Former Economist For H. Truman Praises Public Role In U. S. Budget

DURHAM — One of the nation's leading economists said at North Carolina College last week that "public agitation" had "moderated" the Department of Defense's budget demands.

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, former chief of the Council of Economic Advisers to Ex-President Harry S. Truman, added "the agitation may have also moderated the attitude of the President himself."

He praised the public for expressing concern over budget hikes. Delivering a speech to Dr. T. R. Speiser's Resource Use Education Workshop, the former Truman economist defended the economic policies of his former chief.

Dr. Nourse told the NCC News Bureau, "I think Mr. Truman in his fiscal policies was more conservative than F. D. R. Mr. Truman in my opinion, generally approached fiscal matters in a conservative manner."

The economist attributed high budget demands to jealousies within the Armed Services.

He said he had personal reasons to believe the Russians aren't ahead of the U. S. in the nuclear arms race. Service jealousies, however, prevent the public from getting a clear picture of international atomic developments.

Dr. Nourse added, "If it can be shown that an extreme arms race program is no longer necessary, then administration sources can shift their attention to building a strong welfare program at home."

"In such an event, it would be possible to shift from budget emphasis on destructive considerations to constructive ones, with a moderate amount for the reduction."

At the base of Dr. Nourse's fears about Defense Department influence upon the budget are two opinions: (1) That Russian nuclear developments may not be ahead of U. S. military sources' claim; and (2) That U. S. Peace Negotiator Harold Stassen may be making more progress than is generally recognized in reaching an agreement with the Russians about curtailing production of nuclear weapons.

The former Truman aide praised President Eisenhower's emphasis upon "restraint" and "moderation" for management and labor as effective offsets for the present inflationary trend.

He attributed present cost of living increase partly to situations resulting from the World War II period of "backlog for pent-up demands, forced savings and credit expansion."

In the post war period, he pointed to a succession of year round built-in "regulator" increases for industry and labor in prices and wages.

"The cost of living index has accelerated recently and now continues to increase at something like 5 per cent annually. At our present rate well cut the dollar in half in 25 or 30 years. That's pretty rapid depreciation. If the dollar depreciates 3 per cent yearly, the inducement to save at 3 per cent is cut away," the economist added.

Dr. Nourse's first lecture was "Trends in the American Economy Today." His final talk was "The Place of Economic Education in the Curriculum."

The economist is now Vice Chairman of the Joint Council on Economic Education.

Weekly Church Roundup

By Mrs. May L. Broadie

WEEKLY CHURCH ROUNDUP
By Mrs. May L. Broadie
"Dear God! Thou dost understand us better than we understand ourselves. Despite our ignorance and doubts, Thou lovest us. Thy goodness never faileth. We thank Thee that we can call Thee Father. Help us to live in obedience to Thee though Jesus Christ, our Lord."

Lily of the Valley Church — Sunday morning: Church School at 10:00, supt., Mr. Joseph Williams. Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock. The Senior Choir was in charge of music, under the direction of Mr. Willie Henderson. A large audience enjoyed a very inspiring message, coming from the pastor, Rev. J. H. Graham, from the 15th chapter, 17th verse of St. Luke. "And when he came to himself, He said, 'How many hired servants of my father have bread.'"

Union Baptist Church — Sunday morning worship: Church School at 10:30. Morning worship at 12:00 o'clock noon. The regular pastor, Rev. George Mitchell, brought the message, Communion and Baptism at the evening worship.

Oberlin Baptist Church — Sunday morning worship: Church School at the usual hour with the supt., Mr. Edward Curtis, in charge. Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock. The Senior Choir in charge of music, directed by Mr. Alvin Blount. Organist, Mrs. Lucy Campbell. The pastor, Dr. Grady D. Davis, brought a very sweet message and many friends and visitors were made welcome. The sermon was broadcasted and will be each Sunday morning throughout July.

Martin Street Baptist Church — Morning worship: Church School at the usual hour, 9:30 A. M., supt., Mr. H. C. High, Sr. Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock with the Senior Choir in charge of music, under the direction of Miss Winnie Miniz. A large congregation was present. The pastor, Rev. P. H. Johnson, brought a soul-stirring message from the book of Revelations.

Wilson Temple Methodist Church — Sunday morning worship: Church School opened at 9:45, supt., Mrs. Nannie Morgan. Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock with the Senior Choir in charge of music, under the direction of Miss Nannie Morgan. Organist, Mrs. E. H. Holt. The pastor, Rev. C. L. Gidney, preached a wonderful sermon from the Book of Psalms, "In Whom Do We Put our Trust?"

First Congregational Christian Church — Sunday morning worship: Church School at 9:45, supt., Mr. Sherman Lewis. Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock. The Senior Choir had charge of music, under the direction of Mr. Ernest Massenburg. It was Communion Day. The children's Sermon was followed by the regular Communion Day Sermon.

St. Paul A. M. E. Church: Sunday School opened at the usual hour with Mrs. Hattie Mitchell, superintendent, presiding. Mrs. Geneva Brown, pianist and Miss Jessie Mebane, chorister, led in the singing. The review of the lesson was by Mr. W. A. Rainbow.

The pastor, The Rev. L. S. Penn, brought the morning message. He chose as his text, Psalms 81:2, "When my heart is overwhelmed, lead me to the rock that is higher than I." Subject, "Christ, our shelter and protection." It was a most soul-stirring message. Communion was administered to a large number.

The Senior Choir rendered music with Mrs. Celia Wortham at the organ and Mrs. Henri Stredwick at the piano. The Raleigh District Sunday School convention was held at Apex last week. Delegates from St. Paul were Misses Alice Mann, Barbara Mitchell and Lonnie McClain. The pastor and delegates report a helpful session.

Mrs. Ruth Harvin and daughter, Winnie Ruth of Wilmington are visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Callie Berry of Bart Street. Mrs. Harvin is a former member of St. Paul Church.

Messrs. Andre Rooks and Edwin Kelly of Baltimore, Md. were the weekend guests of Mr. C. C. Lipscombe of 213 E. Cabarrus St. First Baptist Church — Sunday morning worship: Church school at 9:30 A. M., supt., Mr. W. H. Taylor, Sr. Organist, Mrs.

High Pie For High Tea

High and light—and feathery as a cloud—is this luscious Lemon Chiffon Pie. It's a dish any hostess would be proud to serve at her very special tea parties.

Who would guess that this elegant-looking pie is made with a new chiffon pie filling mix? Created by the makers of Jell-O desserts, this mix comes in two flavors, lemon and strawberry, each equally delicious, light and feathery.

This is the lemon chiffon pie filling. We suggest a garnish of twisted lime or lemon slices and sprigs of fresh mint, if available.

Lemon Chiffon Pie
1 package lemon chiffon pie filling mix
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup very cold water
1/2 cup sugar
1 cooled baked 8- or 9-inch pie shell or graham cracker crust
Place mix in a large deep mixing bowl. Add boiling water and mix thoroughly. Add very cold water and beat vigorously with rotary beater or at highest speed of electric mixer until mixture is very foamy—takes about 1 minute. Add sugar and beat until filling stands in peaks—takes 1 to 2 minutes. Pour into pie shell. Chill until set, about 2 hours. Serve plain or garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Note: Store leftover pie in refrigerator covered with an inverted pie pan.

Ruby S. McKinney, Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The Senior Choir had charge of music, under the direction of minister of music, Mrs. E. M. M. Kelly.

Our pastor Dr. O. S. Bullock, is leaving for a two month vacation soon and all members and friends are wishing for him a wonderful vacation.

Prayer by Rev. D. N. Howard. Our pastor introduced to the congregation the supply minister, Rev. J. D. Roberts, who brought a very spiritual message, from the Book of 1st Corinthians, 5th chapter, 8th verse, "Let us keep the Feast." It was a wonderful sermon. At the close of the sermon, Dr. N. H. Harris brought the second message in a very few words as he told the congregation of the fine work Dr. Bullock has accomplished, not only in the hearts and minds of the peoples of the First Baptist Church, but throughout the community, the state, United States and even in foreign countries.
