Teachers of Orthopedically Handicapped Children

Typical to the number of crippled children was because of the basis of classification and the degree of the difficulty. The most common crippling conditions are infantile paralysis, cerebral palsy and heart condition.

Other causes which include tuberculosis, osteomyelitis, congenital deformities, accidents, acquired diabetes, and the delicate are often included because of the medical and nursing services they require.

All these children require comprehensive, medically supervised health programs.

In the residential school, the special school, the special class, the hospital school or the home program for these children, the doctor, therapist, teacher and medical social worker form a team to combine their highly technical knowledge and skills to help this large heterogeneous group of children. There are vocational possibilities for these children who have had academic and vocational training.

ing adapted to meet their individual needs.

FOR THE THOUSANDS of hospitalized children, a special education program is also needed. Some of these children spend a long time in the hospital some are there for a short period, but most of them need some sort of educational program in which there are specially trained teachers. Many doctors prescribe school activities as a part of the hospital program, as they realize the importance of the intellectual, social and emotional growth along with physical rehabilitation. The hospital teachers, for example, must see the child as a patient as well as a student. For further information concerning opportunities as a teacher of orthopedically handicapped children, write: International Council for Exceptional Children, Wayne State University, Detroit 1, Michigan.

GOSSIP of the MOVIE LOTS

HARRY LEVETTE for ANP.
HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Special Note Just Arrived from the Sam Goldwyn lot, saying Sidney Poitier is out of the top role of "Porgy and Bess". Will have further details next session but this comes as a big surprise, the producers had been so happy over securing the earnest young artist, they had already begun lauding as one of the greatest in Hollywood. Apparently Poitier and Goldwyn disagreed over the script, and that the producer refused to make any changes in it.

JOE LOUIS AND WIFE QUIT. screams the front page bannerlines of J. Robert Smith's Pasadena Press, live tabloid devoted principally to news of the large, some population of the Crown City, world famous for its flowers and its Tournament of Roses. Joe Louis is always his news, that's why Smith featured it. But locally nine out of every ten had prophesied that Joe's second marriage wouldn't last as long as it did. During his heyday he earned a terrific role as a play-boy, and even as early as 1933, his first wife, the estimable Marva lost her temper and threw her slipper at him. That is according to a statement by the late Emma Wharton, who had rented them her apartment on East Vernon Ave. Joe had persisted in going out alone, although she had just arrived from Chicago to join him. Personally a nice fellow though but no doubt he would have fared better had he listened to his discoverer John Roxborough, and the devoted Marva.

FASHION LEADERS SAY — From head to toe, the fashion is color and so the fashion-right woman this year will select hostess colors that blend with her costume — just a hint of a hint. DO SOMETHING ABOUT your feet trouble — Here is some advice from an authority.

(1) "A building is as good as its foundation." Foot trouble can cause trouble with joints, muscles, ligaments, nerves, blood vessels and organs.

(2) Just as an efficient car gets more miles per gallon, so does an efficient pair of feet get more steps per calorie, go farther with less fatigue.

(3) Eight times as many women as men have foot trouble because they fit their eyes and not their feet. You can't put a quart of milk in a pint bottle.
