Faubus Seeks Third Term As Ark. Governor

LITTLE ROCK — (AP) — Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus, still riding the crest of national prominence because of his outright attempt to block school integration at Central High school, seeks to emulate Jeff Davis by becoming governor for the third time.

Faubus announced his candidacy last week, saying he intends to defend states' rights as part of his platform.

Jeff Davis was the only Arkansas governor to serve three terms. This covered a period from 1900-08.

The incumbent, now 48, called out the state national guard last Sept. 2 to surround Central High school and prevent nine Negro students from enrolling. This move, supposedly based upon secret information that a breakdown of law and order would result if the Negroes were admitted, caused President Eisenhower to send U. S. troops in to enforce the U. S. district court order admitting the children.

Since that time, Faubus, though bowing to the federal order, has maintained that the only way to solve the still unsettled problem, is to remove the Negro children from the school entirely.

Sole challenger so far for the gubernatorial seat is a Little Rock meat packing executive, Chris Finkbeiner, who has yet to outline his platform.

Raleigh Attorney Herman Taylor Speaks To Chatham HDC Group

PITTSBORO — Attorney Herman Taylor of Raleigh was enthusiastically heard by the Chatham County Home Demonstration Council in Pittsboro on March 1st. Approximately one hundred Home Demonstration women and their guests attended their 11th Annual Banquet held in the Horton School Luncheon room.

Speaking on "Wills and Inheritance Laws" the opening gulp of the noted lawyer was: "See a lawyer." A rousing ovation was given Mr. Taylor at the close of his address. The lecture was one of a series of family economics sponsored by the Council. In February, Mr. John H. Wheeler spoke to the group on "Doing Business at the Bank".

The menu was pineapple juice, fried chicken, parsley potatoes, green peas, mint jelly, celery, pickles, olives, cabbage and pepper slaw with Italian dressing, cake and punch.

Prizes were awarded the Milliken and Bynum-Hamlet Home Demonstration clubs for their work with Christmas savings. The audience award went to the Pittsboro Home Demonstration club for having eighteen members present.

Proceeds from the banquet will be used to finance County Council projects of the year.

1,000 Cheer Dr. DuBois At Big Party

NEW YORK — (AP) — Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, scholar, author and sociologist, was cheered on his 90th birthday when 1,000 persons joined in a celebration in his honor at the Roosevelt hotel here.

Still spry and active despite his advanced age, Dr. DuBois said he had just completed work on the last two parts of a three-volume book on Negro life since Reconstruction. He is still working on an autobiography, however.

At the celebration, Dr. DuBois was handed a check for $5,000 raised by a committee headed by Angus Cameron and Mrs. Paul Robeson. He said he might use part of the money to finance publication of his trilogy.

Dr. DuBois, long-time civil rights fighter and a founder of the NAACP, also received warm messages from scores of individuals, including one from Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe, Prime Minister of Eastern Nigeria, which read:

"Your life has been an inspiration to us who are now in the vanguard of the great struggle for freedom in Africa." There were also messages from V. V. Kuznetsov, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister; Kue-Jo, president of the Academia Sinica of Communist China; Cheddi Jagan, Premier of British Guiana, and Dr. S. J. Wright, president of Fisk University. Dr. DuBois' alma mater, Dr. DuBois is also a graduate of Harvard University, receiving the doctorate from that institution.

Recently, he was honored by the publishers of "Who's Who" in America, as one of 31 individuals who have been listed continuously since the book was first published in 1888. The publication, a volume of biographies of American men and women of achievement, was celebrating its 60th birthday.

Ward Singers Go Back To Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Clara Ward, leader of the famed Ward Singers, this week announced that she and her gospel singing group will "do considerably less traveling and concentrate heavily upon doing more church work during 1958."

Before their engagement Thursday at Dr. Gardner C. Taylor's Concord Baptist Church in Brooklyn, the group sang at New York's Abyssinian Baptist, pastored by Congressman Adam Clayton Powell and considered by many as the world's largest Baptist congregation.

Clara Ward and her Singers will make a guest appearance on NBC's "Monitor" program, Sunday, March 9, which was emceed by Dave Garroway.
