

BENNY GREENFIELD

HOG KILLING TIME IN WAYNE COUNTY

WALTER E. MARTIN (in foreground), of Mt. Olive, won two honors at cattle show held recently in Kinston for raising a championship milk cow, and the other for the best fitted animal and showmanship. The youth also won the state dairy achievement award in 1956. BENNY GREENFIELD, Dudley farmer, who is supplementing his tobacco income with a dairy enterprise.

JUNIOR S. GREENE, of Best Grove Community, has just completed a Forestry Thinning Project under the supervision of Extension Department of Wayne County, State Department of Agriculture.

Young calves need supplemental feed.
Good milking practices can help control mastitis.
A stronger feeder calf market is expected this fall than last.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS

And, behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last. —(St. Luke 13, 30.)

There are always among us the "firsts" in all fields of activity, and it is traditional that we honor their material success and achievement. But, in God's sight, the "firsts" among us may be the meekest, the lowliest, the most humble of people—for they put Him first, and love Him.
