

Mrs. W. S. Nelson Keynotes Woman's Day Program Here

RALEIGH — The Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Ambrose Church presented its sixth annual Woman's Day program in the auditorium of Crook-Garfield School Sunday afternoon, November 1.

After the professional program, O. Z. Haze, Miss Mary L. Phillips, read a short missionary service entitled "One Family In Christ."

The featured speaker for the occasion, Mrs. William Street Nelson, stressed that it was the duty of every member of a former president of the church to govern by the memory of Dr. Margaret Adams, the author of those commandments.

Chavis Heights News

By Mrs. Mae Broadie

RALEIGH — Mrs. Lydia Smith and daughter, Linda Flynn, were invited into Mrs. Broadie's home on the west recently. Both received many telephone calls from relatives. She was the close friend of Mr. and Mrs. Tony and Mrs. May Broadie, as they were on their vacation in Florida.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Spain and son, William Jr., of 324 E. Hargett Street were out of the city over the weekend visiting Mrs. Spain's brother in Lillington, N. C., who has been very ill.

The many friends of Mrs. Estelle Kessickville of 614 S. West Street are sorry to hear that she is a patient at St. Agnes Hospital.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Jesus is near at all times. When we hear so much exciting news in these days, we must feel his presence. Mrs. May Moran Kelly, vocal music teacher here, was the guest organist at the Woman's Day Services held Sunday, November 1. Mrs. Kelly is a member of the American Guild of Organists.

FEWER FARM FOLKS

...but more farm telephones

Since the end of World War II, rural telephone construction has surged ahead at a record-breaking pace. Today over half a million rural phones are served by Southern Bell, and new ones are going in at the rate of 6,500 a month.

This record of rural progress is even more amazing when you consider that the South's farm population has actually decreased, largely due to mechanized and more efficient farming methods.

But farmers need and use the telephone more than ever before. That's why providing them more and better service is one of our most important jobs.

SCRIBBLING

With everybody settled in nicely for the school year, I am hoping some brilliant student or educated professor can answer some of the questions my son has posed. (1) Do girls have teeth? 2) Do ants feel ever when they bite? (A lot of people don't either.) So far the only question I have been able to answer was: "There are 200 to 300 million ants in the country."

Speaking of ants, as a student and Shaw student's easiest enemy, nobody's across during my student days:

I think that I shall never see
A nude dumb as a Ph.D.
A Ph.D. who worked for years
To get some brains between his ears.

Who may this semester rule?

A flock of students out of school. Poems are made by tools like me. But bigger tools make a Ph.D.

I must admit that I was a little bitter because my professors expected me to study AND attend classes.

FAINT WORTH IT

The other day I ran into a man who has hated me for a long, long time because I was rather rough on him at a fraternity initiation. All of these years he has been poisoning himself with hate while I had forgotten the initiation and even his name. Tsk, tsk.

TIS WORTH IT

More profitable and less wearing than hate are the ingredients in this recipe from an old cook-book:

1/2 cup of friendship

Add a cup of thoughtfulness

Cream together with a

Pinch of powdered tenderness

Very lightly beaten

In a bowl of loyalty

With a cup of faith, one of hope

And one of charity.

Be sure to add a spoonful each

Of gaiety that sings

And also the ability to laugh

At little things.

Of heartfelt sympathy.

Moisten with the sudden tears

Bake in a god-natured pan

And serve repeatedly.

This should turn out a nourishing dish of life.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

It isn't always easy to keep your spirits up. Sometimes you have to get under and push.

As late as the 1930's, the South Carolina legislature voted against Jim Crow laws on streets.

When the University of Arkansas first opened Negroes were admitted without prejudice. But the colored students withdrew because the white students made "too much noise". So they got a segregated school at Alcorn.

The best way to keep out of financial difficulties is to adjust your gross habits to your net income.

A dime still goes a long, long way. You can carry it around for months before you see anything it will buy.

If you bend over backwards in dealing with your enemies it makes it much harder for them to kick you in the pants.

Some years ago a shabby, down-at-the-heels young man walked into the manager's office in one of Raleigh's theaters. He went up to the desk and asked, "Do you run this joint? If you do, I want a job."

Somewhat taken aback, the manager said, "That certainly is not the way to apply for a job. Suppose you go clean up and then come back to me correctly?" About an hour later the young man returned looking as spry as a bear-trap.

Walking up to the manager, he asked politely, "Sir, are you the manager of this moron picture palace — this costly cinema castle?"

The manager leaned, "Ah, yes, that is so much better than come back to me correctly." Now what can I do for you?"

"You can go to the devil," replied the other, "I got a job across the street."

For the sick, the weary, the tortured and the frightened the verse for this week is offered:

"You can go to the devil," replied the other, "I got a job across the street."

they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint. — Isaiah 40:31

White charges, in a statement made before Raleigh attorneys Herman L. Taylor and Samuel S. Mitchell, that on August 28, 1948, he took a civil service examination for the position of rural carrier. Under date of February 14, 1949, he received notice that his rating was "eligible." This notice further indicated that at the time the same was sent his name appeared as number one on the register.

He says that he has never been considered for the post for which he took the aforesaid examination, although he personally knows that since taking the test, two rural white carriers, whose rating was below his, have been engaged by the Post Office authorities in Clinton.

An investigation is being requested to determine whether any legal action is possible.

Noah Monk Here

For the sick, the weary, the tortured and the frightened the verse for this week is offered:
