GLOBAL JOTTINGS

BY Lou LuTour

NEW YORK (GLOBAL) — One of the most unique affairs we have seen scheduled is the "Dessert Supper" honoring the West Indies Day Association and its President, Mrs. Jessie Wadell at the Ruppert Knickerbocker Tap Room, 3rd Avenue and 91st Street, with Willie and Ray doing the broadcast over WHOM right from the tap room. The date is February 17—Wednesday—at 8:00 p. m. Harlem Hospital School of Nursing Capping Exercises Friday evening, February 19 at Rendall Memorial Church.

St. Louis, Missouri beauticians are making rapid progress under the leadership of Louise Reeves who really knows organization work from A to Z. Her Midwestern Region Conference is tops and the participation is 100 per cent as far as the membership is concerned. That Chicago Film Company is fortunate to be getting a good president in Billy Rowe, because of his experience in so many fields as a journalist and public official. Best wishes to Billy in his new position.

Bernice Wiggins joined the Global group last week, and her secretarial skill will be an important factor at release time. Incidentally, her son, Edward Gibson, who finished Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Mo. last summer, is teaching here in New York. Brookly Zetas are preparing for their "Einer Woman-hood" Service on Sunday, February 21 with Ethylene Lamos as chairman. Her's hoping Anna Arnold Hedgeman accepts their invitation to address the group. She is a dynamic speaker.

Mrs. William E. King, Founder of the National Junior League, is sending out letters for the July Executive Board Meeting which will be held in Chicago, Ill. The purposes, program, and accomplishments of the organization will be fully discussed. Our own Lou LuTour is Regional Director in the Eastern area, so we'll be getting first-hand information about the organization right along.

Nice to have such a full mail pouch. Keep the letters coming!

Local Church Presents Indian Speaker Here

Davie Street Presbyterian Church presented the Rev. John R. Cole, Principal of the Farrukhabad Boys' Christian High School, in Farrukhabad, India recently. Mr. Cole stated that as one goes into India he finds many experiences. They are far different from the United States. You see, hear, an taste different things. For examples, one may see ox-carts or elephants coming down the street. Women's costumes differ from cottons to silks. Someone similar to U. S. dress and some are not. The loose fitting smock like shirts or pajamas, (as they are called there) are very popular. Remember that the word "pajama" is an Indian word. New songs are heard there. The bells of the temple or elephants bells are heard. The screech of the oxcart is a popular sound. There are about 100 different dialects with about 12 major languages. They like to taste different foods. Milk chocolate is rare also chocolate candy and they are very fond of chocolate. Candy is usually their dessert. It is usually covered with silver foil. Have you ever eaten any silver? Well, if you would go to India, you would eat silver foil on candy.

India gained independence from Great Britain in 1947. They are experiencing self rule — a new spirit of nationalism. Their National Anthem is always played at the end of a film. The film industry is very important in India. It rates as second largest in the world. The church is facing new responsibilities such as teaching etc. Over 80 per cent of the people of India can't read or write. The Government is doing all that it can to increase the number of schools. The Churches are striving to help in the field of education. "Each One Teach One" is the theme of the illiteracy team. Much emphasis is being placed on helping to train leaders for India. One-fourth of the children in India die from child birth. The people of India look upon child birth as something unsanitary. Women are kept in very unsanitary conditions. Candy is openly sold unwrapped. Much needs to be done to teach medical care. One method that is being used is through Audio-Visual Aids. Another method used to combat such ignorance is "India Priority" — which is giving more than your benevolence. This year part

Noted Singer In College Concert February 22

SALISBURY — William Warfield, called the "greatest baritone of our time", star of concert, Broadway shows, movies records. Opera, radio and television, will appear at Livingstone College, Monday, February 22. Less than four years ago (March 19, 1950 to keep the record straight), virtually unknown, Warfield stepped onto the stage of New York's Town Hall. The scene of many musical triumphs and heart-breaks, and in course of one of the most difficult programs ever attempted by a concert artist, revealed himself as one of the greatest artists of his time, with a sumptuous voice of extraordinary range; and artistry that was of equal range compassing almost every vocal style; and a powerful physique and majestic bearing to match. "He had better be a god" wrote Newsweek's astute music critic, Emily Coleman. The program Warfield had chosen to sing was unusual and challenging, ranging from Perotin (thirteen century) through Schubert and Karl Loewe to Faure's "La Bonne Chanson" and winding up with such contemporaries as Paul Bowles and Ernest Bacon. To handle this large order, the critics thought, Warfield had better be good. "He was and everyone in Town Hall knew it from the first few bars the powerfully built baritone sang. He was equally at home in his own race's spirituals or in Latin. His German was right, and so was his French. He sang with delicacy and finesse and with gusto and power." Since then William Warfield has played on Broadway ("Set My People Free", Dorothy Heyward; in the movies (MGM's version of "Show Boat", in which he sang "Ol' Man River"); on television, NBC-TVX "Toast of the Town", Ed Sullivan; "Calvaede of Stars", "Concert Hall"; and Eddie Cantor's "Colgate Comedy Hour"; and made two world tours.
