

School Of Pharmacy Accredited

TALLAHASSEE—The school of pharmacy at Florida A and M University has been placed on the list of accredited colleges of the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education. This was announced last week by university President George W. Gore, Jr.

The action followed approval of the school of pharmacy as a "Class A" college by the Council.

Accreditation of the school of pharmacy means that graduates may be eligible to take the Board of Pharmacy examination for licensure to practice in any state in the country. Prior to accreditation graduates of the school were eligible by law to take the Florida Board of Pharmacy examination, but were allowed to take the examination in other states only at the discretion of the Boards concerned.

Howard McClain, acting dean of the school said: "While the foregoing is the most important consideration for students, there are several other favorable factors involved. The school will now be a full member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy with the same responsibilities and privileges of its other seventy-four (74) members."

Daughter Of Howard President Weds Son Of Late Bennett Head

By Alice A. Dunnigan
WASHINGTON (ANP) — The marriage of Miss Ann Faith Johnson, the youngest daughter of President and Mrs. Mordecai W. Johnson of Howard University, to Frank Sidney Jones, the youngest son of Mrs. David D. Jones of Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., was one of the most beautiful affairs of the season.

The wedding took place in the Howard Chapel, Saturday, with Dean William Stewart Nelson officiating. The ceremony was marked by simple dignity, charm and grace. Things moved with inevitable ease that comes from careful and precise planning.

The bride was radiantly beautiful in a white lace gown with a chapel train, worn over very pale pink. Her nylon net fingertip veil was held in place with a hale of lace and seeded pearls. And she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Carolyn Graves, sister of the bride, wore pale pink with pink elbow gloves and satin shoes. She wore a coral wreath about her head and carried a matching bouquet.

The bridesmaids wore identical pink satin dresses with matching accessories. Their only head dress was a wreath of pink carnations against a background of blue net. They all carried matching bouquets of pink carnations nesting in a bed of blue net. The two flower girls, nieces of the bride were lovely in their pink-outfits.

The bride's mother wore pink lace with matching gloves and shoes, and a wide pink hat trimmed in a wreath of lush summer flowers. The groom's mother chose navy chiffon with a wide white hat completely emorged in white net.

The handsome groom, as well as the other male members of the bridal party, were graceful and dignified in their full dress attire.

The entire bridal party was a blend of the childhood, adolescents and young adulthood of the bride and groom. The bride's maids were Miss Alberta Bean of Boston; Mrs. Shirley Greenberg, Boston; Miss Annie Katherine Johnston, Washington; and Miss Barbara Kay Waller, Staunton, Va. The best man was Paul Jones, brother of the groom. Ushers were Dr. George C. Siskins, Jr., Greensboro, N. C., Dr. Oscar S. DePriest, III, Chicago, John Lynch, New York; and William H. Johnson

Though Stricken With Polio, Determined Man, 24, Gets A Diploma At Trade School

WASHINGTON (ANP) — A 24-year-old polio victim who had never been to public school was just about the happiest man in the world last week when he received a trade school diploma in ceremonies at the Cardozo High School. He now has just one remaining wish—"to finish high school."

Ollie Jackson's case began four years ago when the District Department of Vocational Rehabilitation took an interest in him, after he had left Charlottesville, Va. to come here to live with a sister.

The department began immediate work on restoring Jackson's physical faculties through District General Hospital and within a year he was using braces, where before he had been confined to a wheel chair since the age of seven.

"He is out of the wheel chair."

some of his counselors report, "and can even manage to climb some stairs."

During his rehabilitation he began receiving lessons in the three "R's" from Mrs. Pearl Williams, supervisor of the visiting instruction corps system.

His response to both physical treatment and education was so rapid that he went on to new fields and began to master the upholstery trade at Goodwill Industries and he enrolled in night school.

Ollie is now a qualified upholsterer, but has decided to stay for a little while longer at Goodwill. "I want to continue in school and finish high school," says Ollie.

Subscribe Today!!

U.S. MAIL

He's paid to do your footwork...

BANK-BY-MAIL

SAFE CONVENIENT

FIRST-CITIZENS BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

DANIEL WEBSTER STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

86 PROOF

245 PINT

7 YEARS OLD

DANIEL WEBSTER

Bottled By J.A. DOUGHERTY'S SONS, Inc. Distillers Philadelphia, Pa.

MEDICAL SOCIETY HOLDS 60th ANNUAL MEET

The 60th annual convention of the Old North State Medical Pharmaceutical Society held in Charlotte recently was one of the liveliest in its long history. At upper left, Dr. J. W. V. Cordie, left, Durham, receives the "Doctor of the Year" plaque for his outstanding contributions to the practice of medicine and long years of service with the Society. Making the presentation is Dr. York D. Garrett, Durham, president of the National Pharmaceutical Society and looking on from center are: Dr. Clyde W. Donnell, Durham, who read the citation and Dr. R. M. Wyche, Charlotte, retiring president of the organization. National figures, officers of the National Medical Association, were on hand for the meet, upper left. They are from left to right: Dr. Murray B. Davis, High Point, secretary of the House of Delegates; Dr. A. C. Terrance, Opelousas, La., president and Dr. E. E. Toney, Oxford, member of the Board of Trustees. At bottom left, top officials check details at one of the business sessions. They are from left to right: Dr. M. D. Quigless, Tarboro, president-elect; Dr. E. R. Swift, Durham, president and Dr. W. T. Armstrong, Rocky Mount, secretary-treasurer. At bottom right, principals at the Women's Auxiliary meet held in conjunction with the medics are, from left to right: Dr. Marguerite Cartwright, New York, professor of Education at Hunter College, who delivered the keynote address; Mrs. F. E. Davis, Greensboro, president and Mrs. W. C. Shanks, Burlington, president-elect, both, officers of the Auxiliary.

it costs no more to have the best!

only Aluxalum aluminum awnings

Provides PERMANENT FINISH VENTILATION GLASS FREE HALO LIGHT YEAR ROUND WEATHER PROTECTION

For FREE Estimate without obligation CALL 4-2694

TAR HEEL WINDOW CO.

700 GLENWOOD RALEIGH, N. C.

POSNER'S

WORLD'S FASTEST SELLING HAIR STRAIGHTENER and BLACK RINSE

SOLD AT ALL DRUG STORES used by all good barber shops

ASK FOR IT BY NAME — TODAY!

Prepare your hair properly for straightening ASK FOR PRE-STRATE

REMODELING

Add a Den, Bedroom Or Bath to Your Home!

Call Us For Any Job

We build New Homes; and Repair and Modernize Old Ones

Large or Small Residential or Commercial Property

ACME REALTY CO.

129 E. Hargett St., Raleigh PHONE 2-0956

Morgan 'Prof' Will Present Wilder's Play

BALTIMORE, MD. — Thornton Wilder's "The Ides of March" will be aired for Haitian audiences late this summer by Morgan State College's Richard A. Long, assistant professor of English and scholar in the humanities.

Mr. Long will give a dramatic reading of the Wilder play during the first week in September at the Theatre aux Flamboyants of the poet, Mousseau-Leroy, located in Port-au-Prince, Haiti. This will be the first such performance of the work in English and also the first in the Western Hemisphere.

The Morgan professor will leave here for his second consecutive Haitian summer July 5, spending four days each in Cuba and Jamaica and arriving in Haiti July 13 for a two-month visit.

In addition to producing "The Ides of March," Mr. Long will also edit "The Arts in Haiti Today," a report based on the symposium on Haiti held at Morgan May 4-9. He will also collaborate with Dr. Naomi Garrett, professor at West Virginia State College, in translating Haitian poetry.

Mr. Long is a graduate of Temple University, has done work toward the doctoral degree at the University of Pennsylvania and has studied at Oxford University (England) and at the University of Paris.

Bid To Parade Turns Down Klan

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (ANP) — Permission for the Industrial City Knights of the Ku Klux Klan to hold a parade and cross-burning ceremony was turned down last week by the Fairfield City Council after a delegation of Klanners filed a request for the permit.

The racist group wanted to hold the parade in Fairfield's business district about 6:30 or 7:00 p.m., July 6.

In denying the request, the KKK was notified that it is the Council's policy to confine permits for parades to civic organizations of the city.

Special!

New NORGE 10 cu. ft. Refrigerator

BRAND NEW FOR $6

ONLY $199.95

GIVES YOU MORE FEATURES—MORE VALUE PER CU. FT. THAN ANY OTHER COMPARABLE SIZE REFRIGERATOR!

- Giant 55 lb. Frozen Food Storage Cross-Top Freezer Chest stores 42 lbs. of frozen foods; chill tray provides additional 13 pound storage capacity
- New Handider Storage is double-deep, with special storage for fruit, jars, tall quart bottles
- Removable Butter Bank holds a full pound of butter
- Egg Nest stores eggs in a removable plastic cradle-carton
- Giant Crisper is equipped with glass shelf cover

LOADED WITH EXTRAS Model DI-10

TRADE AND SAVE NOW AT...

ONE YEAR FREE SERVICE

$10 DOWN — 2 Yrs. To Pay

TIRE SALES & SERVICE

THE GOOD YEAR PLACE

401 Hillsboro Dial 2-7571

HILL AND HILL

90 PROOF

KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

2.45 LVI | $3.85 4-5 QT.

THE HILL AND HILL CO., LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY