Gains Against Heart Disease In Next Decade Forecast By 10 Heart Association Presidents

NEW YORK CITY (AP) — What do the next ten years promise in overcoming the heart and blood vessel diseases that now take more than 800,000 American lives annually?

What were the most significant advances against these diseases during the past ten years?

The American Heart Association, currently marking its tenth anniversary as a voluntary health agency, asked these questions of the ten physicians who served as its Presidents during the past decade.

Noting that greatly improved techniques have come into use for the diagnosis and treatment of heart attacks and strokes during the "lifetime" of the American Heart Association, these experts predicted that the next ten years would see important advances toward an understanding of atherosclerosis — or "hardening of the arteries" — which is an underlying cause of these conditions.

They also forecast dramatic new improvements in surgery on the heart and blood vessels with the help of heart-lung machines, "deep freeze" surgery and "stopped-heart" procedures, which have already benefited hundreds in recent years.

Still more effective control of high blood pressure and a greater knowledge of its causes, and even greater reductions in the incidence of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease, which strike primarily at children and young people, also were among the advances foreseen for the next decade.

When hay and forage are in short supply it may pay to feed grain to milking cows.

A well-oiled farm machine costs less in the long run. Keep accurate and complete farm records, they are one of the keys to successful farming. Winter is an ideal time to test your soil, but any time is good. Treat your farm woodlands well. They pay big dividends in the long run.

Woman Convicted Of Arson, Says She Tried To "Cremate" Hubby

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-year-old eastside mother of five, Mrs. George Hill, was sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the House of Correction last week by Recorder's Judge George Murphy after she was convicted of arson.

Police said Mrs. Hill admitted pouring fuel oil against the bedroom door of her common-law husband, Aaron Hill, 36, December 4 and igniting the oil with matches. She also set fire to the hallway of the building by the same method.

The officers said Mrs. Hill said she was angry with Hill. She accused him of bringing men to their home and insisting that she have intimate relations with them. Mrs. Hill said she was beaten by her husband when she refused to obey his orders.

Meantime, Mrs. Hill was on probation for a similar charge when she was arrested on the same offense the second time. Hill was arrested for investigation of pandering.

21 Students Represent Bennett In Events Held In Three States

GREENSBORO — A total of 21

students, representing three interest areas, represented Bennett College in events held in three states last week.

Twelve members of the Woman's Athletic Association participated in the Sports Day staged by the Woman's Sports Day Association at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia, Friday and Saturday.

The group, headed by Miss Joyce Johnson, physical education instructor, included: Misses Geneva Baldwin, Pittsboro; Janet Dailey, Houston, Tex.; Addie Watson, Charlotte; Nannie Poole, Baltimore, Md.; Veronica Dean, Miami, Fla.; Ethel Riggsbee Chapel Hill; Frances Keck, Greensboro; Elizabeth Miller, Camden, S. C.; Joan Pritchard, Jefferson City, Tenn.; LeVonne Gee, Norfolk, Va.; Sonia Weldon, Chicago, Ill.; and Hazelene Taylor, Charlotte.

Six sociology majors, accompanied by Dr. Edwin R. Edmonds, went to Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., where they participated in an interracial workshop sponsored by the YWCA, February 21-24.

In this group were: Misses Geraldine Williams, Fayetteville, N. C.; Laura Sawyer, Salisbury, La.; Yvonne Barbour, Annapolis, Md.; Gloria E. Brown, Bronx, N. Y.; Cecile Harrison, Houston, Tex.; and Ada Lomax, Tobhanna, Pa.

Professionals Included In Security Act

"The 1956 amendments to the Social Security Act brought lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, veterinarians, chiropractors, naturopaths and optometrists under Social Security. They are now, for the second year, required to pay their social security tax along with their Federal income tax returns."

This announcement was made today by T. M. Langford, Group Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the Raleigh district.

In conjunction with Mr. Langford's announcement, J. H. Ezig, district manager of the Raleigh office of the Social Security Administration pointed out that since the extension of coverage to these professional self-employed persons, they are now building the same kind of insurance protection for themselves and their families that the Federally-operated system has afforded most other self-employed individuals since 1951.

Mr. Langford stated that the law was effective with the first taxable year ending after 1955. Lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, veterinarians, chiropractors, naturopaths and optometrists who file their Federal income tax returns on a calendar year basis are required to pay a self-employment tax on their net earnings for each calendar year after 1955 if their net earnings amounted to $400 or more in a year.
