★ CLUB NEWS and NOTES

Convention of N. C. spoke on the topic "Rising to the Master's Call". She pointed out that "there is an urgent call" and the Master is here now calling women of today to rise in the height of faith to him.

"Christian women who attempt to inspire, instruct and lead the vanguard in this great cause of Christ in this hour of world confusion, disillusionment and doubt must believe that our Master will keep his promise when he says 'I will strengthen the yew, I will help thee and I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness,'" she declared.

She spoke briefly on her experience in Africa and Jerusalem.
Dr. Alston emphasized, "It hasn't always been with women as it is today—for today is truly Woman's Day."

Dr. Alston was introduced by Mrs. Harriet Smith Jones.
Other participants were: Mrs. E. W. Smith, solo; Mrs. Mabel Jordan, scripture; Mrs. Hazel L. Sorrell, solo; and Mrs. Eva G. Sanders, prayer.

JULIE NIXON MEETS HAMP — Vice President, Mrs. Nixon and Julie (their younger daughter, met famed bandleader Lionel Hampton, when they visited the Starlight Room of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York last week—where the champion of the vibes is playing a 1-week engagement. Hamp presented the Nixon girls with a set of his mallets as souvenirs. The Vice President and Mrs.

Nixon enjoyed dancing to Hamp's music as well as the floor show. The Vice President and Hamp are old friends dating back to Mr. Nixon's first campaign for Senator from California. The Hampton Band played for both the Inaugural Balls in 1953 and 1957.

Contain "Slurring References:" Foster Folk Songs Stir Controversy In Fla.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (ANP)—Gov. LeRoy Collins last week accused the nation's major broadcasting and television networks of putting "the Whammy on mammy" because they ban certain slurring references to Negroes in the folk songs of Stephen Foster, folk singer of yesteryears.
The governor has placed a censorship on Foster songs. However, various spokesmen for the networks said they ban only derogatory references to race. Gov. Collins had said that Foster and his melodies of the Southland belong to Florida. "Way Down Upon the Swanee River" is the official state song of Florida.
The ban centers on such words as "darkey, massa, mammy, colored man or of Black Joe."
Regarding their deletion, a spokesman for the American Broadcasting Co. said it has ordered deletion of the word "darkey" in pop songs and that such editing is based on "common understanding" to drop out derogatory references to any race.
The National Broadcasting Co. reported it dropped the word "darkey" and other "offensive and condescending words" as part of its radio and TV standards code.
The Columbia Broadcasting System said merely that it makes changes in "certain songs today as changes in a few years ago."

Nation's Top Home Economists Applaud New 'Hostess' Costume at Fashion Show

Slim, trim and chic were the words to describe lovely young Sylvia Everett as she modeled this sew-it-yourself "hostess" costume before an admiring audience of more than 650 leading home economists attending the recent national convention of the American Home Economics Association in St. Louis. All fashions presented at the show, a feature of the popular pre-convention "brandy brunch", were worn by top Negro models from New York and St. Louis.
This Spanish-inspired matador ensemble, made entirely on a standard home sewing machine, offers dramatic proof of the smart "custom-made" look which the home seamstress can achieve by using inexpensive printed patterns, a bit of imagination and the attachments on her sewing machine.
Combining three different McCall's patterns into a charming "at home" costume, it was made by seamstresses of the Greist Manufacturing Company, world's largest maker of home sewing machine attachments, for easy duplication by fashion-wise young marrieds and career women like Mrs. Everett. The important Spanish designer influence is shown in the tight-fitting slim pants and short bolero of creamy white corduroy, with richly decorated green and gold braid trim in a continuous "doyle" design; the braid "doyle" can readily be applied from any free-hand sketch, by using either the top braider or underbraider on the machine. Perfect Spanish accent appears again in the finely ruffled shirt front, made by using the ruffler on the machine.
Top stylists point out that smart fashions-to-sew like this ensemble are easy and fun to make—and to wear!
