MAJOR HAYWOOD TO CITY
Major Vernon V. Haywood is looking forward to spending his first Christmas in the States since 1952. He and his family have recently returned from Japan, where Major Haywood was on a tour of duty with the Air Force.

Being a native of Raleigh he chose to make his headquarters for his family while he is enrolled in Commanding Officers School in Alabama. The Major flew in for the Thanksgiving week-end and his mother enjoyed a very thrilling treat when she accompanied him and his family back to Pope Air Base to see him take to the air on his return in a Jet. His many friends will be glad to know he is back in Raleigh for the Christmas holidays.

MR. YOUNG IMPROVED
Mr. James Young of 312 Lee St. has been removed from the serious ill list and is very much improved in the Veterans Hospital in Durham. He can receive visitors now.

Miss Sarah Morgan, Formerly Of City, Weds In Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. — Miss Sarah Elizabeth Morgan, daughter of Mrs. John Henry Smith, S. Person Street, Raleigh, N. C. and the late Mr. Hubert Morgan, was married to Roland Herman Lee, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Roland Lee, Sr., of Bloomfield. The wedding took place at the Union Baptist Church here recently.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Emmanuel Branch, Jr. and bridal music was provided by Miss Elizabeth Carter, soloist, and Mrs. William Jones, organist.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Warren H. Glascoe, the bride wore a ballroom-length gown of silk tulle with a sweetheart neckline. Long Chantilly lace sleeves and a full gored skirt arranged from an Empire bodice of Chantilly lace. Her veil of illusion trimmed with matching lace was arranged from a crown of iridescent and seed pearls. She carried white carnations.

Mrs. Alfred B. Carter of East Orange, N. J., was the matron of honor, and bridesmaids included Miss Rozalyn Lee of Bloomfield, Miss Ada Marie Jarnigan of Raleigh, and Mrs. George Demsey Jr. of Westwood, N. J. The honor attendant wore a street-length dress of light blue metallic lace over tulle with cap sleeves and a pleated cummerbund.

Her headpiece was a light blue satin band trimmed with feathers, and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations. Patrice Glascoe of East Orange, the flower girl, wore a pink silk organza dress with a matching hat, and carried pink carnations.

Mrs. Burton Lowe of Detroit,

Mich. was the best man, and Mr. Julius Hendricks, Mr. Ralph Davis and Mr. John Griffen, all of Hartford, were the ushers. Alton Carter of Hartford was the ringbearer.

The reception was held at the parish house, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada and Niagara Falls, the bride wearing a gray suit and black accessories. After Dec. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Lee will live at 20 Rosemount St.

Mrs. Lee received a degree from Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., and taught school for four years at the Shawtown High School, Lillington, N. C.

She is now a social worker with the Department of Public Welfare here.

The bridegroom was graduated from West Virginia State College, Institute. He received a bachelor of science degree in business administration and is now employed as a certified public accountant in this city. He is a member of Omega Psi Phi fraternity.

Liberian Assembly Speaker

FAYETTEVILLE — Miss Alice Jackson, head librarian at the Fayetteville State Teachers College spoke at a recent assembly period from the topic, "Some Practical Considerations of the Library as a Continuing Gift."

The speaker insisted that the library's very permanence may account for the fact that we usually take it for granted rather than accept it as a gift, and that in the years that lie ahead we are likely to be effective as parents, teachers, and citizens in proportion as we make wise use of our college facilities, including the library.

"In 1960, the first crop of war babies are scheduled to hit the colleges," she concluded. "That means that at every teaching level, we shall need to know how to take advantage of the library as an effective means of instruction."

Miss Jackson received her formal training at Virginia State College, Hampton Institute, and the Columbia University School of Library Science. She has served at Virginia State College, Morgan State College, Howard University and the Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart.

Mrs. F. Robeson Succumbs In N. Y.

NEW YORK—Some 2,000 people attended funeral services last week for Mrs. Frances Cline Robeson, late wife of Dr. Benjamin C. Robeson, for the past 21 years pastor of Mother A. M. E. Zion Church on West 137th Street, New York City.

Mrs. Robeson, who had been ill for a number of years, died early Sunday morning at Sydenham Hospital in New York.

The services, held in the church to which she had given so much of her adult life, were attended by Paul Robeson, noted Negro concert singer and actor, who sat with the immediate family as brother of Dr. Robeson. Funeral arrangements were by T. W. Daniels, a close friend of the Robeson family.

A. M. E. Zion bishops attending the service were the Rt. Rev. William J. Walls, presiding bishop of the New York Conference for the past 16 years and a life-long friend of the deceased; Rt. Rev. Stephen G. Spottswood of Washington, D. C., and the Rt. Rev. William C. Brown of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Besides a large number of A. M. E. Zion ministers throughout the denomination as well as the First Episcopal District of which Dr. Robeson's church is a part, there were present Rev. J. C. Hoggard, general secretary of the Foreign Missions Department of the denomination, of Washington, D. C., and Dr. W. S. Dacons, director of the A. M. E. Zion's bureau of evangelism, of Charlotte, N. C., and Dr. S. H. Sweeney, pastor of St. Marks Methodist Church in New York City.

52 Students On Honor Roll At Livingstone

SALISBURY — Fifty-two students were successful enough in their academic performance to be included on the mid-semester "Honor Roll" at Livingstone College, according to an announcement by Dr. M. F. Shute, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

Of these eleven were freshmen, twelve were sophomores, ten were juniors and 19 were seniors. Leading the Honor Roll was Robert Gest, senior of Haines City, Florida, followed by Benjamin Floyd, senior, Clover S. C., and in third place Bernard Anderson, Junior, Philadelphia, Pa. Their averages were 2.80, 2.79 and 2.68, respectively.

The "Dean's List", as it is colloquially called, is composed of those students whose cumulative grade average for this period is "B", 2.00 or better. Allowing three grade points per semester hour for an "A", two grade points for a "B", and one grade point for a "C", No grade must be falling.

The grants supplement $33,000 in scholarships the service originally helped the students to obtain from their colleges.
