

PIG PARLOR — Asker Marshburn, right, a Nashville, N. C., tobacco sharecropper who has started raising hogs to increase his income, shows two North Carolina Extension Service workers 24 hogs he is finishing for market. The animals are in a pig parlor Mr. Marshburn made himself. It has a concrete floor and is equipped with a self-feeder and self-waterer. These help to keep the hogs cleaner and better fed so that they put on weight faster. The extension workers are County Agent William F. Wright and State Agent R. E. Jones, center.

Tobacco Sharecropper Doubles Income By Raising Quality Hogs For Market

NASHVILLE, N. C. — An 18-acre Negro sharecropper has just about doubled his income by raising quality hogs in addition to tobacco, reports State Agent R. E. Jones of the North Carolina Extension Service.

The farmer is Asker Marshburn of Nashville, N. C., who started sharecropping cotton and tobacco in 1922, but never began getting ahead until a few years ago when he raised his first litter of pigs for market. Last year he sold more than 40 head, and if all goes well this year, he says he expects to market 80 porkers from his six Tamworth and Yorkshire sows.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshburn have dropped cotton altogether and are now counting mainly on four acres of tobacco and all the hogs they can grow feed for. Through a feeding program which their county agent, William F. Wright, has helped them to develop, the Marshburns put from 200 to 225 pounds on their hogs in five months.

How To Get Your Sleep When Baby Is Teething

No baby in his or her right mind would dream of getting severe teething pains at a convenient hour. They must occur between midnight and 6 in the morning just to keep parents up all night. Seriously teething is no joking matter for baby or parents but, fortunately, in our modern scheme of things there is a safe and happy solution for all concerned.

It is a product called Ora-Jel is so safe, it's commended baby's gums, it stops teething pains in just 20 seconds. Ora-Jel is so safe, it's commended by Parents' Magazine and recommended by many pediatricians. Baby won't mind it either because it's perfectly tasteless and effective for so long a time, you can probably get in your full 8 hours sleep between applications. Ora-Jel comes in a convenient tube and should be standard "equipment" in your medicine cabinet and first aid kit because, in addition to giving complete relief from teething pains, it works equally well for toothaches. Ora-Jel is sold in all drug stores.

Officers Can't Collect Funds For Negro Police Boys' Club

WASHINGTON (ANP) — Yielding under community pressure, the District Commissioners, last week, turned thumbs-down on permitting uniformed policemen to collect funds for the segregated Metropolitan Police Boys' Club.

Commissioner Robert E. McLaughlin, chairman of the board, said he was opposed to policemen acting as solicitors in fund-raising campaigns for an organization which operates on a segregated basis. Commissioners had served notice in 1956 that after last year's campaign policemen would be prohibited from soliciting funds. But the issue arose this year on whether policemen off duty would be permitted to continue their collections.

McLaughlin objected to this arrangement on the grounds that technically policemen are on duty 24 hours a day.

Commissioner David B. Karick agreed that policemen should be prohibited from collecting such funds.

Commissioner A. C. Walling declined to express an opinion since he was appointed after the 1958 decision. The club reports that it raises most of the $300,000-plus annual budget through collections made by police.

State College Answers

QUESTION: Just how accurate are the North Carolina flue-cured tobacco allotment measurements? ANSWER: Pretty accurate—at least they are as accurate as is humanly possible under the present setup. In a recent survey conducted by the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station it was found that farmers were favored by a bit more than two hundredths of an acre per field measured by the ASC when compared to the findings of civil engineers measuring the same fields.

QUESTION: I have planted young pines in an old field with considerable weeds. How can I minimize the hazard of fire?

ANSWER: If the field is full of weeds there isn't much you can do to reduce the hazard of fire in the planting—except to stay out of it with cigarettes, matches, etc. The danger of fire from the outside coming in can be reduced by plowing a fire lane completely around the area. If area is more than five acres in size it would be wise to plow across to help limit the spread of any fire that got started.

QUESTION: I want to start a sheep enterprise. How can I get top quality ewes?

ANSWER: Now is the time to apply to the N. C. Department of Agriculture for assistance in securing excellent quality Western ewes. The Montana ewes contracted for by the Department last July will sell for $25 a head. Orders are being accepted and filled on a first come first served basis. Your local county farm agent can also give assistance.
