ready ill from contracting an additional sickness which will impede recovery or might even prove fatal.
He assured the public that there is no cause for alarm and that the present situation has been expected for sometime. While the flu-type illness may be acute for a few days, it is usually not serious. However, it is highly contagious and patients must be protected as much as possible.
The incubation period is from one to five days, during which time no symptoms appear but the possibility of transmitting the disease to others is definitely present. Apparently well persons could be carriers without realizing it, he said.
He explained that the hospital does not want flu cases as such patients will do just as well at home. Patients with complications will be admitted to the hospital and isolated from other patients, if at all possible.

Close relatives of critically ill patients are requested to go to the Admitting Office at the hospital where special permission will be granted to visit the patient for a short time.
In addition to ordinary flu cases, physicians are requested not to refer patients suspected of having tuberculosis, mental illness or any patient from another county except in cases of dire emergency.

Township south of Raleigh. The couple now lives with Mrs. Burt. A check for $2,000 was presented to Banks Tuesday to ease the expense of moving the house, built recently at the Fatgrounds. All obstacles have been cleared for moving the structure.

Banks said he looked over the house carefully, jotted down one estimate and later changed it to the one that made him $27,000 richer.
The couple is expected to move into their new home in the near future.

ABORTION BLAMED IN DEATH
FAVETTEVILLE—Coroner Alphonse Clark said last week that a 17-year-old high school student suffered from an infection resulting from a criminal abortion. Clark reported that the unidentified young lady visited Dr. Wesley Allen, a Negro physician here Tuesday night and complained of being ill. The medic told the covener that he advised the young lady to enter a hospital immediately, after he said he found that she was "badly infected" from a crude attempt at abortion. Dr. Allen said the girl told him only that she "went to a woman in Dunn" for the attempted abortion.

CITY HALL VOTE

to three areas: main building, Memorial Auditorium annex and an annex one block from the main structure.
Proponents of a move to erect the New Bern Avenue city hall claim that city should have all of its departments housed in the same building for best efficiency and service to citizens.

ODD & ENDS
this proposal may blossom out before that day. Up to now the only noticeable concern over the proposal has been manifested by the Mayor or who favors the idea and the editor of a Raleigh newspaper who wants no part of it. No constructive leadership of this matter has come from either of these sources. In fact, the useless bickering of these may cause the voters to stay home next Tuesday unless before that time some body comes forth with an intelligent, forthright and factual documentation of all the issues involved.
It is your privilege however to vote on this vital issue. You, as a voter, should have an opinion and you should express it at the polls, whether you are for or against the proposal do not allow somebody else to decide it for you, that is your job to say what is or is not to be.
Frankly, we would like to see city hall stay where it is. That is to say, we would like to have a new and adequate building erected on the present site. If it is to be moved, we would choose New Bern Ave. Unfortunately, the voters will not have the benefit of making a choice next Tuesday. You either vote for or against a bond election to build a new city hall on New Bern Ave. We dare not insult your intelligence by telling you how you should vote but one thing we ask and urge, individually and collectively, to V-O-T-E.

'We Are Surging Ahead,' Maxwell Rabb Tells Body

Maxwell M. Rabb, secretary to President Eisenhower's Cabinet, told Shaw University students Monday that "This is a time of breathtaking advantages. We are surging ahead in America."
The President, he claimed, is doing everything in his power to rectify man's inhumanity to man. He termed this nation as one with a moral conscience, a blessed land of rich resources with freedom of human spirit.
"Today we should think in terms of electrical, civil engineers, business executives, operators and sales clerks. Ten million workers are needed to staff our schools, hospitals and armed forces and we are failing to train skilled workers in the United States. For example, in 1951 there were eight and one-half mil-

Perry is defended by the Negro law firm of Taylor and Mitchell of Raleigh. The NAACP had several local observers here, including C. O. Pearson of Durham, chief NAACP legal counsel in North Carolina.

Perry, who has vigorously denied the charge, posted $4,000 bond for a term of Superior Court starting October 28.

Recorder's Court Judge Emmett Griffin order, a Perry held after hearing testimony of the white woman, Mrs. Lillie Mae Rape, 25. Perry did not testify. Griffin, aware of the intense feeling engendered by activities of pro and anti-segregationists, warned attorneys at the start of the hearing that "it will not be the purpose of this court to ascertain... any organization (Perry) might belong to."
Perry is local vice-president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He claims he has been subjected to a campaign of intimidation because of his NAACP activities.

The children in the care of the children, Charlie Lee Thomas, 21, while the parents picked cotton in a field 15 miles away. Thomas was unhurt.
Parrett said Thomas apparently became confused by the flames which spread quickly from a pine splinter torch one of the children was playing with, and was unable to rescue any of the children.
The victims were identified as Sam, 4; Richard, 3; Henry, 2; Milton, 1; and Gloria Faye, five months old.

TEEN-AGER
Myrtle Avenue where McDonald stopped and plunged the knife into Bellamy's left side just below the heart. The victim was rushed to a local hospital but succumbed in about an hour. McDonald was jailed without privilege of bond.
Bulluck was held as an accessory before the fact (of murder) under $500 bond. Whitehead was held under a like bond as an accessory after the fact since he was reported to have taken the knife from McDonald after the fatal stabbing.
KNIFE-WIELDER BOUND OVER
At a hearing before Juvenile Court Judge R. L. Sides, October 24, McDonald was bound over to the Edgecombe County Superior Court with bond being placed at $1000. Trial (preliminary) was scheduled for October 21, for Bulluck and Whitehead on the accessory charges.

The tragic occurrence is expected to have a sobering effect upon the youth of this community since much concern has been expressed (not shown) because of complaints of alleged misconduct around a teen-age center located three blocks from the school. City leaders say it has been impossible to obtain sufficient adult supervision for the center with some parents forbidding their children frequenting the place.

be given to churches that present to the Carolinian office the largest number of purchase slips or receipts from merchants who advertise each week in the Carolinian.

Church members in the Raleigh and Wake County area are urged to turn in purchase slips or receipts to a Committee, appointed by the pastor. The slips could be turned in every Sunday morning.
The Carolinian wishes to remind church members that each week carries a date in the Bonus Money Period. Purchases eligible for awards must come from the store during the week the advertisement appears.

County, regional and State Fairs are educational as well as entertaining.
