SPORTS SCENE

WITH BILL JOHNSON

BETCHA YA DIDN'T KNOW THAT

CHARLOTTE — Twenty-two of the 46 players on the Johnson C. Smith University football roster are natives of the "Old North State." Six are from New Jersey and five are from Virginia. South Carolina and Florida are each represented by three players, and Pennsylvania has two. There

JOHNSON is one Georgian, one Mississippian and one Marylander on the squad. Five players are from Charlotte.

Quarterback Raymond McDougal, who is 25, is the oldest member of the team while Sylvester Cureton, who is battling McDougal for the vital position, is one of the youngest. The Pittsburgh youngster is 17. So are Phillip Dunston, Howard Goode, Richard O'Phorow and Carlos Willis.

Ernie Wade, the freshman find from Pittsburgh, is the biggest man on the team. He is also one of the tallest. Wade is 6-feet-5 and 252 pounds. Thomas McRae, the 200-pound junior end, is also 6'5". McDougal and Claude Diamond, 150 pounds, are the lightweights of the club, but Freshman Robert Dunlap from Winston-Salem at Atkins High is the shortest.

Standing a mere 5 feet, Dunlap is 175 pounds of center.

There are only three seniors on the team which is predominantly freshmen. The Golden Bulls will dress 24 rookies, in addition to 11 sophomores and six juniors. Playing out their fourth year with the team are Quarterback McDougal, Tackle Fab Camp and End James Napper.

The team lists seven ends, seven guards, four centers, seven tackles, five quarterbacks, 8 halfbacks and four fullbacks. It's one of the largest squads in the annals of football at the school.

Six freshmen have won starting positions for Saturday's opener at Lawrenceville, Va., against St. Paul.

Quarterback gets the starting assignment at quarterback, the Bulls will start the season with seven rookies on the first team.

ABOUT THE PREPS
Now that West Charlotte and Second Ward have gotten the sweet taste of victory, it may be safe to assume that they will keep rolling in high gear. The Lions clipped Gastonia Highland, 20-14, for their initial success in four starts this campaign while the Tigers were routing Winston-Salem Cavalier, 14-12, last Friday night.

This week will find both teams playing before the home crowd. Each will celebrate homecoming. West Charlotte is meeting Salisbury prior Thursday and Second Ward hosts Ridsville Booker Washington.

June Mentioned As Likely Date For Basilio-Robinson Rematch

NEW YORK (AP) — A rematch between newly crowned middleweight champion Carmen Basilio and Sugar Ray Robinson, the ex-champion, is very much in demand, but observers believe that it may not be held until June or next year.

That was the prediction of close observers, despite the fact that the contract for last week's match between the two fighters called for a rematch within 90 days. It also calls for a 30-30 split of the gate receipts.

The reason for doubting that the match will be held soon is due to the fact that both Robinson and Basilio are doubtful about their immediate plans, Robinson said shortly after losing his title on a controversial split decision to Basilio "I don't know whether I'll ever fight again."

The picture could change quickly, however, as the return match is expected to gross close to a million dollars, maybe more.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club which sponsored last week's president of the International Boxing Club sponsored last week's 15-round thriller, is anxious to put on the match soon. Likely sites are believed to be either Chicago or Miami.

At Greensboro:

A & T Aggies-Union Panthers In Rivalry Scrap Saturday

GREENSBORO — The football scrap, featuring arch rivals, the A&T Aggies and Virginia Union University, shapes up as a knock down and drag out season opener for Greensboro this Saturday afternoon.

The Richmond Panthers, already mentioned as a team which bears watching in the current CIAA campaign, will enter the game with the best chance of winning in several years. With John Irving, the Lynchburg speedster, several outstanding pass receivers and several other outstanding running backs, the Panthers may and should give the Aggies plenty of trouble. At least that is expected around the Greensboro camp.

For the Aggies, it will be the first home appearance under the new head coach, Bert Piggett, and the record proves that the Aggies are always pretty rough in the initial home contest. They have won the home opener for 8 years in a row.

All week long the Aggies have been sharpening up on new pass patterns with the expected weaknesses in the line have been improved and his team will be in pretty fair shape for the contest.

The game is set for Memorial Stadium beginning promptly at 2:00 p.m.

Elizabeth City Pirates Top FSTC Broncos By 20-7 Score

FAYETTEVILLE — The once-beaten Fayetteville State Teachers College Broncos, fighting desperately to break into the win column in their second start of the season, had to settle for a 20-7 loss when the fast-stepping "Pirate" clan from Elizabeth City cut loose to score in the first, second, and third periods here Saturday evening.

It was a heart-breaker for the homeboys and for Coach "Gus" Gaines who closed his career as director of athletics at the Fayetteville institution. Pirate Coach William Harris charges moved in to take charge early in the first period when, following an exchange of punts, Bronco Charles Knight's short kick landed on the 19 yard stripe. Backs Ramone Rhinehart and Richard Branch picked up five and four yards respectively, and then on a beautifully-executed fake play, Rhinehart, sophomore of Newton, N. C. darted through the center of the line for the game's first TD.

Then in the second frame, when a holding penalty put the ball on the 17 for the Elizabeth City Clan, Frederick Hall, Jr., at the quarterback spot, shot a pass to Thomas Liverman who raced into the end zone standing up, and kicked for the E.P.

The game came to life and pushed over a score when Fayetteville Guard Milton Taylor recovered a Pirate fumble on the 20. On the next play, Jack Ealy trotted 14 yards through the line to register. Fayetteville's lone tally, James Battle made the conversion good.

And to conclude the scoring, Branch took the ball on the 20 and streaked 80 yards down the sideline for another six Pirate markers, and Albert Owens booted the extra point to run the score to a lopsided 20-7.

The final period saw each team blow two fine scoring chances.

The Broncos gave good account of themselves, Charles Johnson at tackle, Coley Little at center, Milton Douglas and James Ebron and Guard Milton Taylor in the backfield were standouts even on the losing end of the fray.

By BILL BROWER

For ANP

If ever a team had a chance to challenge the New York Yankees, 1957 baseball champs, it was the White Sox this season. Obviously, the Chicago South Siders were equipped to do the job.

Perhaps this aside had absolutely nothing to do with the final result, then maybe it did. But we could never understand why Chicago manager Al Lopez kept Doby out of the regular lineup in the final two games with Yankees.

True enough Larry had been in something of a slump in the approaching games. He was actually benched in Boston. But here was an important two-game set that gave Chicago a last — grasp chance to get back into the race.

For reasons best known to himself, Lopez kept Doby on the bench. That was his managerial prerogative, of course. But he did use players like Fred Hatfield, whose fielding had gummed up the works for the White Sox in an earlier series with the Yankees.

If Doby had been in a slump prior to the Yankees series, did Lopez consider the painful fact that Hatfield had been in a slump practically all of his life?

Doby-Lopez relations — good and bad — have been the subject of this column before. The senior from Tampa, Fla., has never seemed overly fond of the star center-fielder.

There was that night Washington, in 1955, when Larry apparently ly pulled a base-running boner (Doby thought he was right) and Lopez dressed him down before the entire team.

Even this year, Doby has been used by Lopez as something of a scapegoat. He attributes Larry's occasional slumps as one of the reasons the White Sox slid back into second place after once leading the American League by six games.

Actually, Doby has not had a bad season. He has hit as many home runs as he did last season, and, naturally, as he did in Cleveland where he had a much cozier ball park than the spacious Comiskey Field in Chicago.

We don't know that it would have made one whit of difference had Doby been played in the showdown series with the Yankees. All the White Sox got was a split, which wasn't good enough for the exigencies of the moment.

Who knows, Doby might have been on a hot streak? This is another rap against Lopez from this department. Anyone who has followed Larry's career closely knows he is subject to whims as a hitter — sometimes he is unstoppable and at other times, he looks pitiful at the plate.

In the last six seasons, Lopez has been his manager five times. He should be aware of the alternately hot-and-cold tendency of the player.

Or hasn't Al learned the facts of baseball life after finishing second five out of six seasons behind the Yankees?

Claim Little Richard Was 'Born To Rock And Roll'

LOS ANGELES — When sensational rock and roll singer Little Richard Penniman hits Australia next week for a two weeks engagement, natives there will get their first look at a personality that is accurately described as "born to make music."

The deeply religious performer is a modern day success story of a young boy who never gave up a dream that he would someday become a headliner, and see kids fighting at stage doors just to get his autograph.

Since shaking the amusement world two years ago with his "Tutti Frutti" record, the Macon, Ga.—born, 24-year-old Richard is a bundle of energy when he's holding the center of a theatre or ballroom stage. At a recent appearance at the Brooklyn Paramount theatre in

New York he shattered all existing records for this 4000 seat house. Waving his arms, jumping atop the piano and reaching over the footlights to shake hands with hysterical teenage fans were all part of his 35-minute act on stage.

At each show it looked as if a presidential campaign was taking place as hundreds of cheering youngsters stood up in their seats and waved their "Little Richard for President" signs about.

Starting as a handyman around a medicine shop that passed through his hometown when he was 14, Little Richard has been on the move ever since. Any place he saw a stage, he would beg the manager to let him mount it and burst forth into song.
