Strawberry Patisserie Americana

It's strawberry time. Deluged with cream... drowning a shortcake... filling a pie. They're a fruit no one can resist. And because they're so beautiful, Crisco Kitchens suggests using them in a dessert that capitalizes on their luscious color as well as their wonderful flavor. They call the recipe Patisserie Americana because the idea was borrowed from France where large open face fruit tarts are a favorite dessert. But it's made in the true Americana fashion using pure vegetable shortening in the crust to insure flakiness. A Crisco crust is foolproof, doesn't need delicate handling. Work the dough with your hands, roll it... the crust will be tender and flaky every time. Here's the recipe for this dessert that combines French flair with American simplicity.

STRAWBERRY PATISSERIE AMERICANA
(Pastry for 1 8-inch crust)

1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup Crisco
 1 egg yolk
 2 tablespoons water

Combine flour, sugar and salt in mixing bowl. Cut in Crisco with pastry blender or two knives until mixture is uniform and very fine. Add water to egg yolk and beat lightly with fork. Sprinkle over Crisco mixture a tablespoon at a time, tossing lightly with a fork. When the dough begins to hold together, shape it into a ball and knead it with your hands. Don't be afraid of overworking. Place in refrigerator for one hour. Roll to 1/4 inch thickness on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Line pie plate and cut 1/2 inch beyond edge of plate. Turn edges under and flute with fingers or fork. Roll left over pastry and cut five-pointed star. Bake in 425°F. oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until delicately browned.

Cool. Fill with apricot pudding mix and garnish with strawberries, seedless white grapes and blueberries—fresh or frozen.

ETW GRADUATES
 Rocky Mount—The local E. T. Washington High School graduates class consisted of 47 boys and 56 girls whose class motto was "Without Wisdom, Knowledge Fails." Three of the total—2 girls and one boy—will receive their diplomas at the close of the summer school session in July.

Principal R. D. Armstrong and school board members Dr. J. W. Parker, Jr., handed diplomas to every one hundred eager seniors following a forceful address by Dr. W. A. Lowe, history professor, Maryland State College, Princess Ann, Md.

"KNOW YOUR BIRTHRIGHT"
 Dr. Lowe's advice to the graduates was to "Know Your Birthright" and then exercise it in all pursuits of life. Lowe said, "If we, as Americans, ment more (Honor thy father would use the fifth amendment) because we wouldn't and mother, etc.) we would not have anything to be ashamed of."

The Negro has earnestly hoped that, some day, somehow, the gap between what we preach and what we practice would be eliminated—and we become a real democracy," the former A. and T. College instructor declared, adding, "The people who deny to other Americans their God-given birthright are the real enemies to American—even more so than communists."

A native of Missouri, (the show me state) Lowe warned the class that they must be able to produce something before the world would respect them with open arms. "You must be able to fight for democracy—at home and abroad," the speaker said, concluding, "Don't throw away your birthright. Know it, love it, defend it."

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
 And without faith it is impossible to please Him. For whoever would draw near to God must believe that He exists, and that He rewards those who seek Him.—(Hebrews 11, 6.)

Even those of us who begin with but little faith are sometimes rewarded by a sudden demonstration of God's love and of His existence. It is an unforgettable experience, which fills us completely with such wonderful warmth and light as can only come from the Holy Spirit.

KINSTON—For the children in this area summer really came Wed. when the pool was opened for the summer months. The day was cool and cloudy—far from a typical day for cooling, but the kids went anyway. I observed one boy on his way to the pool gashed in a sweater—it was just that cool. There hasn't been a warm day since the pool opened.

Public city schools closed this week and Bible school begins next week at some of our local churches. The attendance usually is very good and the sessions are about three hours in length, Mon. thru Fri., from five to ten days. The children love it, they never get tired of school. Most of all they enjoy the closing day program and refreshments.

Life becomes fairly dull without diversions. A change can mean different things to different people. For city folk—a trip to the country or beach. For country folk—a day in the city. Week-ends the highways are crowded with people going everywhere, just to get away from it all. A different highway, new faces and scenery—this is the spice of life—yet we only enjoy it when we are with people we love.

Tiny tots wore their first cap and gowns last week as they were graduated from kindergarten. A cute sight for sure.

I think a sure sign that you are genuinely liked by someone is for them to be over-anxious to introduce you to their friends.
