and Jesse Alexander Bryan. His mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Bryan, resides at Lumberton. Surviving brothers and sisters are: Mrs. Olivia B. Burchette, Win. G. Bryan, Newport News, Mrs. Atlanta B. Lewis, Mrs. Lenora B. Freeman and Miss Celestine Bryan, also of Lumberton. A niece and nephew are Sara Elaine Ross and Douglas Lewis of Cuero, Texas. Rev. Bryan had just received his 25-year pin for service to the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Often major Washington actions are triggered by a circumstance obscure to the public.

Thus, recent request of major airlines could set off probe.

Major airlines have applied to CAB, the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to reduce commissions paid thousands of independent travel agencies.

In fact, major airlines are going even further.

Fully staffed ticket offices are opening in many communities so small they do not even support a medium-sized department store. In smaller towns they are trying to sell tickets through traveling ticket trucks.

CAB has in the past taken many steps to block independent airlines from competing with the majors, who they apparently feel it will be a routine matter to secure approval for the plan to cut down the independent travel agent. Yet, the issue, from the airlines' standpoint, is so petty, it may be the straw that breaks the camel's back.

There are many in Washington, in and out of Congress, who have long asked, "Just how good is the business management of the major airlines?"

It is based on several factors.

For example, despite the fact that the major airlines receive millions from the U. S. Treasury as a mail subsidy, in practically every major U. S. city plush airline facilities occupy highest valued property.

For this service, the travel agent receives a 5% commission. Thus, on a cross country trip, the average commission to the agent for all his services is only $4.95. But now the major airlines want to cut this to $1.50.

Many in Washington feel major airlines represent monopoly practice in the highest degree. Competition is restricted by a government bureau and they enjoy heavy subsidies. And now, to keep from paying 5% commission on tickets, the major airlines are willing to spend several times that amount to operate ticket sales facilities in small communities.

GARDEN TIME

ROBERT SCHMIDT
N. C. STATE COLLEGE

August is the month to plant many of our cool season crops for the fall garden. In the extreme eastern portion of the state, even such crops as iris potatoes and tomatoes (plants) may still be planted for a late fall crop with a fair chance of having something to eat. In other sections of the state it would be too late for them.

By D. W. Headen — P. O. Box 55 — Goldston, North Carolina

QUESTIONS

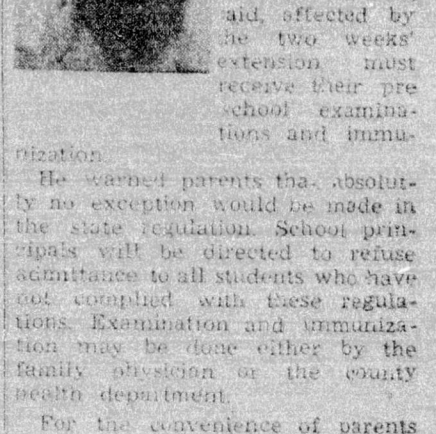

QUESTIONS: Will stacked pulpwood tend to increase the number of beetles in pine standing timber? ... ANSWER: In the same general area with standing timber may afford a breeding place for beetles. These insects could do considerable damage to your standing timber. Best bet would be to get the stacked pulpwood out of the timber stand.

PITTSBORO

PITTSBORO—J. S. Waters, Sr., superintendent of Chatham County school, pointed out last week that many parents of children entering school for the first time this September have not as yet complied with the state law which requires immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough, and measles.

QUESTIONS

QUESTIONS: How can I get rid of a weed in my lawn that has prickly spines? ... ANSWER: What you speak of is probably soliva sessilis, a weed that blooms early in the spring and later develops spines or thorns that become uncomfortable to bare feet. Applications of 2, 4-D at the rate of three-quarters pound per acre during the early blooming stage should control the pest.

George Fleming Writes FROM HENDERSON

Home coming at the New Bethel Church proved to be a great success on last Sunday. Rev. Olan Hinks, the pastor, preached the morning service. The afternoon service consisted of a sermon by Rev. J. M. Burnett and music was furnished by several out-of-town groups.

Mr. Harry Lewis, who is serving Miss Nakoma Lewis of Baltimore, were home during the past week. They also attended the Homecoming services at the New Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Poll, Mr. Emanuel Coland, Mr. Burroughs, Miss Helen Eleyer and Rev. Roosevelt Alston and his bride, have returned from Columbus, Ohio, where they attended the Youth Conference.
