

Wishing you A

Merry Christmas

Lack Of Interest Our Greatest Danger: Chance

THE CAROLINIAN

12c North Carolina's Leading Weekly...
In N.C. 24 PAGES

15c Elsewhere

VOLUME 17 RALEIGH, N.C. WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1957 NUMBER 13

Council Urged To Save Two Pools

Aubrey Evans Dead:

New Killing Shocks City

Argument Over Driving Leads To Death Here

The pre-Christmas weekend was marred by a killing Saturday afternoon, bringing to four the number of murders in this city in the past three weeks.

Aubrey Evans, 47, of 627 Quarry Street, was pronounced dead upon arrival at Saint Agnes Hospital from a bullet wound in the heart. He was allegedly shot by Junious Stewart, 32, of Raleigh. Evans was one of the "famous Evans boys" who live in the 700 block of E. Davie St., known as "Evans Bottom."

Stewart, who resides at 219 Smithfield Street, is still confined at the hospital where he is being treated for a gun wound in his left thigh, resulting from being shot by Evans.

The two men exchanged blows and pistol shots after they became engaged in an argument near Evans' home.

The argument is alleged to have started when Stewart, driving south on Quarry St., passed Evans' car, also heading south, and cut back too sharply into the lane, narrowly missing the Evans vehicle.

Evans and Stewart alighted from their autos, according to witnesses, and Evans is reported to have started cursing Stewart and threatening to beat the younger man up.

"Man, you're too old to fight. Go on," Stewart is alleged to have told Evans.

At this point Evans ran into his house nearby, a detective said, and came out with a .38 caliber pistol.

A bitter argument ensued and Evans hit Stewart on the side of his head with the weapon.

Stewart then appealed to Evans to "fight fair." Evans handed his gun to Calvin Madden, of 823 E. Cabarrus Street, who said he had just

LOOKS FORWARD TO CHRISTMAS — Mrs. Susie Smith is preparing to celebrate her 104th birthday in Chicago on Christmas Day. Mrs. Smith was born on a plantation in North Carolina and was sold as a slave at the age of 8. She said she ran away and lived in Arkansas until moving to Chicago 13 years ago. (UNITED PRESS TELEPHOTO)

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 21)

Students Ignore Educator's Plea To Invite Dorothy Counts Back

CHARLOTTE — Apparently there will be no move by students at Harding High School to invite former pupil Dorothy Counts to return.

Jennie Lee Satterfield, 17, president of the student body, said "the majority of the student body"

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

A BIG MOMENT — Pope Pius XII leans from his papal chair to pat a child held aloft by parents during mass audience of pilgrims from various parts of the world in St. Peter's Vatican City. As in former years, the Christmas season drew hordes of worshippers to the Vatican City and to Palestine in Jerusalem all during the month of December. (Newspress Photo)

Rev. J. W. Jones Victorious As Popularity Contest Ends

Reverend J. W. Jones won the CAROLINIAN'S $100 Christmas present this week.

Holding first place continuously since the rivalry began, Reverend Jones, pastor of Fayetteville Street Baptist Church, Raleigh, had polled 4,710 votes when the CAROLINIAN Most Popular Minister's Contest closed last Saturday.

Runner-up for second place was Rev. Howard Cunningham, pastor of First Congregational Christian Church, Raleigh, who received a total of 3,000 votes.

Third place honor went to Rev. E. L. Brodie, pastor of Mitchell Chapel Baptist Church, Louisburg, who won 950 votes, while in fourth place was Rev. W. R. Cuthbertson, pastor of Greenville Tabernacle AMEZ Church, Charlotte, who canvassed 750 votes.

Other contestants polled votes as follows:

Rev. Robert L. Shirley, Davie Street Presbyterian Church, Raleigh, 410; Rev. F. D. Fuller, Reynolds Chapel Church, Guilford, 190; Rev. J. E. McGrier, First Baptist Church, Warren-

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

Hearing In Holt Case Now Set For January

Attorney for Joseph H. Holt, Jr., 15, who is seeking an injunction to allow integration and his attendance at Broughton High School, white, said they will request a special hearing of the case sometime in January.

Attorney Herman Taylor

who represents the youth, said he would request the hearing. "I have not had an opportunity to confer with my partner, Samuel Mitchell, on the matter."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — The peaceful integration scene broke out in turmoil on December 16 when between 50 and 100 white students

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

State News Brief

HUNTER IS ASSAULTED

RALEIGH — Mac Bunch, 1062 Cross Street, told police officials that he was assaulted by John Galling, 59, of 1311 Mordecai Dr., who also took his two birds dogs valued at $150 each. Bunch said that Galling beat him with his hands and fists and tried to choke him. Next, Bunch reported that Galling carried away his dogs in the back of

When arrested, Galling ac-

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

White Students Walk Out After Bi-Racial Fight

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — The peaceful integration scene broke out in turmoil on December 16 when between 50 and 100 white students

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

FREEDOM SUMMIT

Every end awaiting the day, the town of Chicago police said, the day following break from custody, in various rooms of the Criminal Court building. (Newspress Photo)

A WELCOME VOICE—Backed by the voices of troops of the 24th Infantry Division, famed concert singer Marian Anderson leads the way with a song somewhere near the front lines in Korea. Highlights of the renowned artist's tour through Southeast Asia will be shown on a special "See It Now" program on the CBS television network, December 28th. The 49,000 mile tour, arranged by ANTA for the State Department, took the singer through seven countries in Southeast Asia. (UNITED PRESS PHOTO)

W. C. Chance, Former Principal, Addresses School Masters Club

WASHINGTON, N.C. — "The greatest danger that can come to any nation is a waste of its human resources," declared W. C. Chance, retired North Carolina school principal, in an address recently before the local School Masters Club here.

Disturbed by the apparent inactivity of Negro citizens, Mr. Chance said, "The greatest danger to our liberties today is our lack of interest in matters affecting our citizenship."

He further added that the refusal of the Negro to accept the rights guaranteed him by the Constitution today "might well be lost to him tomorrow."

Climaxing his message, Mr. Chance declared, "Legal segregation, as formerly practiced in the South, is dead and may there be peace in its ashes. We cannot chant at its passing, neither is there

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 1)

Chas. Moore, 27, Is Bound Over On Rape Charge

WINSTON-SALEM — A High Point man waived preliminary hearing Saturday and was held for superior court trial on charges of raping the attractive wife of Wake Forest assistant basketball coach Al De Porter.

After waiving the hearing in municipal court here Charles Moore, Jr., 27, of High Point, was returned to jail and held without bond for trial in Forsyth County Superior Court. A trial date has not been set.

Moore has been held in jail in Winston-Salem since his admission of the attack a week ago on Mrs. Lucy D. Porter, 25. Police

He was captured a few hours later and charged with armed robbery, breaking and entering and larceny, police said.

Police said Robert Corpeneau, 22, held up a cashier at

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 1)

Man Robs Movie And Tries To Cash 'Bum' Check Here

MORGANTON — A young Morgan man held up a movie cashier for $100, stole six blank checks and tried to cash one and broke into a tire recapping plant last Wednesday night—all in one hour.

He was captured a few hours

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 1)

Last Week Of Church Bonus Money Program Now Underway

The fifth and final week of The Church Bonus Money Program will begin Thursday, December 26, and ends at midnight, Wednesday, January 1, 1958.

Church members, who spend their Yule season dollars with merchants who advertise in

The CAROLINIAN, can make their money do double duty.

Best of all, they can help their churches get ahead in the Church Bonus Money race.

The month is composed of

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 1)

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

ODDS-ENDS

BY ROBERT G. SHEPARD

"GO TELL IT ON THE MOUNTAINS": Christmas is a symbol of something that has to be expressed spiritually if it is to be meaningful; and it is full of the utmost significance and the most profound meaning. The story of Christmas is the story of sacrifice.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

WEEKLY ADVERTISERS OMMITED

The regular listing of CAROLINIAN advertisers is omitted this week as practically all merchants are using their space to extend greetings.

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 1)

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

(CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)