

REPUBLICANS (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

to succeed himself and is said to have not supported any particular candidate for the post.

Barnes was a candidate for the state senate in the 1956 election and is reported to have polled more votes than any county candidate, running on the Republican ticket, had ever polled.

Due to the lack of interest the convention has resolved itself into a committee of the whole, in previous years, and has proceeded to elect the chairman and other officers, along with delegates to the district and county conventions.

The chair asked retiring chairman, A. A. McDonald, what his ruling would be on the objection raised by Hutchinson. McDonald replied that he thought the meeting should be continued until March 15, in order to determine whether all persons who took part in the convention were registered Republicans.

Austin further charged the chairman with being unfair and unchristian. He cited the fact that the Durham County Republican party would be the more than 6,000 that Barnes might be able to bring to the party, but that they wanted him to do it as a second rate Republican and not as the chairman.

The Rev. E. T. Browne, pastor of the largest church in the city, attacked the ruling which tended the way that the meeting was illegal as an attack upon his Christian leadership.

The chairman ruled that McDonald's decision was his ruling and declared that the meeting would adjourn until March 13. Barnes then registered his protest. He said that he had called upon McDonald two weeks ago to hold precinct meetings and he told him they were not necessary.

After the meeting adjourned the persons who led the fight for adjournment suddenly found out that the delegates had not been elected and that Durham County would not have representation at the forthcoming district and state meetings.

Barringer based his ruling on the fact that any protest made in the state convention would nullify anything done by the county convention. After getting Jennings' ruling, he then decided that he would hold precinct meetings on Wednesday night and the continued county convention would be held Thursday night.

Barnes again jumped into the arena and said that this was definitely against the law. He said that any precinct meeting, according to the plan of organization of the party, would have to be called by the state chairman and that the precinct captains would have to have 15 days notice and that the announcement would have to be made in a paper or general circulation, in the county, 10 days prior to the meeting.

Barringer said the precinct meetings would be held and that the county convention would also be held. A check of precincts showed that there were 12 precincts out of the total of 33, which did not have precinct captains.

Barnes is said to have been offered a compromise in the matter, but has stated that he would have no part of a compromise where principle is involved. "Compromises are in order when there is a difference of opinion, but never when principles are involved," said Barnes.

Ministers' Contest (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Holding third place is Rev. T. R. Booker, pastor of James Chapel pastor of First African Baptist Church, Goldsboro.

Rev. T. C. Hamans, pastor of Manley Street Christian Church, Raleigh, retains the fourth position spot with 2,990 votes. First prize is $100. A botany suit will be given as second prize, and a Glenageal topcoat will be the third prize.

Organize a newsboys club in your church this week, so that your pastor can make a Sputnik take-off and zoom into the lead for a test run of eight weeks. The contest will end on March 10 at noon.

Winners will be announced in the issue of March 15, and the winners have the opportunity of selecting the style, pattern and color of the suit and topcoat.

The issue in which the contest began was dated, Saturday, January 18. You can be seen selling your Carolinians now for the gigantic contest. Organize newsboys clubs for your pastor in your neighborhood and help your favorite minister to come out on top.

Remember to clip the coupon from the front page of the paper, fill it in and forward it immediately to The CAROLINIAN, 518 East Martin Street, Raleigh. Coupons will appear in next week's paper.

SENATE APPROVES (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

burgh and Wilkins were committee chairmen James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) and Sens. Olin D. Johnston (D-S. C.), John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Sam J. Ervin, Jr. (D-N. C.).

They had sufficient support among the committee's other 11 members for approval, however. The exact vote at the closed-door meeting was not learned immediately.

The commission, which must now be confirmed by the senate, was created by the civil rights legislation enacted by congress last year. Its members were appointed by President Eisenhower. Hannah has been designated as chairman.

He is vice president and secretary of the Bankers Fire Insurance Co. He went to work for the company more than 30 years ago as a special agent and was made a vice president in 1951.

He is married to the former Miss Plassie Williams of Durham and is a member of St. Titus P. E. Church. Harris is vice president of Southern Fidelity Mutual Insurance Co. and a member of the boards of Mechanics and Farmers Bank and Mutual Savings and Loan Assn.

Rochester Heights (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

County schools or pay a tuition fee of $17.50 per child if they continued in the Raleigh school.

They were also advised that if the children continues to attend Washington School they would have to obtain permission of both county and city boards.

Citizens of Rochester Heights are reportedly in the process of preparing a formal petition asking for admission into the city schools without a fee.

BONUS MONEY (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

There are six weeks included in this month and it will come to a close on April 2 at midnight. One new rule which will affect churches participating is that churches with 200 or less members may win consecutively first place awards and churches with more than 200 members will have to wait, according to the rules listed on page one of each edition.

Patronize CAROLINIAN advertisers each week. Check the advertisers listed on the front page of each edition, read the rules and help your church win Bonus Money.

LIFE TERM (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

with the crime last December 13. He had reportedly delivered the DePorter family car to their apartment and Mrs. DePorter was accompanying him back to the service station where he worked when the attack occurred on a lonely dirt road within the city limits.

The state organization has a goal of 250,000 more Negro voters in North Carolina by 1960 and will aim its voter registration drive at Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Raleigh and nine counties known as the "black belt."

LOCAL RAPE (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

The charges were filed against Bass Sunday morning by Miss Ruth Person, 35, of 15 W. Johnson Street. She signed the warrant early Sunday morning charging Bass with attacking her.

SMILES BEFORE U. N. DISCORD — Egyptian Ambassador Omar Loutfi (left) and Sudanese Ambassador Yacoub Osman enjoy a hearty laugh and a handshake, before the opening United Nations Security Council Session in New York, which heard Sudan's charges of "impending Egyptian aggression on its frontier." Osman recited the first charges by an Arab League member against another Arab state in the United Nations. (Newspress Photo).

Moore was returned from the state mental hospital at Goldsboro last week after a 60-day period of observation. He was pronounced able to stand trial by doctors at the institution.

Moore reportedly telephoned police and admitted the crime in a long manner after arrest.

NAACP DRIVE (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Church, Dr. Edwin R. Edmonds, president of the Greensboro chapter, will speak on "The Church and Social Action." The meeting will continue through 5 p.m.

Delegates will register at 9 a.m. March 7 at Hayes-Taylor YMCA and the first general session will be held at 10 a.m. with Gloucester Current of New York, national branch secretary, presiding. At 8 o'clock that night at the Y Mrs. Ruby Huxley, southeastern regional secretary from Atlanta, will speak at a public meeting.

On Saturday, March 8, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p.m. there will be workshops on registration and voting at the Y. The annual banquet will be held at the Y with Dr. Edward Odum, national NAACP church secretary from New York, speaking. Awards for meritorious service will also be given at that time.

There will be a special meeting for lawyers from 4 to 6 p.m. Saturday at the Y. Simultaneous meetings of the Youth Council will be held Friday and Saturday with Lois Baldwin of Atlanta, regional youth secretary, in charge.

The state organization has a goal of 250,000 more Negro voters in North Carolina by 1960 and will aim its voter registration drive at Asheville, Charlotte, Durham, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Raleigh and nine counties known as the "black belt."

Alexander said there are about 135,000 registered Negro voters in the state and the goal of 250,000 more would leave an estimated 170,000 unregistered Negro voters in North Carolina.

PHYSICIAN APPEALS TERM (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Dr. E. E. Perry, sentenced to 1 1/2 years in prison for performing an illegal abortion on a white mother of four children, appealed his conviction to the State Superior Court Tuesday. At his trial in the United County Superior Court last fall, Dr. Perry said the charge was baseless and "part and parcel of a scheme to discredit him and to silence him in his activities for the race."

provide better housing for a number of this city's citizens through a plan financed largely by Federal funds.

This proposal has been before the Council twice. On both occasions you violently opposed it. You have stated that your opposition was based on your dislike of the idea of Federal government participating in anything that concerned private property individuals or groups.

As the executive secretary of the North Carolina Bankers Association, you know better than the average person that the member banks of your Association are now strong and prosperous and enjoy the confidence of their depositors, because of Federal participation. The Federal Insurance Deposit Corporation, an agency of the Federal government, has undoubtedly made your position more secure. It is quite unlikely that any of the banks composing the Association of which you are executive secretary opposes this Federal participation in their private affairs.

So it would appear, Mr. Helms, that in the two instances just related, you have expressed ideas contrary to your beliefs and to the interest you serve.

WHAT ABOUT THE NEW HOSPITAL? We understand that there is still a vacancy on the Wake County Hospital Authority, the board that will supervise the erection of the new county general hospital and govern its operation after it has been built. We know how important this hospital is going to be to us. But now is it going to be operated, Will you be interested in it, isolated in a back wing. Will our Negro physicians and surgeons be allowed to practice there. Will Negro nurses be employed, and will Negro girls be allowed to take nurse training there? These are things we need to know now. Remember, you are going to be taxed the same rate as all others are taxed to build and maintain this hospital. Because of that, shouldn't we demand a voice in its operation?

The county commissioners have been asked by the Negro members of this community to fill the existing vacancy with a Negro. The very least you can do is to write, call or visit the commissioners and urge that they act favorably upon the request of your ministers. Will you do this?

DR. HUGHES (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Funeral services are scheduled to be held Thursday in Greensboro at 4 p.m. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Hattie Jones Hughes, two sons, Durwood Hughes and Walter J. Hughes, III, and several grandchildren.

STATE BRIEFS

MIAMI, Fla. — The NAACP sought by court action Monday to block a state legislative inquiry into communist activity in Florida which Negro leaders fear is actually directed against those seeking school integration through legal means.

A legislative investigating committee called a hearing Wednesday to name "names, dates and places" of an alleged communist conspiracy to incite racial disorders in Florida. NAACP attorneys did not raise the question of the committee's ultimate motives in its suit to block the hearing but challenged the right of the committee to subpoena four of its Miami leaders.

Local chapters of the American Civil Liberties Union and the NAACP had criticized the hearings earlier. Five attorneys, including two NAACP lawyers from New York and Washington, argued that the committee's investigation because the legislative act creating it did not spell out its powers of inquiry.

Citing a U. S. Supreme Court decision involving the controversial House Un-American Committee, the lawyers said it "is well established" that a committee's line of investigation must be "closely defined." Lucius Cushman of Miami, one of the two white attorneys arguing for the Negroes, said the legislature empowered the committee to investigate all persons or groups in the state tending to violate the state laws or were "influenced" to the well being of the majority of the people.

FOREIGN AID CONFAB — United Nations Undersecretary, Dr. Ralph Bunche (left), and Eric Johnson (center), chairman of the Bipartisan Foreign Aid Conference, held recently in Washington, listen as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles makes a point, Uncle Sam's plight in the "cold war" of foreign aid against Russia was one of the highlights of the conference. (Newspress Photo).

Richmond, Va. — Gov. Almond's so-called "Little Rock Jr." bill to permit the governor to close schools in the vicinity of one patrolled by federal troops was approved 32-5 Monday by the senate.

Both houses plunged into their final week of the 1958 session with some 200 bills, most of them non-controversial, to be cleared along with the billion-dollar budget which is expected to emerge from the Senate Finance Committee Wednesday.

The House calendar included a touchy proposed constitutional amendment to keep the "county boys" in control of the legislature. The senate killed an amendment to the "Little Rock, Jr." bill proposed by Sen. Ted Dalton to make the closing of neighboring schools contingent upon the request of the local school board and the governing body.

Dalton said the amendment to the house-approved measure would "give the localities a voice and not let the governor have the last word in closing the rest of the schools of a locality."

Dalton said he had supported legislation passed earlier in the session to automatically close any school patrolled by federal troops to enforce integration.

But Dalton said the companion measure was "another move in centralizing more power in the hands of the governor" who he said could set on "caprice and whim" to close all the schools of a school division.

MIAMI, Fla. — The NAACP sought by court action Monday to block a state legislative inquiry into communist activity in Florida which Negro leaders fear is actually directed against those seeking school integration through legal means.

A legislative investigating committee called a hearing Wednesday to name "names, dates and places" of an alleged communist conspiracy to incite racial disorders in Florida. NAACP attorneys did not raise the question of the committee's ultimate motives in its suit to block the hearing but challenged the right of the committee to subpoena four of its Miami leaders.

Local chapters of the American Civil Liberties Union and the NAACP had criticized the hearings earlier. Five attorneys, including two NAACP lawyers from New York and Washington, argued that the committee's investigation because the legislative act creating it did not spell out its powers of inquiry.

FOREIGN AID CONFAB — United Nations Undersecretary, Dr. Ralph Bunche (left), and Eric Johnson (center), chairman of the Bipartisan Foreign Aid Conference, held recently in Washington, listen as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles makes a point, Uncle Sam's plight in the "cold war" of foreign aid against Russia was one of the highlights of the conference. (Newspress Photo).

Virginia's Senate Kills Amendment In School Bill

Richmond, Va. — Gov. Almond's so-called "Little Rock Jr." bill to permit the governor to close schools in the vicinity of one patrolled by federal troops was approved 32-5 Monday by the senate.

Both houses plunged into their final week of the 1958 session with some 200 bills, most of them non-controversial, to be cleared along with the billion-dollar budget which is expected to emerge from the Senate Finance Committee Wednesday.

The House calendar included a touchy proposed constitutional amendment to keep the "county boys" in control of the legislature. The senate killed an amendment to the "Little Rock, Jr." bill proposed by Sen. Ted Dalton to make the closing of neighboring schools contingent upon the request of the local school board and the governing body.

Dalton said the amendment to the house-approved measure would "give the localities a voice and not let the governor have the last word in closing the rest of the schools of a locality."

Dalton said he had supported legislation passed earlier in the session to automatically close any school patrolled by federal troops to enforce integration.

But Dalton said the companion measure was "another move in centralizing more power in the hands of the governor" who he said could set on "caprice and whim" to close all the schools of a school division.

NAACP Seeks To Block Fla. Inquiry Into Red Activity

MIAMI, Fla. — The NAACP sought by court action Monday to block a state legislative inquiry into communist activity in Florida which Negro leaders fear is actually directed against those seeking school integration through legal means.

A legislative investigating committee called a hearing Wednesday to name "names, dates and places" of an alleged communist conspiracy to incite racial disorders in Florida. NAACP attorneys did not raise the question of the committee's ultimate motives in its suit to block the hearing but challenged the right of the committee to subpoena four of its Miami leaders.

Local chapters of the American Civil Liberties Union and the NAACP had criticized the hearings earlier. Five attorneys, including two NAACP lawyers from New York and Washington, argued that the committee's investigation because the legislative act creating it did not spell out its powers of inquiry.

Citing a U. S. Supreme Court decision involving the controversial House Un-American Committee, the lawyers said it "is well established" that a committee's line of investigation must be "closely defined." Lucius Cushman of Miami, one of the two white attorneys arguing for the Negroes, said the legislature empowered the committee to investigate all persons or groups in the state tending to violate the state laws or were "influenced" to the well being of the majority of the people.

Modern Center To Serve Youth. A tall, modern building with many windows, representing a center for youth services.

New aluminum and glass Girl Scout national headquarters on redeveloped Third Avenue in New York City was recently dedicated to service of youth. By building and owning its own headquarters, the national Girl Scout organization will save approximately $100,000 a year over previous costs of renting commercial office space. New headquarters will be service and research center for more than 3 million Girl Scouts in the U.S.

It's Time For Breakfast. A cartoon illustration of a woman in a kitchen, looking at a clock. Text: Brains, beauty and brawn — they're all associated with a good breakfast, according to doctors, nutritionists and athletic directors. Brains, because every boy or girl in school needs energy and good nutrition to study and learn; beauty, because proper eating can help provide a healthy, glowing appearance; and brawn, because a good breakfast supplies from one-fourth to one-third of daily protein and calorie requirements, essential to physical fitness. Authorities say the following are ideal breakfast menus for various age groups: Four year olds, fruit or juice, half a cup of oatmeal, two slices of toast and a half pint of milk; the young school child should have a break-

There's always one closet in every house that's the catch-all for everything from worn-out rubbers to mops and pails. When this forgotten corner of chaos becomes the center of activity around spring cleaning time, there probably isn't a homemaker who doesn't view a dress rehearsal in her cleaning closet. You're off to the best start in spring cleaning, says Servicemaster, the national home furnishings care organization, when this basic equipment is all at hand and well arranged: 1. A variety of clean rags, from chamolais to scraps of old bath towels. 2. A supply of soap and detergents, along with two pails. 3. Polishes and waxes for floors and for furniture. 4. The First Aid Kit which contains solutions for freshening carpets and upholstered pieces as well as a variety of spot removers. 5. Mops and brushes, including the Magic Carpet Brush for freshening area rugs. 6. Molt-proof and static-proof solutions for dusting touches of good house-keeping. Walls of peg-board in the closet will probably prove most efficient for mopping up. The versatility of a peg board allows placement of shelves for easiest access to bottles and cartons, and still gives needed wall space for hanging such items as mops, brushes, and mops. Servicemaster suggests a spring cleaning checklist you plan to use.

Wagoner WATER HEATERS. ROUND OR TABLE TOP. THE GOOD name on water heaters. We have the size and type you want. Phone for full information. Electrical Wholesalers INCORPORATED. 911 N. West Street, Raleigh.

THE CAROLINIAN. Covering the Carolinians. Published by The Carolinian Publishing Company, 518 East Martin Street, Raleigh, N. C. SUBSCRIPTION RATES: Six Months $3.00, One Year $5.00. Payable in Advance. Address all communications and change orders to The Carolinian Publishing Company, 518 East Martin Street, Raleigh, N. C. P. R. JERVAY, Publisher. The Publisher is not responsible for the return of unsolicited news, pictures or advertising copy unless necessary postage accompanies the copy. Opinions expressed by columnists in this newspaper do not necessarily represent the policy of this paper.