The Rev. Geo. W. Dudley preaching to his Mt. Zion Baptist congregation Sunday on the Communion theme before administering the Lord's Supper. His subject was "This Do in Remembrance of Me." The young minister who came here from Georgia (Atlanta) is apparently making a good impression in the city.

Rev. Mr. Dudley announced that the Rev. Haskell Murray, who he called a "blind musical genius" will preach Sunday, March 9th at eleven. Mr. Murray will give of his musical prowess at the Sunday night services. Dudley said.

Local NAACP leaders and other interested citizens are making an effort to revitalize the local unit which has been inactive for some time. Charlie Jones, acting president, and J. B. Harren have been largely instrumental in keeping the "spark" alive during recent years as most citizens have withdrawn from participation for various reasons—real or fancied.

REGRETTABLE
The whole town's talking about a former local minister who was held in very high esteem when he dwelled here a few years ago. It has become a disturbing fact that he is seeking to divorce his wife despite their more than ten years of supposedly happy married life. To the regret of their many friends over the state.

The Rev. Kemp P. Battle is now out of the hospital and resting comfortably at his 812 No. Raleigh Street home following a second operation.
