

Vesper Services At Shaw Highlight Zetas' "Week"

Vesper services at Shaw University on Sunday, February 23, were sponsored by the Omicron Zeta and Omicron Chapters of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority in observance of National Finer Womanhood. The speaker was Dr. Mary W. Neugent, instructor of Nutrition, Virginia State College, Petersburg, Virginia. Dr. Neugent spoke on "The Place of Womanhood in the Prevention and Control of Juvenile Delinquency."

The speaker's observation was that the delinquency rate is so much lower in other countries than in America. The answer to this, she stated, is that the youth of other countries, for example Italy, respect authority at home, in the school and on the street. "Cannot parents reclaim authority in our American home?" she queried.

She pointed out teenagers are replacing adults on the dockets of the criminal courts, and said that something down deep—simple but basic—must have disappeared from our way of life to cause this revolt toward crime among our young people.

"The child who respects his father and mother," she declared, "will respect his teacher, the laws of his country, the policeman and elders around him."

It is the duty of all women to help advance human rights of juveniles and to understand their needs without bias. Women must share greatly in preventing juvenile delinquency and we must be ever mindful of qualities of womanhood essential for assuming our responsibilities, she concluded.

DUKE AND NCC REPRESENTATIVES AT STUDENT LEADERS' MEET — Two of the student leaders attending the two day session for College Student Government Leaders last weekend at North Carolina College are pictured here. Left is Miss Marion Sapp, Woman's College, Duke University, Columbia, S. C., and right Miss Barbara Perry, NCC, Colerain (NC). The two coeds were representatives expected to be among 14 college representatives attending the closing session.

AMENDMENT BY SUBSTITUTION

The purpose of an amendment to a motion is to change the wording so as to make it more agreeable to the members. This often leads the way to passing the motion.

Suppose a motion has just been proposed that the club assess each member twenty-five dollars for the annual banquet. During the debate on the motion, it may become evident that the members generally do not wish to pay this amount. Thus when it comes to voting, they always say, "Not ready!"

A member might, at this time, rise and say:

"Mister Chairman, I move that we amend the motion by striking out the word twenty-five and putting in its place the word ten."

If the motion is passed, the main motion as amended will read:

"I move that we assess each member ten dollars for the annual banquet."

There can still be further discussion on the main motion as amended before it is put to a vote.

We should add that a motion may be amended by addition or insertion, and by elimination.

Medic Tried On Rape Rap in Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — A prominent Negro physician, Dr. James Harrison, last week took the stand to testify in his own behalf that charges he attempted to seduce a 24-year-old hospital nurse in his office last May 21, is untrue. Harrison, 51, testified that he was called to the home of the nurse, Robert and Mrs. George Lightner, to examine her. The state had presented its case three days earlier.

Dr. Harrison, 47, in sworn testimony denied he tried to force the nurse to submit to his wishes, saying that she forced herself upon him. Dr. Harrison's spicy testimony accused the girl of leaping following an ear examination, flinging her arms around him, kissing him and she kissed him. He testified he was "startled" at that point, he testified the girl, "saying, 'Oh, don't do that.' She left shortly after but tried to return to the physician's office the following day, Dr. Harrison said.

9th Annual Coed Weekend Opens At NC College Mar. 7

DURHAM — North Carolina College's ninth annual Co-Ed Weekend will be observed this year March 7, 8, and 9.

"Channels of Communication—Highways to Peace" is the theme. Dean Louise M. Latham and the Women's Student Government are sponsors.

This year's participants include Madame Lillian Egan, the famed soprano of Washington, D. C., who will conduct a charm school; Mrs. Jewel Mazzyk, also of Washington, unofficial consultant to the U. S. State Department for the Residential Seminars on World Affairs at Lafayette College, Pa.; the ambassador from Argentina, Mrs. Martha de Garcia, wife of Mrs. Tina Marson of Jamaica, former staff member of the British Broadcasting Co.; Mrs. Lala Tawfik, wife of the cultural attache of the Embassy of Egypt, professor of Arabic at Georgetown University, and former staff correspondent for the Cairo Broadcasting Co. and Mrs. George Padmore, wife of the Ambassador from Guinea.

Annex Joyce Newkirk, Durham senior, will serve as coordinator for a panel in Duke Auditorium at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Each of the foreign women will speak to the audience on "My People to Your People."

Madame Egan, who has sung in the world's musical capitals, will coordinate a discussion on charm at the opening session at 7 p.m. Saturday (March 9) in the Home Economics Building's conference room.

In addition to providing undergraduate women with an understanding of ways and means for personal improvement and professional development, the observance also seeks to stress the importance of understanding the role of the United States in World Affairs. Dean Latham said today.
