PRE-BUILT BRIDGE SPANS AID LOCAL ROAD BUILDERS

Abutments from existing bridges help cut costs with new precast spans,

EDITOR'S NOTE: A previous article in this series described the major role assigned to precast concrete bridge spans in the National Highway Program. This new type construction also has a strong application in local conditions.

The precast method of bridge building has been embraced by county, township and city highway officials.

Besides saving in cost, use of precast concrete spans helps overcome a shortage of engineering personnel.

Often, street and highway superintendents do not have the drafting departments required tile in their application. At
