

the bus driver ordered him to move, and Dr. King said, "No."
When Mrs. Rosa Parks, 42, seamstress, had been arrested for refusing to move from her seat on the bus, King decided something must be done. Through his leadership, the Negroes—70 per cent of the bus paying traffic—decided to stop riding the buses. The boycott was close to 100 per cent effective, and soon they were cruising through the streets with 1 or 2 passengers each.
Negroes, in many instances, walked a roundtrip of 12 miles—rising up in mornings at 6 o'clock.
As a result, the bus company lost nearly a million dollars.

SWIFT CAN'T (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Dr. Swift is well-known throughout medical circles and is said to enjoy a good practice. He maintains offices at the corner of Umstead and Fayetteville Streets and lives with his wife and son in their home located off Fayetteville Road, about one mile from the city limits.

Buffalo soon admitted the killing, the deputy reported. Mrs. Elston was the mother of three small children.
According to Buffalo's confession, Mrs. Elston attempted to borrow some rent money from him. When he refused, Buffalo said, Mrs. Elston followed him down the railroad tracks and called him vile names.
"I cut her throat and left her body lying on the railroad tracks," said Buffalo. The cutting allegedly took place behind the Negro Baptist church.
Buffalo is said to be tried in the Apex Recorder's Court on a murder charge this week.

James E. Bland, 37, of 1427 Garner Road is charged with assaulting her. Detectives who arrested Bland said that the woman's clothing was located at two different places, some 50 yards from the residence where she was found bleeding about the mouth and face.
Bland allegedly denied knowing the woman.
Officers said, however, that they had information that he had been fighting her early Sunday morning. His bond was set at $1,000.

In his report on the IBOPEW finances, grand secretary Bill Hueston's report showed a "total worth of $235,392.98" in "fixed assets" based on the completed audit of a well-known certified public accounting firm.
The total amount of cash listed in six banks totaled $73,391.93, as of Jan. 28th. The "fixed assets" were listed as being: U. S. Government Bonds in the amount of $107,000; the John Brown Farm with its improvements (net worth) $100,000; other real estate $10,000 and furniture and fixtures $1 only, making a total of $208,000 to add to the $27,391.98 cash in banks to total the $235,392.98.

The state began hearing evidence Tuesday morning with Solicitor Walter T. Britt heading the prosecution. He is being aided by Attorneys C. O. Pearson and M. S. Johnson, both of Durham. Judge Henry L. Stevens, resident judge, is presiding.
The victim of the alleged attack was the first witness. She related how McLamb came to her house and asked her mother if she had any one who would baby sit for him. She said that she did not want to go, but that McLamb put up such a plea-a-baby sinner job if he did not get someone to baby sit for him. She said that when she finally consented to go that he took her in the car and drove toward Salemburg. He also said that he told her to lean over the car when the highway, due to the fact that he did not want her seen in his car.

Wiggins is then reported as having carried his child to the home of his mother, where he left it. He then departed and is still at large. A coroner's hearing, held in the Town Hall, Monday night, held that Morrisey met his death as the result of a bullet fired into his body, from a gun held by Wiggins.
Funeral services were held for Morrisey at the First Baptist Church, Tuesday, at 10 o'clock. Burial was held at the same place at 11 o'clock. The casket was held open for viewing at the church Tuesday night and would not talk about the murder.

A good idea would be to patronize merchants who advertise in THE CAROLINIAN. Their names are listed on the front page of each edition of the paper.
Information as to just how handy the bonuses are to churches may be obtained by asking representatives of churches that have won Church Bonus Money. Awards to churches are: $50 first; $25 second; $15 third; and $10, fourth.
Instead of giving bonus money to individual families, as was the practice in earlier months, awards will be made directly to a person or committee appointed by the participating churches in Raleigh and Wake County whose purchase slips warrant these awards.
Each week carries a date in the Bonus Money period. Purchases eligible for awards must come from the store during the week

Roxboro News

ROXBORO - Rev. W. R. Booker, pastor of Jones Chapel Baptist Church, has granted permission to interested parties to enter his name on the state-wide CAROLINIAN Popularity Contest. Rev. Booker made it clear that he was not interested in entering his name personally, but if some of his friends, or well wishers were interested in placing his name on their own, he would have no objections.
Quite a few friends of Rev. Booker expressed themselves to a certainty that they thought his chance of winning the state-wide contest was far better than most ministers since he was the only resident Baptist minister in Roxboro. Consequently a number of friends decided to pitch in and give the contest a try. So clip the coupons on the front page of the Carolinian and bring or send it to "Stink" Browning, 209 Johnson Street, Roxboro, N. C., or to the Carolina 518 East Martin Street, Raleigh, N. C.
ROXBORO - It has been real cold here in Roxboro - too, the weather has been bad. We all did he or didn't he see his shadow? He may have seen it in other way.

Currin Bound Over In Local Rape Charge

By STAFF WRITER
"I didn't rape that girl," said Alexander Currin, 19, of K-9 Washington Terrace when interviewed Tuesday by a reporter for his version of what occurred on the night of January 29. Currin is charged with raping Miss Bettye Dunston of K-12 Washington Terrace.
Currin, a freshman at St. Augustine's College, was bound over to Wake Superior Court Tuesday when City Court Judge Albert found probable cause.
The youth said that he and Miss Dunston had been "going together" for the past two years. They reportedly came to a parting of the ways recently and Currin said that he now has a new girl friend. He was at a loss to explain just why she charged him with rape, however.
His attorney, Fred J. Carnegie, pleaded for a light bond as he felt there was little basis for the capital charge, but the attempt was thwarted by the judge. Miss Dunston is represented by Herman L. Taylor.
Currin, a 1955 graduate of J. W. Ligon High School, said he probably would not be able to raise bond and expressed the belief that he would remain in jail until the next term of Superior Court.
When contacted for her version of the rape, Miss Dunston refused to answer questions. She said she preferred "not to discuss the incident."
