

REV. HAIRSTON SAYS RALEIGH UNPREPARED FOR INTEGRATION

Minister Is Institute's Panelist

Participating in an Institute of Religion class panel discussion Monday evening, February 17, the Rev. Otis L. Hairston expressed the fear that this city will have public school integration without any preparation having been made for it.

The subject under discussion was "The Responsibility of the Community Regarding the Recent Court Decisions."

The panel, composed of Rev. W. W. Finlator, pastor, Pullen Memorial Baptist Church; Mrs. F. K. Thomas, president of Raleigh's P. A. Association; Jesse O. Sanderson, supt., Raleigh's Public Schools, and the Rev. Hairston, pastor of Brookstone Baptist Church, Henderson, was the feature of this week's Institute of Religion's current "Study of the Raleigh School System."

During his remarks, Rev. Hairston said that all of the actions of

Judge Tells Nashville To Desegregate

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — A federal court judge has ordered the city school board to submit a plan for the complete desegregation of all schools by April 7.

Judge William E. Miller Tuesday tossed out the latest attempt by the school board to avoid compulsory desegregation.

The board submitted a three-school plan all white, all Negro and integrated. Judge Miller ruled that the proposal duplicated a plan previously proposed and rejected.

Judge Miller also said the Negro plaintiffs cannot get relief under the state pupil placement law passed last year. He did not rule on the law but said the board "appeared

Son Held As Mother Dies In Wake Fire

An elderly woman perished in flames which completely destroyed the home in which she lived near Morrisville early Monday morning.

Her 58-year-old son, Jon Harris, a mental patient, is being held in the Wake County Jail as a result of the fire.

Mrs. Rosanna Mills Harris, 85, died in her room about six inches from the hearth, according to Coroner M. W. Bennett's report. Mrs. Harris, an invalid, lived with two of her sons.

John Harris was the only other occupant of the room, according to reports.

Warned Of Suicide

EXAMINING BODY — M. W. Bennett, Wake County Coroner, left and Deputy Sheriff R. H. Johnson, center, examine the body of Rosanna Mills Harris, who burned to death this week in a fire at her home near Morrisville, in Wake County. Her mentally deranged son is being held in Wake County Jail in connection with her death.

Victim's Aunt Says She Had Dream Of Man's Death

The real cause why Floyd Robertson decided to end it all in the bathroom of his home while the members of his family were away might have been interred with his body, Tuesday afternoon, at the Good Hope Cemetery, but his aunt Mrs. Swannee High, 705 E. Martin Street, has a thrilling story to relate about how his death was revealed to her, just before she received the word that he was dead.

Mrs. High is very depressed in her religious beliefs and feels that God has his way of warning a Christian about events that will happen. She tells of how she was recovering from a slight illness on Friday morning, when she had a dream that disclosed to her that something was going to happen. She awoke from the dream and felt an urge to read the Bible. She not only read the Bible, according to the in-

2 Tar Heels Die As Cold Hits State

RALEIGH — North Carolinians shivered again Tuesday in the grip of a cold wave which already has caused at least 13 deaths in the state.

A middle-aged Negro woman, Mrs. Priscilla Ramsour, was found dead Monday at her home in Hickory and authorities said she had frozen to death. Carl Sherrill, 32, Negro, had died of exposure over the weekend, at Denver in Lincoln County.

Temperatures which dropped to record lows across the state were expected to drop even lower. It appeared likely that the all-time record low of 23 degrees below zero recorded early Monday on Mt. Mitchell would be surpassed. The old record of 21 degrees be-

Ag. Leaders Of 16 States In Guilford

GREENSBORO — The Inter-Regional Conference for Supervisors and Teacher Trainers in Agricultural Education moved into its second day at North Carolina A&T college here Tuesday.

The conference opened Monday with about 70 agricultural leaders from 16 southern states in attendance. The session will close Friday.

Monday Calvin L. Beale of Washington analytical statistician for the U. S. department of agriculture-marketing service, told the delegates that the families of well educated Negroes in the U. S. are averaging less than two children per family, and that these highly educated Negroes are not "replacing themselves."

Pastors' Contest Draws Many New Entries In State

Although one more entrant, the Ministers' Popularity Contest, Rev. T. C. Hamans, entered the race, Rev. Howard W. Cunningham, pastor of First Congregational Christian Church, Raleigh, is still freewheeling in first place.

His vote now stands at 4,990 as counted at 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Rev. M. W. Morgan, pastor of First African Baptist Church, Goldsboro, has moved up to second place with 1,980 votes.

Dropping back into the third place spot is Rev. W. B. Booker, pastor of Jones Chapel Church, Roxboro, with 1,200 votes.

Still holding fourth place is Rev. Robert L. Shirley, pastor of East Davie Street Presbyterian Church, Raleigh, with 550 votes.

At the same time, Mrs. Lillian Freeman, chairman, inform of this publication of the contest, has dropped back into sixth position.

Rev. Hamans is the man the readers "have got to watch," and he is the dark horse in this test of speed.

Att'y Walker To Nation's Highest Court

Attorney James R. Walker, Jr., whose efforts to help several Northampton County residents in getting registered in 1956 caused him to be arrested and convicted on a charge of assault, has appealed his conviction to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Walker's attorneys have notified the attorney general's office that they were appealing to the highest court a decision of the State Supreme Court.

The lawyer was found guilty in the Northampton Superior Court of assaulting Mrs. Helen H. Taylor, registrar in Northampton's Seaboard precinct. He was ordered to pay a $500 fine and costs of court. His conviction was upheld by the State's high court.

Mrs. Taylor said Walker became upset when she turned down two of his clients when they attempted to register.

In his appeal, Walker said that he was being penalized for assisting his clients in exercising their right to vote.

Accused Arsonist Is Held

William Stokes, 63-year-old local man accused of arson in connection with a fire that destroyed a seven-room house at 892 Dover Place last week, was bound over to Wake Superior Court following a hearing in City Court. He is being held without bond.

Stokes, according to witnesses, threatened to burn down the structure twice before actually completing the act. Neighbors reported that he followed through on the report around 7 o'clock in the morning when he poured kerosene about his room and set the fire.

Twelve people, including several children, were forced to flee to safety in the freezing temperatures, according to Mrs. Essie Dunmore, owner of the uninsured property.

The fire is reported to have resulted from an argument between Stokes and his wife.

The Lucille Hunter Elementary School, W. Hurdle, principal, collected many dollars worth of food and clothing for the victims.

CONTEST ENDS MARCH 10, 1958

PERMANENTLY EXPELLED FROM SCHOOL — Miss Mini Jean Brown, 16, above, one of the "Little Rock Nine" who integrated Central High School under protection of federal paratroopers is a fall, was permanently expelled from the school this week because of alleged trouble making. She has allegedly been involved in five racial incidents in the school since integration began last September. Permanent suspension was recommended to the School Board last week by Virgil T. Blossom, superintendent. Miss Brown has been suspended from the school twice. (UNITED PRESS PHOTO.)

Carolinian Apologizes To Constable V. V. Coley

On March 30, 1957 The Carolinian published a story concerning a warrant which had been issued by the Honorable R. Francis Justice of the Peace, for the arrest of one V. V. Coley, charging him with an assault with a deadly weapon.

In the headlines carried on the front page of the March 30, 1957 issue of this newspaper, there is reference to a "trigger happy Walker" and a "trigger happy V. V. Coley".

Church Bonus Money Rules

All purchase slips or receipts presented to your church must come from stores advertising in the CAROLINIAN. Each week carries a date in the Bonus Money period. Purchases eligible must come from the store during the week the "ad" appears.

No purchase slips representing a business should be submitted. All receipts must come from individual purchases.

All churches in Raleigh and Wake County are eligible. All purchase slips must bear the name of the store from which the purchase was made.

All purchase slips should be submitted in the name of the church; and should be in the office of the CAROLINIAN the Monday following close of Bonus Period.

To order that smaller churches may have an equal opportunity to share in the Bonus Money the following regulation is expedient: No church of over 200 members will be awarded 1st Bonus Money consecutively. It should a church of 200 or more members receive 1st Bonus Money after the first period, it would have to wait until the third Bonus period to be presented 1st award again, except where a church has 200 or less members, then it could win 1st Bonus awards consecutively. However, this does not mean that second and third awards cannot be sought consecutively. Consequently every church group has the opportunity to secure an award every period.

No purchase of over $300 from any one merchant during a week can be counted. There is a ceiling of $35 per person a week for grocery purchases. In the event of the same amount of purchases by more than one person, the award will be divided.

Weekly purchase totals should be shown on each packet and total placed on the outside of the envelope carrying the period's entry along with name and address.

Bonus money earners will be announced in the issue following the closing of each period. All entries remain the property of THE CAROLINIAN. All entries are final when the names of the Bonus Money earners are announced in THE CAROLINIAN, and no responsibility is accepted by this newspaper beyond that point.

No receipts from banks will be considered, except payment on mortgages.

Assaulter Of Nude Woman Gets Two Years

James Edward Bland, 1423 Garner Road, convicted of brutally beating a woman and dumping her nude on a sleet-covered back porch last week was sentenced to two years on the roads in City Court Monday.

Mrs. Ruby Lee Bridges Moore, the victim, just released from the hospital, testified that she was returning from Evans Bottom around 4 a. m. on the morning of February 2. Three men accosted her, she reported, and ripped her clothing from her.

Two of the men fled, Mrs. Moore testified, but Bland remained and began beating her about the head. She said she be-
