...all of us. We are hereby challenged to prove to a high degree of our ability our worth as first class citizens of this County.
Proving their worth constitutes test of no small measure. All of us, at least 99 per cent of us cannot talk, but the test of the worthwhileness of our talking is demonstrated by what we talk about. Dr. Harris can be elected to the legislature because of his eminent fitness for the position, he speaks to, he should be elected.
It is not likely that our group can elect enough votes to assure his election; but if we make an all-out effort in that direction, there is a better than even chance that we will be able to attract enough additional votes to assure his election. Our job now is to meet the challenge that has been hurled at us. We are now being tested as never before. Much more than ending Dr. Harris to the legislature depends upon us passing the test. It is a test of our sincerity, our willingness and of our ability to act and behave like first-class citizens.

In compliance with the Superintendent's request, a group of parents and interested persons met at Springfield Baptist Church, Auburn, Wednesday night, March 13, and named a committee to call on the Superintendent. This group is also said to have asked C. A. Marriott, principal, at whom charges and counter charges have been made, to name some persons friendly to him to present his side of the question.
The CAROLINIAN was not able to determine whether he had named anyone as late as Tuesday night.

the national anthem is sung.

11:00 — One of the bloodiest battles ever staged in a ring started. It was not long before Basilio showed that he did not have it.

11:15 — Basilio's eye begins to swell as the result of continuous blows which landed almost intermittently. Sugar senses what is happening and dances, shuffles and weaves to the blinding side.

11:30 — There is no doubt in anyone's mind that the end is near for the champion. However, he refuses to go down. Robinson makes an all-out try for the "kill". Basilio holds on for dear life. He is showing what amazing stamina with one eye closed, nose bleeding and bewilderment written all over his face.

11:40 — It is just about over and Robinson is stalking his man yet he does not go down. The bell sounds the death knell to a man who held the championship just a little more than six months and the score is about to be announced. Here comes the announcement: "Sugar Ray Robinson is the Middleweight Champion of the World." Thus setting and unheard of record.

Summary — Carmen Basilio put up a good fight, but ran into a better fighter. Robinson shows again that he is the greatest fighter the world has ever seen and Wendell Smith crashes another barrier.

DISCUSSES SOUTH'S NEGRO

CHAPEL HILL — A Jewett leader said here Wednesday night that the "big troubles" for the Southern Negro "will be begin when he achieves first class citizenship, politically and economically." Harry Golden of Charlotte, editor of the Carolina Israelite, declared "The Negro of the South has been here for generations, but he will soon be an immigrant into the American union." Golden said, "he will then begin to feel his alienation-an alienation which he has never known to this day." "He was the speaker at the 19th Carolina Synposium on Public Affairs at the University of North Carolina.

RONNIE DUNN, 54, of Washington Place was identified as the driver of the vehicle. He was not charged pending the outcome of the child. Officer Bunn said.

Announcements have gone out to some 2,000 ministers in the State urging them to attend the April 9 meeting which will feature training workshops on registering and voting. A team of specialists, headed by Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington Branch of the NAACP, will instruct ministers in techniques for organizing their congregations into voting units.

TEACHERS MEET

head the 10,000-member organization for the next two years.

The ballot was scheduled to be heated when it came to the naming of the vice-president, who according to tradition will inherit the top spot. James A. Eayner, Kingston and A. B. Reynolds, Winston-Salem, have both eyed the position and will not know the results until the ballots, having been sealed since they came to the office of the executive secretary, are opened and counted.
Speculation has it that Reynolds has not been too well accepted by the boys in the know, because he has not gone along with many of the things that some of them wanted, especially the budget. He is said to have scuttled the 1957-58 budget, at Charlotte last year, and could have felt it when the votes were cast.

On the other hand Barber is not considered too aggressive, according to back ground sources, and could be the favorite. Up to press time, the CAROLINIAN was not able to get an inkling as to how the voting went and persons in the know was as much in the dark as the paper.

Mrs. Geneva J. Bowe is sure to succeed herself as the recording secretary due to the fact that Mrs. Hilda Easterling withdrew from the race. Dr. N. H. Harris, candidate for the state legislature from Wake County, is assured of holding the office of treasurer. The name of Dr. Rudolph Jones, Fayetteville State Teachers College, was proposed, but the prayer has to be withdrawn if and left the office open to the veteran treasurer. Word went the circle, here this week, that he would hold the money until he died.

The race is for the vacancies that will occur on the executive committee. R. D. Armstrong, Rocky Mount; H. E. Brown, Goldsboro, along with C. C. Smith and Mrs. Ida Duncan, will give up their places. Six candidates are hoping to get "the coveted post." W. M. Daniels, F. R. Danys, Herbert Gidney, Mrs. Christie McKnight, Dr. Lafayette Parker and J. F. Whitley are the hopefuls.

The budget is expected to cause some concern, but the general feeling is that it will pass without too much wrangling. It is said to have a slight increase over the last one, but the proponents are believed to wield another influence to show that the increase is not only needed but will enhance the value of the Association.

The meeting moved back to Raleigh this year after having met in Charlotte last year. It is not known whether it will come back to the capital next year or not. It is known that the agencies that encourage the holding of conventions in the city have not made any extra overtures to keep it here. Some of the merchants placed welcome ads in the CAROLINIAN but many of the well-known places are conspicuous by their absence. The Association is known to represent a lucrative market and there are some members who are dubious about going into some Raleigh stores. This is believed to be due to the fact that they have not received an invitation by ad. letter or any other form of solicitation.

Many social affairs have been planned, including a dance sponsored by the Glass Room Division and being handled by Mrs. Virginia Newell, Friday night, at Light School. The session is planned to close with a meeting of the executive committee on Saturday.

One of the projects of the group is the 4-H Club work. Mrs. Elsie Mitchell made a presentation to W. C. Cooper, to be used in furthering the work. The county roll call was made by Mrs. Pearsall.

Mrs. Perry presided over the afternoon session, which featured reports. Mrs. Helen Branford narrated a beautiful story of the 1957 achievements of the homemaking program. Mrs. Minnie Miller Brown installed the new officers and the 1958 session closed with the singing of "Let the Lower Lights be Burning."

State officers are as follows: Director of N. C. Extension Service, D. S. Weaver; State Agents, Miss Ruth Carrent, R. E. Jones; Assistant State Agent, J. W. Jeffries; Assistant State Agent, Mrs. Minnie Miller Brown; West-ern District Home Agent, Mrs. Josephine Weaver; Southeastern District Home Agent, Miss Wilhelmina Laves; Northeastern District Home Agent, Mrs. Frances Corbett; Subject Matter Specialist, Mrs. G. K. Greenlee, Mrs. B. B. Ramsey.

BONUS MONEY

indicated that they are participating in this mammoth program. The awards are: $50, first; $25, second; $15, third and $10 fourth.
Get your minister interested in this program if your church is not now taking part. Acquaint him with the rules of the contest, listed on Page 1 of each edition. Patronize advertisers in the column of the CAROLINIAN when you shop, ask for purchase slips or receipts and turn them over to a representative in your church. Churches who have won Bonus Money report that the added revenue came in quite handy in meeting church expenses and promoting the general program of the institution.

Churches participating in the program are affected by a new rule which went into effect during this Bonus Money month.

The new rule, listed on page 1 under the rules, is that any church with 200 or less members may win consecutive first place awards, but churches with over 200 members will have to wait until a subsequent Bonus period to become a first place winner again.

This does not mean that a church with more than 200 members will win second, third and fourth place awards every month.

eight-room apartment house with 14 people inside. All of the occupants got out safely, but the building burned to the ground and there was no insurance on it.

The state accepted a lesser plea because of Stokes' advanced age. Before passing sentence on Stokes, who said he was supported by the Wake County Welfare Department, Judge Bickett said the County was now feeding the defendant, and he didn't see that it would matter much if the State assumed the responsibility.

Norman Artis, city police officer testified that Stokes admitted sticking a torch to the Dover Street apartment house, allegedly owned by Mrs. Essie Dammone because his wife was leaving him to return to a State sanatorium and he "didn't want the furniture people to come out and take away the furniture."

He denied on the stand that he attempted to set fire to the place twice before on the night the house burned. Stokes said his stove exploded and caused the blaze.

Stokes' full record includes charges of manslaughter, highway robbery, public drunkenness, and assault.

that he had nothing further to say.
In explaining a stand against Dr. Hampton, Brown had said "I cannot support Dr. Hampton. In the last election (council election of last spring) Dr. Hampton took an active part. I told him I thought it was unbecoming of a School Board member to take an active part in the election."

Dr. Hampton's nomination Wednesday reversed a decision by the Council on Monday not to nominate him for another term.

At the urging of Councilman Brown, the Council on Monday had voted against Dr. Hampton and nominated Monigony S. Hill and Mrs. M. Ray Banner, Jr. for the School Board post. However, Hill announced that he would not accept the nomination and Dr. Hampton was elected on the first ballot Wednesday when the Council met to name someone to take Hill's place.

Mrs. Banner reported that she is awaiting word from her own and School Board lawyers before deciding whether she will accept the position.
