5 ways to save a dime on your electric bill

- 1 Shut off your refrigerator for a week. (Your food will spoil but you'll save ten cents' worth of electricity this way.)
2 Miss 20 of your favorite half-hour television programs. (You'll miss seven evenings of pleasant entertainment but you'll save ten cents' worth of electricity.)
3 Don't iron Dad's shirts for a month. (He'll be unhappy about the wrinkles but you'll save ten cents on 25 shirts.)
4 Hand-scrub 30 tubs of laundry. (Your clothes will be dingy and your back will ache but you'll save ten cents' worth of electricity.)
5 Don't let Dad use the lamp by his easy chair for a couple of weeks. (You can buy him a candle with the ten cents you save on the cost of burning a 100-watt bulb for 30 full hours.)

When you compare convenience with cost, don't you agree that the pennies you spend for electricity give you more for your money than anything in your budget?
