Fayetteville St. Baptist Church

By MRS. E. W. JUDKINS — The Bata was in charge of the program. Our Church School opened at 9:30 a.m. Sunday with Mr. Luther Hunter presiding as Supt. Mrs. L. H. Branches at the organ. The last hymn was "O Lamb of God, I come, Just as I am." Invocation by Rev. L. Deham. Scripture lesson followed by Rev. Salsbury of Shaw University. Followed by the hymn, "What a Friend we have in Jesus." The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Deham, the pastor of the Bethlehem Baptist Church, Wake County. His text was taken from the 12th chapter of Mark and 28th verse and 10th chapter of St. Luke, 24th verse. He used for his subject, "Who is my neighbor?" This message was uplifting to all. Hymn by Mrs. Elise Glenn. Our pastor will be back in his pulpit next Sunday, September 15, after a much-needed vacation. Next Sunday will be observed as Men's Day. The public is invited. Mrs. Carrie Haywood Bible Club held its regularly monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Temple Lindsey.

Mr. and Mrs. King Davis of Mt. Olive Baptist Church of Philadelphia were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cooke 810 South East Street. Mrs. Carrie Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Parker and family were the weekend guests of their father and mother Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas and sister Mrs. Beatrice Grier, 8 Mc-Mackin Street.

Mrs. Ola Perry has returned home to 208 E. Lenox St. from N. Y. where she spent some time with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Duroch Bass, motored to Philadelphia for the holidays with their grandsons, Milton, Wilke and Albert Drayton of Philadelphia.

Fall Edition Of 'Biggest Show Of Stars' Has 15 Attractions; Plays Raleigh Soon

Early this year box office records were broken all over the country by THE BIGGEST SHOW OF STARS FOR '57. And now the new Fall Edition is out with more STAR APPEAL and a promise of even bigger and better entertainment.

Headline The Fall Edition of THE BIGGEST SHOW OF STARS FOR '57 are the nation's top Pop and Rhythm and Blues Recording Artists, including FATS DOMINO and HIS GREAT ORCHESTRA, THE EVERLY BROTHERS, LAVERN BAKER, CLYDE McPHATTER, FRANKIE LYMON.

THE CRICKETS, CHUCK BERRY, PAUL ANKA, JOHNNIE & JOE, THE BOBBETTES, THE DRIFTERS, THE SPANIELS, PAUL WILLIAMS AND HIS BIG ROCK IN ORCHESTRA, AND HAROLD CROMER AS M.C. More than 100 talented artists will appear on stage to present a rhythmic 2-1-2 hours, filled with up-to-the minute hits, played by the stars who are responsible for these hits. Since THE BIGGEST SHOW OF STARS FOR '57 has cornered the market on star attraction, it is with certainty that we say, no other tour show this season will be able to match the quality and quantity of entertainment.

The artists who will appear here are the ones who are making the record store cash registers sing with rapidity. There's Fats Domino who has chalked up more million record sales in the shortest length of time than any other recording artist. Currently Fats' recording of "When I See You" and "What Will I Tell My Heart" are high up on the Pop Hit listings. Newcomers to show business are the Everly Brothers, youngsters who have skyrocketed to fame with their current disc of "Bye-Bye Love."

LaVern Baker is well known to record buyers and show-goers. She's a sensation in person, and the queen of the blues. LaVern's recording of "Humpty Dumpty Heart" is riding high on the hit parade of records.

CLYDE McPHATTER

high on the hit parade of records. Clyde McPhatter, who joins THE BIGGEST SHOW OF STARS FOR '57 after a successful tour of the nation's theatres, promises to add more of his stirring vocalizing such as "Long Lonely Nights."

Then there is 14-year-old Frankie Lyman who will make his first personal appearance as a single with THE BIGGEST SHOW OF STARS FOR '57. Frankie was formerly lead singer with The Teen-Agers, but due to his popularity with audiences and in response to public demand, Frankie is now appearing as a single, and performing his own compositions with a natural born talent hard to believe in one so young.

GARRY MAYS

At the All-Star game in Winston-Salem two weeks ago the Baltimore Elites presented one-arm catcher, Gary Mays, who wore on his breast protector, "Thou shalt not steal," and he meant just that. In the three innings that he caught, he nailed three runners that just didn't believe what they read and saw. . . . But they know now. . . . Mays is a graduate of Armstrong High School in Washington, D. C., and some years ago came south as a featured attraction with Armstrong's basketball team.

"EVEN STEPHEN" GREENE

What's This? Three triple "A" teams were beaten by their smaller Double "A" neighbors last week in their opening games. . . . No matter how you look at it, that's poor publicity. . . . Somebody should be ashamed. . . . Maybe one, maybe two, but never no three. . . . That's like Duke losing to Elon, Carolina to Atlantic Christian and Wake Forest to Lenoir-Rhyne on opening day.

DOUBLE "A" Burlington swamped Triple "A" Reidsville 26-9. . . . Double "A" Lexington bounced Triple "A" High Point 7-0. . . . Double "A" Henderson edged Triple "A" Mary Potter 7-6.

Top value stamp should go to the double "A" teams. . . . watered gas to the bush leaguers.

A letter from Mrs. Tessie Winstead of Roxboro reads: Some people are misunderstood because they mind their own business and get along alright. Why is it that some people go far out of their way to attend to the business of others, and then worry themselves sick if they can't quite nose in on every detail?

Columnist's Note: "I don't know and will never be able to give an answer. Contact the Telegram, a newspaper out of Newark, N. J., commonly known as the "Shadow." It specializes in bringing neighbors down front. It may get a line on the people you have in mind."

Very few men are financially able to successfully operate a baseball team now-a-days. . . . but there still are a few around who are doing a good job, after seeing many owners go to the wall after losing their shirts. . . . of course, Arthur Dove is the premier of them all, for he is the gentleman that brought big league ball to hush-league territory. The Kansas City Monarchs would have never selected Releigh as a playing base "if it don't be for Dove." But, in Winston-Salem, Robt. Blue and W. A. Alexander have been rolling along with the Pond Giants for fifteen years. . . . This year has been a banner year for them. The New Ernie Shore field in the "Camel City" has been a big factor in creating fan enthusiasm in the game, inducing fans to turn out in large numbers. The park has all of the earmarks of a big league stadium. . . . There is no restriction on seating arrangements. . . . no designating race signs. . . . good sandwiches, drink and knack concessions, good clear electric scoreboard, and roomy seats. Blue says that this has been a great season.

Wonder what Church Street High School in Thomasville is doing in football since James Helper stopped coaching? — Don't hear much from them. Morningside in Statesville is set for a great season, but can hear nothing from Herman Some. . . . Hickory remains quiet. . . . so does Costello at Newton. . . . Most schools get good coverage in the local papers, but thirty miles away you don't know they are even there, less more playing.
