The resolution adopted by the council did not, however, mention the segregation issue as a factor in the closing.

City Councilman Al Stevens said the main reason for keeping the course closed is that the city does not have sufficient funds to operate such a facility.

Stevens also said it is doubtful that the city would lease the property to a private operation as it did with the Gillespie Park Golf Club, Inc.

no way of telling how long it will be before Negroes here realize the power of the ballot. Until this realization comes when Negro men and women here will begin voting like all intelligent persons should vote, the door is likely to be slammed in the face of many of their aspirations and hopes.

MORE THAN DISGRACE: The shambles of old, decaying and rotten buildings, the clutter of junk, debris and refuse, the vast accumulation of wrecked automobiles, machinery and assorted rubbish and refuse that lines the eastern side of the south end of Smithfield Street is not only a disgrace to any city, but constitutes a menace to both the health and safety of all the people who have their homes in this unsightly part of Raleigh.

GHOST TOWN: No doubt you have read and heard about old abandoned towns that all the inhabitants had left. Those towns are usually pictured as far away places where no one lives, the houses are old dilapidated, crumbling shacks and the only visible life is a stray, flea-bitten dog or a mangy cat or two.

There is no question about this housing project being needed here. It may be that the location chosen for it was the best of several offered, but when you go down there now and ask those who are still there why they haven't moved on as the majority of the residents have and they tell you they have no place to move to, you wonder if the authorities who okayed this site for the housing project don't owe a responsibility to these people of finding them another place to live.

CANNOT BE RECONCILED: Recent disclosures about the hefty salary increases granted to several state officials, plus the action of the "Big Business" legislature in giving 20 percent pay raises to members of the Council of State, the raising of the pay of solicitors, judges, teachers, and other state employees, plus the substantial increase given to the law makers themselves, make the refusal by this legislature to allow 90,000 workers in this state a bare minimum of 75c per hour an action that can never be reconciled with common decency and fair play.

OUR BEST WISHES: Odds and Ends extends its best wishes for much success to Mark Ehrbridge, Jr. upon his new venture as a newspaper publisher in West Va.

found the body had been moved. Davidson stood outside the building waiting for them to arrive. He said he had picked up the body in an attempt to help the victim toward the door.

Police learned later that Lonnie Sherrill, 57-year-old man, who lived at the lodge, owned the pistol. Examination of the weapon showed that it would not fire from pulling the trigger. However, the hammer would not catch each time it was pulled back and Davidson said this is what happened when he pointed the gun at Spicer.

Even though everyone felt that the shooting was accidental, there were many who expressed surprise that Davidson was exonerated so quickly. The fact that it was an all-Negro jury was also discussed by townspeople.

Funeral services for the dead man were held from the First Baptist Church. He is survived by his wife and daughter, of the home and many other relatives. Spicer was engaged in the insurance business. He was a member of the Elks Lodge, American Legion and several other social, fraternal and civic organizations.

Each of the 20 letters said that the board "considered numerous factors such as emotional, social and educational factors, the preference for a particular school, the assurance of agreement and accord on the part of both parents with respect to any change in assignment and factors which have a direct bearing on the well-being of a child and his ability to fit into the various situations that school attendance entails."

The school board last month approved the applications of five Negro children to attend private white schools here. This figure was later reduced to four when one of the children moved from the area served by the school to which he was assigned.

"He was unable to produce a driver's license and got real antagonistic," McClelland said. "I told him if he didn't watch his actions I'd take him to jail."

McClelland said Danner, who has a long record of drunken driving and assault and battery arrests here, told him "no white SOB is going to take me anywhere."

"He then showed me to the ground and I drew my pistol," the deputy said.

McClelland said Danner lunged for him and jerked the gun from his hand. He said he regained the gun and shot Danner through the arm.

Police Chief Roy C. Williams reported that soon after the shooting, about 100 Negroes began milling around the scene and that it "looked like trouble." He said county and city law officers had to be called to the scene and that there was "a lot of muzzling among the crowd."

Witnesses said that after a few minor "incidents" the crowd dispersed.

However, Williams reported that a warrant was issued Monday morning for a Negro resident of the area who "tried to stir up a riot." He did not disclose the man's identity.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Woodard. He moved with his parents here at a very early age, where he attended the elementary and high schools. He later attended A.T. College. Upon leaving school he joined his father in the funeral business.

He later finished one of the national embalming schools, opened a business in Durham and remained there until about the beginning of World War II.

Woodard returned to Smithfield after the war and took over the business left by his father. He operated it until about a year ago when he sold it and planned to open again in Durham. When he reached Durham, due to falling health, he did not complete his plans. He went first to Virginia and thence to Washington where his condition grew worse.

He married the former Miss Wilhelmina Roberts, of Durham. To this union was born one son, Paul. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. Sude Woodard and a sister, Mrs. Pauline Borden.

Bishop Plans To Raise Big Sum In Africa

WASHINGTON, D. C.—According to the Ashanti Pioneer, independent newspaper, published in Kumasi, Ghana, Africa, Bishop Daniel Carlton Pope, resident bishop for the A.M.E. Zion Church, will launch a drive to raise $275,000.00 to consolidate the work of the denomination and to expand the missionary activities, September 7.

Bishop Pope made the announcement at a press conference, held at the Accra Community Center. He told the press that it would take that much money to complete the Aggrey Memorial Secondary School, at Cape Coast. The school is named in honor of Dr. J. E. Aggrey, native African, who made such a tremendous contribution to the educational life of both America and Africa.

He related to the fact that the Barclays Bank, D. C. & O. recently made a gift of $50,000.00 to build and equip a building to be used for the teaching of science, at this school and to build a new dormitory at the A.M.E. Zion College, at Anloga. The gift also included the building of a teacher training college and seminary for ministers and missionary workers, in Ghana.

"With this gift we hope to also fulfill our long cherished desire to build clinics and have them attached to our churches," said Bishop Pope. He ended by telling of the contribution made by ministers, missionaries and laymen

ASSAULT FROM THE SKY—Effemmen of the Army's pentomic infantry divisions of 1960 will likely as not enter battle from loop-carrying helicopters like the "Shawnee" shown here. The "choppers" will carry men into combat fresh and can then return with reinforcements and supplies if necessary. After the engagement they are available to carry the soldiers to another part of the battlefield or to rejoin their parent unit.

WERE FOR WORKING WIVES who, when Saturday rolls around, like to forget about work... and have fun! However, we like good food, and we don't choose to deny ourselves that pleasure... so we plan ahead to make Saturday's meals EASY and QUICK. Here's one menu we'd like to share: Meat loaf... mix it the night before and refrigerate; bake it on Saturday while you play Poppy's rolls... wrap in foil and pop into the oven during the last few minutes of baking the meat. A big green salad... wash greens and leave them in crisper during day; add dressing at the last minute. And for a delectable dessert—these maple peaches, that can be baked with the meat loaf, too, and served warm. If you like, pass a pitcher of iced cream to top the fruit.

MAPLE PEACHES (using fresh peaches)
5 whole fresh peaches, peeled 2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup Log Cabin Syrup 1/4 teaspoon mace
1/4 teaspoon salt
Place peaches in greased baking dish. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over peaches. Cover and bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 15 minutes. Uncover and bake 15 minutes longer, basting occasionally. Serve warm. Makes 5 servings.

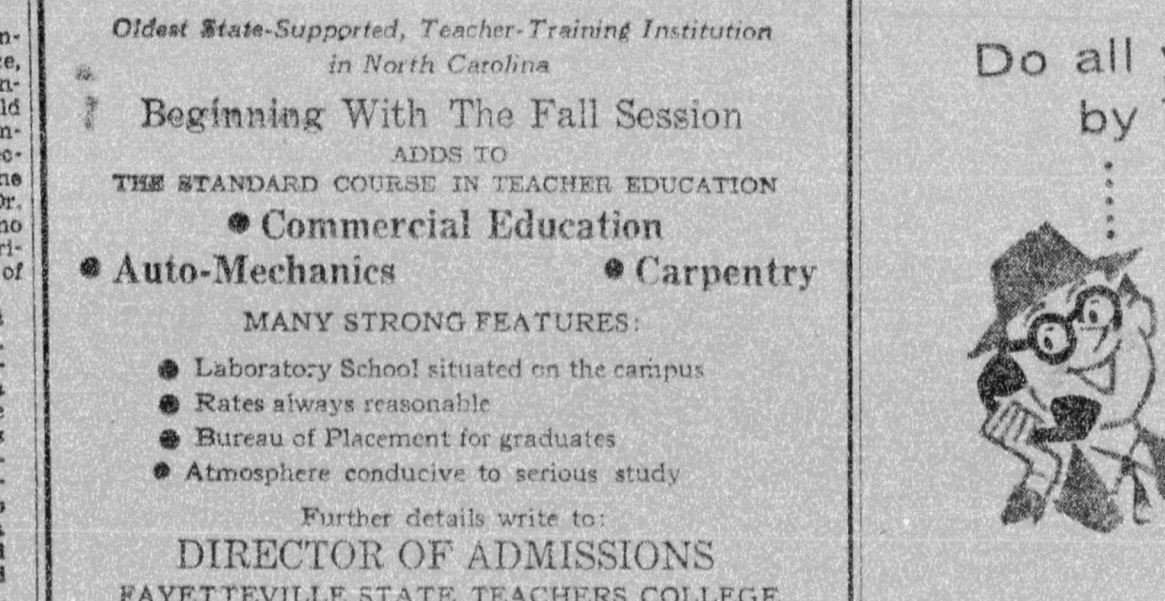

Choose Provincial for Warmth
If it's a warm, friendly feeling you want your home to have, include a piece or two in Provincial styling or finish, say the experts, for this design cannot be cold or stand-offish. You'll find Provincial in all home furnishings today, including accessories, benches, chairs and sofas. You'll find this mellow wood finish, too, on the chard organ, the fun organ that invites good fellowship because anyone can play it almost immediately, and on another popular home organ model, the spinet. In the photograph, a friendly atmosphere is created by hanging framed cross-stitch mottoes like Grandmother had above a chord organ in Provincial finish, using a wood bowl for fruit, an hourglass planter, and a fringed floral pattern area rug with Provincial bench and chair.
