WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PITCHER?

Author, Shakespeare has not yet noticed that Brooklyn Dodgers ace southpaw, Pee Wee Rees, is removing his watch from the right wrist. But this is only because the watch is left-handed, too — normally designed by the Illinois Watch Company. Like all left-handers, Rees has had difficulty wearing a conventional watch. The unique fitting watch eliminates the difficulty because the winding stem is located at a 12 o'clock rather than the usual 3 o'clock.

Knowledge is Power

1. ARE TWINS TWICE AS MUCH WORK? 2. IS SLEEPWALKING DANGEROUS? 3. CAN YOU SPEAK TO A DOG? (1) Most mothers agree that the actual physical care amounts to about one and a half as much as a single baby requires. It isn't much more work to bathe an extra baby, once the equipment is assembled. The added time it takes to feed and change two is compensated for by the fact that they cure, says Dr. M. N. Pai of Dartford, England, after studying 117 sleepwalkers. These children sleepwalk to satisfy their desire to climb into bed with mother or father. (2) That depends on your tone of voice and the action which accompanies the words. Ramona Albert's book, 'Living Your Dog's Life,' gives you the facts about dogs and the methods of training which they understand. A pleading voice only confuses a dog, she points out. It leaves him to make his own decisions instead of giving him an order. To teach a dog anything you must be able both to be on the same side, sleepwalkers should consult a doctor. Most children who sleepwalk are inno-
